Peace as Government Ramon Blanco,2020-02-28 Peace as Government The Will to Normalize Timor Leste brings a problematization of post conflict reconstruction processes by bridging two theoretical approaches that are often placed in diametrical opposite epistemic poles the analytical tools developed by Michel Foucault and the English School The author argues that peace operations have a very precise function in the international scenario the fostering and the maintenance of a neo liberal order in the international society He evinces that this particular function of peace operations is developed through the will to normalize post conflict states and their populations In order to advance his argument the author analyses the United Nations UN engagement with Timor Leste since no other country had the large number of peace operations the wide range of spheres of engagement or the depth of involvement that the UN had in Timor Leste The author evinces that this will to normalize Timor Leste is rendered operational though the mechanism of government the conduct of conducts in a Foucauldian sense functioning in two levels At the international level the government operates through discipline rewarding and punishing the Timorese state seeking to shape its behaviors as an individual in the international society At the national level the government operates through biopolitics which functions through the attempt of shaping the life supporting processes of the Timorese population

The Power of Emotions in World Politics Simon Koschut,2020-02-14 This book argues that the link between emotions and discourse provides a new and promising framework to theorize and empirically analyse power relationships in world politics Examining the ways in which discourse evokes reveals and engages emotions the expert contributors argue that emotions are not irrational forces but have a pattern to them that underpins social relations However these are also power relations and their articulation as socially constructed ways of feeling and expressing emotions represent a key force in either sustaining or challenging the social order This volume goes beyond the emotions matter approach to offer specific ways to integrate the consideration of emotion into existing research It offers a novel integration of emotion discourse and power and shows how emotion discourses establish assert challenge or reinforce power and status difference It will be particularly useful to university researchers doctoral candidates and advanced students engaged in scholarship on emotions and discourse analysis in International Relations

Woman as Prophet in the Home and the World R. Mary Hayden Lemmons,2016-09-15 This first ever interdisciplinary study of woman as prophet shows that in these troubling times ordinary women especially Christian women need to function as prophets by proclaiming in word and deed the indispensability of lovingly seeking the welfare of others More specifically social science shows that the person centered love prophesied by women prophets is able to meet interpersonal challenges within the home and world while philosophy and theology establish that women are able to excel as prophets due to the virtuous dispositions inculcated by femininity the choice to be caring a God centered spirituality and a pro life humanitarian personalist feminism that welcomes male collaborators Facilitating the ability of Christian women to prophesy love are Baptismal graces Thomistic virtues and a much needed prophetic Marian ecclesiology based on what John Paul II calls the prophetism of femininity These interdisciplinary findings provide an essential resource for educators and students of humanity the theology of women and evangelization These findings emerge first from an investigation into the cognitive and ontological underpinnings of what John Paul II called the feminine genius A second set of findings emerges from exploring the prophetic dimensions of the feminine genius secular feminism s need to adopt the insights of Christianity and the ability of femininity s prophetism to recast both femininity and feminism as Marian prophecies A third set of findings arises from analyzing the spirituality of women prophets within the Christian tradition by considering the conditions necessary for prophesying explicating requisite Thomistic virtues and delving into the spirituality of Hildegard Catherine of Siena Julian of Norwich and Teresa of Avila A fourth set of findings arises from innovative studies of polarization secularization lust romantic love the conditions whereby mothers with careers can flourish and the ability of nuns to combat racism in a small Midwestern town Overall these interdisciplinary investigations explicate the theology of women and show that women who prophesy love either in the order of grace or nature can help heal lives families and culture British

Halverson,2012-09-30 At a time when violent images of the Muslim world dominate our headlines Western audiences are growing increasingly interested in a different picture of Islam specifically the idea of Muslim nonviolence and what it could mean for the world But is nonviolence compatible with the teachings of Islam Is it practical to suggest that Muslim societies must adopt nonviolence to thrive in today s world Where is the Muslim equivalent of a Mohandas K Gandhi or Martin Luther King Jr Searching for a King offers a comprehensive look into Islamic conceptions of nonviolence their modern champions and their readings of Islam s sacred texts including the Qur an and traditions of the Prophet Muhammad Jeffry R Halverson asserts that the foundation for nonviolence in Islam already exists. He points to the exemplary lives and teachings of modern Muslim champions of nonviolence including Abdul Ghaffar Khan, an ethnic Pashtun from the tribal regions of Pakistan whose 100 000 Muslim followers peacefully resisted British colonial rule in India. Using rich historical narratives and data from leading NGOs and international governmental organizations, Halverson also makes the case that by eliminating the high costs of warfare, nonviolence opens the door to such important complementary initiatives as microfinancing and women's education programs. Ultimately, he endorses Muslim conceptions of nonviolence and argues for the formulation of a nonviolent version of jihad as an active mode of social transformation. Museums for Peace Joyce Apsel, Clive Barrett, Roy

