Nordic Region Building In A European Perspective:

Nordic Region-Building in a European Perspective Harald Baldersheim, Krister Ståhlberg, 2019-07-23 First published in 1999 this volume is a study of regional and local co operation across national borders in Denmark Finland Norway Sweden and also of regional co operation out of the area across the Baltic Sea the North Sea and in the Barents region The focus of the study is on processes of region building Co operation between regions across national borders is seen as a creative process and as something that has to be nurtured and guided The authors recognised the need for a work which examined issues crossing Nordic borders and made the information more publicly accessible emerging within evolving discussions of regional governance cross border collaborations and Nordic co operation The editors have featured three forms of contributions a series of regional case studies collations of data on sub national governments and relating these sub national factors to debates on Nordic co operation and European integration Authors with specialist regional knowledge examine these processes in detail through case studies which represent the most important of this type of Nordic area and provide a view of what may constitute success in such ventures The authors also discuss what such processes may signify for general Nordic co operation against the backdrop of European integration and seek to indicate what Nordic regions may bring to European regionalism Such a discussion is of particular interest since the EU acquired a new Nordic dimension when Sweden and Finland joined Contributors articles focus on areas including the Kvarken Council the ARKO co operation the internationalisation of Finnish and Norwegian local government and the resund region The collaboration was published in English in order to better contribute to discussions on cross border interaction more widely particularly in the case of Europe

Nordic Region-building in a European Perspective Harald Baldersheim, Krister Ståhlberg, 1999 A study of regional and local co operations across national borders in the nordic area Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden and also of regional co operation out of the area across the Baltic Sea the North Seas or in the Barents Region The focus of the study is on the process of region building Co operation between regions across national borders is seen as a creative process something that has to be nurtured and guided The book portrays these processes in detail through a series of case studies that represent significant cases of this type of Nordic area and provides a view of what may constitute success in such ventures The authors also discuss what such processes may signify for general Nordic co operation against the backdrop of European integration and seek to indicate what Nordic regions may bring to European regionalism Such a discussion is of particular interest since the EU acquired a new Nordic dimension after Sweden and Finland joined Several of the chapters are written by two editors in addition case studies of individual regions have been commissioned from authors with specialized knowledge of the each case Nordic region-building in a european perspective H. Baldersheim, 1996 The Oxford Handbook of Local and Regional Democracy in Europe John Loughlin, Frank Hendriks, Anders Lidström, 2012-11-08 The Oxford Handbook of Local and Regional Democracy in Europe analyses the state of play of democracy at the subnational level in the 27 member states of the EU plus Norway and Switzerland It places subnational democracy in the context of the distinctive Anglo the French the German and Scandinavian state traditions in Europe asking to what extent these are still relevant today The Handbook adapts Lijphart s theory of democracy and applies it to the subnational levels in all the country chapters A key theoretical issue is whether subnational regional and local democracy is derived from national democracy or whether it is legitimate in its own right Besides these theoretical concerns it focuses on the practice of democracy the roles of political parties and interest groups and also how subnational political institutions relate to the ordinary citizen This can take the form of local referendums or other mechanisms of participation The Handbook reveals a wide variety of practices across Europe in this regard Local financial systems also reveal a great variety Finally each chapter examines the challenges facing subnational democracy but also the opportunities available to them to enhance their democratic systems Among the challenges identified are Europeanization globalization but also citizens disaffection and switch off from politics Some countries have confronted these challenges more successfully than others but all countries face them An important aspect of the Handbook is the inclusion of all the countries of East and Central Europe plus Cyprus and Malta who joined the EU in 2004 and 2007 This is the first time they have been examined alongside the countries of Western Europe from the angle of subnational democracy

