Traditional African Art Avner Shkarov, Lyubov Senatorova, 2015-07-06 The art of sub Saharan Africa reveals the marvelous achievements of unknown artists over thousands of years Their aesthetic ideal finds form in wood ivory fabric bronze and iron This illustrated study of traditional African art includes pieces from Western Sudan the Congolese Basin the Guinea coast Gabon the Democratic Republic of Congo and East and South Africa Each piece is characterized by its own traditions and artistic forms The earliest works date from the beginning of the first millennium the most recent from the early 20th century Unique and rare examples are documented many heretofore virtually unknown Crossroads / Carrefour Sahel Sonja Magnavita, Lassina Koté, Peter Breunig, Oumarou A. Idé, 2009-12-01 This volume contains the proceedings of the international conference Cultural developments and technological innovations in first millennium BC AD West Africa held in Ouagadougou Burkina Faso in March 2008 with participants from eleven countries and three continents The rationale behind the meeting was the conviction that the first millennium before and after the beginning of the Common Era like no other period before encompasses the origins of developments that are directly related to the modern world particularly in Africa Current archaeological research in West Africa has been providing an increasing amount of relevant evidence on this period including a series of significant developments that had critical impacts on human ways of life in subsequent times The papers of the present volume deal with different aspects of these developments and contribute towards the understanding of the unique cultural diversity of this part of the African continent Masterpieces of Nigerian Art Ekpo Eyo, 2014-07-21 The Federal Republic of Nigeria maintains a rich artistic legacy that is more than two thousand years old As such it provides some interesting counterpoints to Western art history Nigeria s ancient Nok art for example predated the golden age of Greece and the exquisite bronzes of Igbo Ukwu 9th 10th C Ife 12th 15th C and Benin 15th 19th C compare favorably to European traditions Furthermore the art of Benin thrived under the patronage of a single unbroken dynasty during a time when many European governments rose and fell Yet for many reasons the Western world would not recognize this artistic heritage until modern times In this volume Ekpo Eyo explains the primitivist viewpoint that once dominated the Western perception of African art and recalls the efforts of certain more open minded individuals from Nigeria s colonial past who in their efforts to collect preserve and present important sculptures and other artworks were instrumental in founding the country s first museums Their successor today s National Commission for Museums and Monuments has collected many additional works from their original settings placing them in the limelight of the world through publications and museum exhibitions to which the author has contributed much throughout his career Eyo therefore discusses Nigerian art in the broader context of the world s art history arguing that the art of Nigeria is fundamentally a testament to universal human creativity From Shrines to Showcases Masterpieces of Nigerian Art includes examples selected from all major regions of the country spanning the distant past to the modern age which are to be considered amongst the greatest artistic achievements of humanity

Archaeology, Heritage and Tourism in West Africa Samuel Oluwole Ogundele, 2024-10-11 West Africa is a rich storehouse of heritage resources belonging to different time periods Archaeologists attempt to exhume analyse and interpret aspects of human history found in artifacts and their contexts The longstanding assumption that archaeology is simply a science of the past with little thought for the present must be rejected This book makes a striking argument for a curricular revolution which taps into the strengths of such allied fields as heritage tourism and museum management which come together to constitute Cultural Resource Management CRM This account reveals in an inspiringly clear fashion that the era of conceptualising archaeology as a near complete academic exercise is over Trans disciplinary knowledge application such as that which is found in CRM has the capacity to create employment opportunities for archaeologists and other cultural resource management graduates in West Africa and beyond It is time to take a first step in constructing the pathways of progress in the competitive world of modern education

The Oxford Handbook of African Archaeology Peter Mitchell, Paul Lane, 2013-07-04 Africa has the longest and arguably the most diverse archaeological record of any of the continents It is where the human lineage first evolved and from where Homo sapiens spread across the rest of the world Later it witnessed novel experiments in food production and unique trajectories to urbanism and the organisation of large communities that were not always structured along strictly hierarchical lines. Millennia of engagement with societies in other parts of the world confirm Africa's active participation in the construction of the modern world while the richness of its history, ethnography and linguistics provide unusually powerful opportunities for constructing interdisciplinary narratives of Africa's past. This Handbook provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of African archaeology covering the entirety of the continent's past from the beginnings of human evolution to the archaeological legacy of European colonialism. As well as covering almost all periods and regions of the continent it includes a mixture of key methodological and theoretical issues and debates and situates the subject's contemporary practice within the discipline's history and the infrastructural challenges now facing its practitioners. Bringing together essays on all these themes from over seventy contributors many of them living and working in Africa it offers a highly accessible contemporary account of the subject for use by scholars and students of not only archaeology but also history, anthropology and other disciplines.
