Interviewing Techniques for Child Support Workers, 1985
Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors, 1974 Ewe Comic Heroes Pbdirect Zinta Konrad, 2015-02-11 The trickster character is prominent in the cultural particularly narrative traditions of many different peoples throughout the world Comic and serious stupid and clever benevolent and evil winner and loser the trickster is a study in contradictions The trickster cannot be pigeonholed for he does not fit into any neat categories or definitions This study first published in 1994 aims to give the reader the opportunity to experience in some small measure the dynamic and exciting dramatic oral narrative performances of the Ewe people of West Africa

Teaching from the Thinking Heart John P. Miller, Michele Irwin, Kelli Nigh, 2014-07-01 Forward by Nel Noddings This book includes papers written by teachers and how they engage holistic education in their classrooms The papers come from a course taught by Jack Miller at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto entitled The Holistic Curriculum This is a rich and diverse collection of papers showing how holistic education can be brought into public education despite the pressures of testing and other accountability measures Although most of the teachers teach in public schools there are also examples from teachers working in private and post secondary settings This book can inspire other teachers who are looking for ways to teach the whole person in a more connected manner There are very few texts in the field of holistic education that include the voices and practices of teachers particularly those working in public schools Many of the examples of holistic education in practice come from Waldorf Montessori Reggio Emilia and alternative schools A unique feature of this book is the many different voices of teachers describing their work in the classroom they talk about their successes the challenges and even a few failures Literary Anthropology Fernando Poyatos, 1988-01-01 The traditional gulf between the theory and practice of literature and the various areas subjoined under anthropology has hindered the development of some very fruitful perspectives in the realm of poetics and the general theory of literature particularly in its narrative forms Poyatos initial idea of literary anthropology as the study of people and their cultural manifestations through their national literatures without doubt the richest source of documentation of human life styles and the most advanced form of our projection in time and space and of communicating with contemporary and future generations has been enriched by the thoughts of a multi cultural group of scholars from both anthropology and literature who at a first symposium on the subject attempted to define this area leaving the way open to many more research possibilities Indigenous Languages and the Promise of Archives Adrianna Link, Abigail Shelton, Patrick Spero, 2021-05 Indigenous Languages and the Promise of Archives captures the energy and optimism that many feel about the future of community based scholarship which involves the collaboration of archives scholars and Native American communities The American Philosophical Society is exploring new applications of materials in its library to partner on collaborative projects that assist the cultural and linguistic revitalization movements within Native communities A paradigm shift is driving researchers to reckon with questionable practices used by scholars and libraries in the past to pursue documents relating to Native Americans practices that are often embedded in the content of the collections themselves The Center for Native American and Indigenous Research at the American Philosophical Society brought together this volume of historical and contemporary case studies highlighting the importance of archival materials for the revitalization of Indigenous languages Essays written by archivists historians anthropologists knowledge keepers and museum professionals cover topics critical to language revitalization work they tackle long standing debates about ownership access and control of Indigenous materials stored in repositories and they suggest strategies for how to decolonize collections in the service of community based priorities Together these essays reveal the power of collaboration for breathing new life into historical documents