Tamashiro, 2023-12-22 Museums for Peace: In Search of History, Memory, and Change highlights the inspiring as well as conflicting representations and purposes of diverse museums for peace around the world. Coming from various cultural and professional backgrounds, the authors explore what are museums for peace and what do they mean. Some chapters introduce alternative histories of peace, conflict, and memorialization. This innovative collection examines grassroots museums, military sexual slavery, historical memory in East Asia, and cultural heritage in the Africanized peace museum movement. The chapters discuss differing representations of Gandhi, technology of war and opposition to it, and structural violence such as racial terror and imperialism. Investigating how institutions interact with political and cultural forces, the volume demonstrates that some museums reinforce hegemonic narratives while others resist authoritative tropes to reveal silenced histories, including peace histories. Museums for Peace will appeal to academics and students in museum studies, heritage studies, peace studies, memory studies, social justice, and human rights. Those working in cultural studies and trauma studies will also find this volume valuable. Shadow of the New Cold War Grzegorz Nycz, 2021-12-06 This book addresses memory politics and their evolution as an academic discipline, including memory studies. It explores national and international debates about conflicting interpretations of the recent past, including WWII, remembering the annexation of Ukraine, the reformed history teaching in Putin's Russia, Historikerstreit, and the Holocaust in Germany, and the legacy and role of nuclear weapons in international relations in the USA in the context of the so-called New Cold War. Daisaku Ikeda and the Soka Gakkai International Federico

Carretta, 2022-03-23 This study analyses the Peace Proposals to the UN formulated by Daisaku Ikeda, a Japanese political philosopher and religious leader of Soka Gakkai International, supporter of the ideals of Engaged Buddhism. This NGO strives to contribute to world society through culture, peace, activism, disaster relief, and education. Since 1983, Ikeda has written annual Peace Proposals containing ideas from Buddhist humanism for viable responses to global issues to support a strengthened role of the UN and encourage a sense of global citizenship. They give a non-Western centric point of view on major global issues and problems, providing innovative solutions for the pacifist movement all over the world. Theorizing

International Relations Andreas H. Hvidsten, 2019-05-23 Theories of international relations IR theory aim to both explain and inform the practice of international politics In A Dialectical Approach to Theorizing International Relations Andreas H Hvidsten investigates different ways of understanding this dual nature of theory through a re reading of the canonical theoretical literature in IR He shows how the relation between the analytical and the critical function of theory has profound implications for studying international politics and makes the case for a dialectical understanding of theorizing as a way of reconciling the tension between analysis and critique inherent in IR theory Conquering Peace Stella Ghervas, 2021-03-30 A bold new look at war and diplomacy in Europe that traces the idea of a unified continent in attempts since the eighteenth century to engineer lasting peace Political peace in Europe has historically been elusive and ephemeral Stella Ghervas shows that since the eighteenth century European thinkers and leaders in pursuit of lasting peace fostered the idea of European unification Bridging intellectual and political history Ghervas draws on the work of philosophers from Abb de Saint Pierre who wrote an early eighteenth century plan for perpetual peace to Rousseau and Kant as well as statesmen such as Tsar Alexander I Woodrow Wilson Winston Churchill Robert Schuman and Mikhail Gorbachev She locates five major conflicts since 1700 that spurred such visionaries to promote systems of peace in Europe the War of the Spanish Succession the Napoleonic Wars World War I World War II and the Cold War Each moment generated a spirit of peace among monarchs diplomats democratic leaders and ordinary citizens The engineers of peace progressively constructed mechanisms and institutions designed to prevent future wars Arguing for continuities from the ideals of the Enlightenment through the nineteenth century Concert of Nations to the institutions of the European Union and beyond Conquering Peace illustrates how peace as a value shaped the idea of a unified Europe long before the EU came into being Today the EU is widely criticized as an obstacle to sovereignty and for its democratic deficit Seen in the long range perspective of the history of peacemaking however this European society of states emerges as something else entirely a step in the quest for a less violent world Peace as Nonviolence Egon Spiegel, George Mutalemwa, Cheng Liu, Lester R.