The Rise of the Networking Region Are Vegard Haug, 2016-02-17 How regions and cities adapt to a Network Society and a globalized environment the policies they pursue and how structures of governance are transformed in the pursuit of those policies are major themes in this volume These issues are addressed with specific reference to the Nordic regions of Europe Covering the four Nordic countries of Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden plus the Faroe Islands this volume charts the changes in networking activities and related development initiatives that have taken place over the last ten years This means analysing regions in their pursuit of new policies partnerships and styles of representation Through this process regions are becoming partners and players in European integration and a movement of integrative regionalism is taking shape which is different from inward looking identity regionalism or self centred competitive regionalism and takes regions beyond lobbying in Brussels The Nebi Yearbook 1998 P. Joenniemi, Lars Hedegaard, A. Östhol, Bjarne Lindström, K. Peschel, C.-E.

Stalvant, 2012-12-06 Thorvald Stoltenberg Ambassador Chairman of the Editorial Advisory Board Most of us have been overwhelmed by the speed and extent of the changes that have been taking place in Europe since the late 1980s Over the span of a few years we have witnessed the collapse of the Soviet Union and the unification of Germany This process has had far reaching implications for Northern Europe the Baltic states have attained independence and with the establishment of the Baltic Sea regional co operation and the Barents co operation a new type of East West relations has come into being The process of change continues Its latest manifestation is the agreement between Russia and NATO and NATO and EU enlargement is expected to take place over the next few years With such far reaching transformations we need to reflect on what is happening We need a more coherent picture of the new situation in Northern Europe and of where we are heading

This Yearbook is an attempt to fulfil this need I would like to thank the editors for taking this initiative which has been long awaited by those of us who have been actively interested in the improved relations between the former East and the old West that have been made possible by the end of the Cold War and particularly in the new opportunities for cross border co operation and integration in the North European and Baltic space

Democratic Consolidation

in Eastern Europe: Volume 2: International and Transnational Factors Jan Zielonka, Alex Pravda, 2001-06-14 This is the second volume in a two volume series of books on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe The first volume focused on the issue of institutional engineering This second volume analyses the external parameters of democratic consolidation in thirteen Eastern European countries how different international actors and various economic cultural and security types of transnational pressures have shaped democratic politics in the region The aim is to contrast a set of democracy theories with empirical evidence accumulated in Eastern Europe over the last ten years The volume tries to avoid complex debates about definitions methods and the uses and misuses of comparative research Instead it seeks to establish what has really happened in the region and which of the existing theories are helpful in explaining these developments The volume is divided into two parts The first part presents a conceptual and comparative frame of analysis the second consists of detailed studies of individual countries undergoing democratic consolidation Case study chapters deal with the following countries Estonia and Latvia Hungary Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Romania Bulgaria and Macedonia the states of former Yugoslavia Belarus and Ukraine and finally Russia The concluding chapter identifies a set of variables responsible for the enormous impact of external factors on democratic consolidation in Eastern Europe It conceptualises the interplay of internal and external factors impinging upon democracy and shows the interplay of different positive and negative types of external pressures It also evaluates the conscious Western effort to craft or engineer democracy in Eastern Europe Legal Migration to the European Union Anja Wiesbrock, 2010-08-16 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of EU legislation in the area of legal migration Five Directives on family reunification long term residence students researchers and highly qualified migrants are critically assessed Moreover the implementation of the Directives in three Member States Germany the Netherlands and Sweden and national legislation in two Member States with an opt out from EU migration law the UK and Netherlands are assessed This includes national rules on the integration of third country nationals and access to citizenship The book calls into question the compliance of several European and national provisions with EU principles of law and international human rights

Governance of Europe's City Regions Tassilo Herrschel, Peter Newman, 2003-08-27 Governance of Europe's City Regions is a structured overview of current debates on cities and regions It clarifies contemporary debates about regionalism and contributes new insights into the theory of new regionalism

