The EU and the Proliferation of Integration Principles under the Lisbon Treaty Francesca Ippolito, Maria Eugenia Bartoloni, Massimo Condinanzi, 2018-09-27 The entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty has brought about a proliferation of integration principles In addition to the environmental integration principle which has been part of the EU legal framework for some time the Lisbon Treaty introduced the principles of gender equality integration social policy integration non discrimination integration consumer protection integration as well as animal welfare integration Furthermore a general principle of integration policy objectives is contained in Article 7 TFEU requiring that the Union must ensure consistency between its policies and activities taking all relevant policy requirements listed under the TFEU into account in the adoption of any legislative measure These integration principles must be pursued or at least taken into account when decisions are being taken in almost any area of EU policy making However there is considerable uncertainty regarding the normative implications of the various integration principles as well as their legal value and practical relevance for EU policymaking This book addresses the implications of the proliferation of sectorial integration principles and the introduction of a universal requirement of policy consistency in terms of the division of competences between the Union and the Member States as well as the scope for judicial review of the EU legislative process In particular it explores whether the introduction of various integration principles has led to an extension of Union competences and whether it has limited the scope for judicial review by extending the discretionary power of the Union institutions

Monitoring Fundamental Rights in the EU

Philip Alston, Olivier De Schutter, 2005-02 Coherent laws enforced by a central authority are part of the reason why human rights protection works at the national level in Europe But when it comes to the EU these dimensions are lacking The present system for protecting fundamental rights emerged on an ad hoc basis with measures being improvised to respond to particular problems In the next couple of years however this situation is likely to change very significantly The proposed European Constitution incorporates the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and a specialized EU Fundamental Rights Agency is likely to be established As a result the situation of the EU will more closely resemble that of its Member States Fundamental rights will occupy a central role and coherent and systematic arrangements will be in place to protect rights using both judicial and non judicial means The Fundamental Rights Agency in particular has immense potential to ensure effective monitoring of fundamental rights in the EU and to ensure a unified strategy for their promotion in EU law and policy This volume is the first to critically examine the proposals put forward by the European Commission in October 2004 on the creation of the EU Fundamental Rights Agency Leading scholars in the field of European and international human rights law analyse the potential significance of this innovative Agency and seek to locate it in relation to various other human rights mechanisms both in the EU s constitutional structure and within Member States They review the tasks which the Agency could be called upon to perform and make proposals as to how it can function most effectively The relationship of EU law to the international law of human rights emerging from both the United Nations and the Council of Europe is examined

The authors also address the challenge of ensuring improved coherence between EU law and the other human rights obligations undertaken by the Member States Taken together these contributions address urgent questions facing the EU at a time when the central unifying function of fundamental rights has been recognized but the way forward remains largely uncharted Gender and Diversity Studies Ingrid Jungwirth,Carola Bauschke-Urban,2019-10-07 What concepts of gender and diversity emerge in the different regions and pertinent research and practical fields On the back drop of current European developments from the deregulation of economy a shrinking welfare state to the dissolution and reinforcement of borders the book examines the development of Gender and Diversity Studies in different European regions as well as beyond and focuses on central fields of theoretical reflection empirical research and practical implementation policies and politics
