Human Service Organizations and the Question of Impact Jennifer E. Mosley, Steven Rathgeb Smith, 2020-06-29 This volume offers empirically based insights and findings on the question of how human service organizations are reacting to the increasing need for greater impact effectiveness and performance As demand for increased impact outstrips our knowledge of how best to achieve these goals the book's contributors discuss the innovative strategies being used to ensure that multiplex goals are being met and the degree to which client and staff concerns are being sacrificed for the organizational bottom line Taken together these discussions demonstrate that specific management strategies and collaboration based on trust and consideration of mission may help improve the quality of some services however many of the pressures which organizations and managers experience are resulting in lower staff morale compromised missions and inefficiencies This book will be of interest to those researching human service agencies as well as those with a broader concern for how organizations react to doing more with less This book was originally published as a special issue of the Human Service Organizations journal      The Regulation of Organised Civil Society Jonathan Garton, 2009-06-25 Although much has been written on organised civil society the loose collective of organisations that operate outside the public sector the private market and the family unit over the past 30 years there has been little jurisprudential analysis This is in spite of the fact that a number of jurisdictions including England New Zealand Northern Ireland and Scotland have recently implemented major reforms to the regulatory frameworks in which civil society organisations operate with a particular emphasis on the charitable sectors Redressing the balance this monograph considers from first principles when it is appropriate to regulate organised civil society and how that regulation might best be accomplished Four broad issues are addressed a whether the activities undertaken by civil society organisations are distinct from the activities undertaken by the state or the market either because they are pursued in unique ways or because they produce unique outcomes b if so whether it is justifiable to regulate organised civil society activities in a sector specific way c if it is whether the peculiar characteristics of these activities make one type of regulation more appropriate than another and d whether it is appropriate to distinguish between charities and other civil society organisations for regulatory purposes The monograph integrates the traditionally separate disciplines of civil society theory and regulation theory to provide answers to these questions and advance a rudimentary theory of regulation specific to organised civil society      The Jossey-Bass Handbook of Nonprofit Leadership and Management David Renz, Robert D.