Local Democracy in Post-Communist Europe Harald Baldersheim, Michal Illner, Hellmut Wollmann, 2013-04-17 Der englischsprachige Band führt ein in die Lokal und Regionalpolitik der mitteleuropäischen Reformländer Der Band beleuchtet aktuelle Probleme der Kommunal und Regionalpolitik in den Ländern Mitteleuropas einschließlich Russlands Zentral sind Fragen der Beziehungen zwischen zentraler regionaler und lokaler Politik und Verwaltungsebene der lokalen Demokratie und Partizipation sowie Fragen der Verwaltungsmodernisierung

Regional Economic Change in Europe Gert-Jan Hospers, 2004 In this era of ongoing globalization a coherent vision on Europe's changing geo economy is more important than ever before Drawing on the work of Schumpeter Fourastié and Perroux the book at hand offers a new and policy oriented perspective on regional economic change in Europe Conceptually it develops a middle range theory by extending Schumpeter's vision with a sectoral and spatial dimension This neo Schumpeterian framework is concretized by exploring fifty years of structural change in Sardinia the Ruhrgebiet and the resund

The Baltic Sea Region: A Comprehensive Guide Bernd Henningsen, Tobias Etzold, Krister Hanne, 2017-09-15 The Baltic Sea Region at the crossroads between East and West North and South has long been marked by cultural ethnical and ideological borders Overcoming a history of conflict and separation since the end of the Cold War the countries surrounding the Baltic Sea established widely valued formats of regional cooperation based on shared challenges and opportunities In comparison with larger regions however the Baltic Sea Area is still a blank spot on the global map This volume's intention is to fill this spot with colour and facts It provides students young researchers and other interested parties with basic knowledge of the region The volume offers a comprehensive introduction into its history politics economy and culture taking into account the various countries commonalities and differences By introducing concepts of regionalism and region building as well as analysing the structures of regional cooperation the authors and editors demonstrate the Baltic Sea Area's model function as a European macro region Back cover

Subnational Democracy in the European Union John Loughlin, 2001-04-05 This book is the result of a research project carried out for the Committee of the Regions and analyses the state of play of democratic practice at the subnational level in all of the European Member states Its initial hypothesis was that liberal democracy is closely associated with the rise of the nation state in the 19th century The nation state however has been significantly changing under the impact of various forces including globalization and regionalization internal reforms of the public administration system such as privatization and deregulation and the emergence of regions and local authorities as actors in their own rights these changes pose challenges for the practice of democracy and in particular for its expression at the regional and local level The book deals with the theoretical implications of these changes in terms of the changing nature of the state and new regionalism However one of the key findings is that there is no one uniform meaning of democracy across member states and there are variations even within a single state depending on whether the national or subnational levels are considered Each country chapter gives the historical and philosophical background to the concept of democracy in each country There is also an exposition of the institutional expression of democracy at the different levels With regard to the practice of democracy at the subnational level the role of pressure groups and policy networks is examined as well as the role of political parties There is a survey of critiques of subnational democracy Finally there is a survey of innovative approaches to improving regional and local democracy through a variety of mechanisms and reforms as ways of responding to the challenge and opportunities facing it today

Society, Environment and Human Security in the Arctic Barents Region Kamrul Hossain, Dorothée Cambou, 2018-05-20 The Arctic Barents Region is facing numerous pressures from a variety of sources including the effect of environmental changes and extractive industrial developments The threats arising out of these pressures result in human security challenges This book analyses the formation and promotion of societal security within the context of the Arctic Barents Region It applies the human security framework which has increasingly gained currency at the UN level since 1994 UNDP as a tool to provide answers to many questions that face the Barents population today The study explores human security dimensions such as environmental security economic security health food water energy communities political security and digital security in order to assess the current challenges that the Barents population experiences today or may encounter in the future In doing so the book develops a comprehensive analysis of vulnerabilities challenges and needs in the Barents Region and provides recommendations for new strategies to tackle insecurity and improve the wellbeing of both indigenous and local communities This book will be a valuable tool for academics policy makers and students interested in environmental and human security sustainable development environmental studies and the Arctic and Barents Region in particular

The Nordic Countries and the European Union Caroline Grøn, Peter Nedergaard, Anders Wivel, 2015-02-20 In European policy making the Nordic countries are often viewed as a relatively coherent bloc in international and European affairs the Nordic position has traditionally been conditioned on being different from and better than Europe This book offers a coherent original and systematic comparative analysis of the relationship between the Nordic countries and the European Union over the past two decades It looks at the historical frame institutions and policy areas addressing both traditional EU areas such as agriculture and more nascent areas affecting the domestic and foreign policies of the Nordic countries In doing so it examines how the Nordic approach to European policy making has developed and explains why the Nordic countries are similar in some respects while differing in others when engaging with EU institutions In highlighting the similarities and differences between the Nordic countries it explores what lessons positive and negative may be drawn from this approach for the Nordic countries and other small states This book will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners engaged with the Nordic Countries EU politics and policy making European politics and comparative politics Small States and EU Governance S. Bunse, 2009-03-26 Small States and EU Governance shows that the EU's rotating Council presidency and small states capacity to make use of it have been underestimated It examines the political objectives the presidency serves and presents a systematic and comparative assessment of its nature and influence in internal market and foreign policy issues Foreign Relations in Federal Countries Hans Michelmann, 2009-01-28 Foreign Relations in Federal Countries addresses questions such as What constitutional powers do the federal governments and constituent states have to conduct foreign affairs To what degree are relations between orders of government regularized by formal agreement or informal practice What roles do constituent governments have in negotiation and implementation of international treaties The volume offers a comparative perspective on the conduct of foreign relations in twelve federal countries Argentina Australia Austria Belgium Canada Germany India Malaysia South Africa Spain Switzerland and the United States Borderlands Resilience Dorte Jagetic Andersen, Eeva-Kaisa Prokkola, 2021-12-28 This book offers new insights into the current highly complex border transitions taking place at the EU internal and external border areas as well as globally It focuses on new frontiers and intersections between borders borderlands and resilience developing new understandings of resilience through the prism of borders The book provides new perspectives into how different groups of people and communities experience adapt and resist the transitions and uncertainties of border closures and securitization in their everyday and professional lives The book also provides new methodological guidelines for the study of borders and multi-sited bordering and resilience processes The book bridges border studies and social scientific resilience research in new and innovative It will be of interest to students and scholars in geography political studies international relations security studies and anthropology European Cities Patrick Le Galès, 2002-08-08 European cities are on the rise and are taking advantage of the opportunities of the European integration and globalization processes But they also face economic changes social inequalities poverty and a new set of constraints Taking examples through the European Union European Cities explores the impact of the transformation of the nation states on cities and the change of local societies and local governments It argues that new modes of urban governance are emerging and that cities are becoming collective actors within European governance European Cities shows why and how the bulk of European cities still appear to be original forms of compromise aggregation representation of diverse interests and culture Different modes of governance are gradually being structured in most middle size European cities despite processes of social exclusion segregation accompanied by the increased mobility of some citizens Are Europeans going to invent a new form of institutionalized and territorialized capitalism of which medium sized European cities will be one of the pillars and one of the actors Failing that the effects of changing scales could be expressed as profound transformations of the European urban model European Societies Series Series Editor Colin Crouch Very few of the existing sociological texts which compare different European societies on specific topics are accessible to a broad range of scholars and students The European Societies series will help fill this gap in the literature and attempt to answer questions such as Is there really such a thing as a European model of society Do the economic and political integration processes of the European Union also imply convergence in more general aspects of social life like family or religious behaviour What do the societies of Western Europe have in common with those further to the east This series will cover the main social institutions although not every author will cover the full range of European countries As well as surveying existing knowledge in a way that will be useful to students each book will also seek to contribute to our growing knowledge of what remains in many respects a sociologically unknown continent
