Allan A. Degen

North American Deserts:

The North American Deserts Edmund Carroll Jaeger, 1957 Compares and contrasts the 5 North American deserts according to terrain weather and wildlife

The North American Deserts Edmund C. Jaeger, 1961

Few and Far Between, 1997 Campbell's pairings bring forth both what is hidden and what is revealed in the desert the passing of time and timelessness the flora that manages to survive despite the meager resources and the ancients for whom the desert has measured life His years of training in anthropology and the natural sciences have given Campbell the rare ability to remain objective Yet he sees with all the fullness of experience the ways that nature and time have transformed these places and he knows that this alone can speak wonders Thus to travel with Campbell is to experience the unfolding of the desert's deeply held secrets

Encyclopedia of Deserts Michael A. Mares, 2017-01-19 Encyclopedia of Deserts represents a milestone it is the first comprehensive reference to the first comprehensive reference to deserts and semideserts of the world Approximately seven hundred entries treat subjects ranging from desert survival to the way deserts are formed Topics include biology birds mammals reptiles amphibians fishes invertebrates plants bacteria physiology evolution geography climatology geology hydrology anthropology and history The thirty seven contributors including volume editor Michael A Mares have had extensive careers in deserts research encompassing all of the world's arid and semiarid regions The Encyclopedia opens with a subject list by topic an organizational guide that helps the reader grasp interrelationships and complexities in desert systems Each entry concludes with cross references to other entries in the volume inviting the reader to embark on a personal expedition into fascinating previously unknown terrain In addition a list of important readings facilitates in depth study of each topic An exhaustive index permits quick access to places topics and taxonomic listings of all plants and animals discussed More than one hundred photographs drawings and maps enhance our appreciation of the remarkable life landforms history and challenges of the world's arid land

Fishes in North American Deserts Robert J. Naiman, David L. Soltz, 1981-07 Surveys the biology and ecology of desert fishes Detailed articles cover the fishes physiological evolutionary and ecological characteristics as well as the nature and management and conservation problems of their habitats

Botanical Features of North American Deserts Daniel Tremblay MacDougal, 1971

Desert Meteorology Thomas T. Warner, 2009-01-18 Aridity prevails over more than one third of the land area of the Earth and over a significant fraction of the oceans as well Yet to date there has been no comprehensive reference volume or textbook dealing with the weather processes that define the character of desert areas Desert Meteorology fills this gap by treating all aspects of desert weather such as large scale and local scale causes of aridity precipitation characteristics in deserts dust storms floods climate change in deserts precipitation processes desertification land surface physics of deserts numerical modelling of desert atmospheres and the effect of desert weather on humans A summary is provided of the climates and surface properties of the desert areas of the world The book is written with the assumption that the reader has only a basic knowledge of meteorology physics and calculus making it useful to those in a wide range of disciplines It includes review questions and problems for the student This comprehensive volume will satisfy all who need to know more about the weather and climate of arid lands It will appeal especially to advanced students and researchers in environmental science meteorology physical geography hydrology and engineering

The Karoo W. Richard J. Dean, Suzanne Milton, 1999-06-24 The succulent and Nama karoo form part of the arid south western zone of Africa a vast region of rugged landscapes and low treeless vegetation Studies of this unique biome have yielded fascinating insights into the ecology of its flora and fauna This book originally published in 1999 is the first to synthesise these studies presenting information on biogeographic patterns and life processes form and function of animals and plants foraging ecology landscape level dynamics and anthropogenic influences Detailed analyses of the factors distinguishing the biota of the Karoo from that of other temperate deserts are given and generalisations about semi arid ecosystems challenged The ideas expounded the ecological principles reviewed and the results presented are relevant to all those working in the extensive arid and semi arid regions of the world

The Biology of Deserts David Ward, 2016-08-25 This book offers a concise but comprehensive introduction to desert ecology and adopts a strong evolutionary focus As with other titles in the Biology of Habitats Series the emphasis in the book is on the organisms that dominate this harsh environment although theoretical and experimental aspects are also discussed In this updated second edition there is a greater focus on the effects of climate change and some of its likely effects on deserts seeing desertification as among the most serious results of climate change leading ultimately to the increasing size of arid and semi arid regions The Biology of Deserts Second Edition includes a wide range of ecological and evolutionary issues including morphological and physiological adaptations of desert plants and animals species interactions the importance of predation and parasitism food webs biodiversity and conservation It features a balance of plant and animal both invertebrate and vertebrate examples and also emphasizes topical applied issues such as desertification and invasive species The book concludes by considering the positive aspects of desert conservation This accessible textbook is intended for senior undergraduate and graduate students as well as professional ecologists conservation practitioners and resource managers working in the field of desert ecology

Arid Land Ecosystems: Volume 1 R. A. Perry, D. W. Goodall, 1979-03-08 This comprehensive account of arid land ecosystems will be of importance to university teachers and professional ecologists throughout the world

Ecophysiology of Small Desert Mammals Allan A. Degen, 2012-12-06 Since small mammals have a large surface to mass ratio one would expect them to quickly dehydrate and perish at high environmental temperatures Nonetheless a large number of small mammal species inhabit deserts This fascinating phenomenon is investigated by Prof A Allan Degen in his book The majority of small desert mammals are rodents but shrews of several grams and small foxes of 1 kg are also present Their survival is due mainly to behavioural adaptations and habitat selection however physiological adaptations also contribute to the success Interestingly many small mammals that live in different deserts of the world show similarities in their adaptive traits although they have different taxonomic affinities

A Desert Calling Michael A. Mares, 2009-07-01 For most of us the word desert conjures up images of barren wasteland vast dry stretches inimical to life But for a great array of creatures the desert is a haven and a home Travel with Mares into the deserts of Argentina Iran Egypt and the American Southwest to encounter a rich and memorable variety of small tenacious animals

Chuckwalla Land David Rains Wallace, 2011-04-02 Wallace weaves science and mythology into a clear and entertaining story about the origin of California's deserts that invites the reader into a world of ancient mystery and modern revelation This book will appeal to anyone who cherishes arid lands and their natural history Bruce M Pavlik author of The California Deserts An Ecological Rediscovery David Rains Wallace explores the origins of the California desert with the endless curiosity of a naturalist with the wit and wordplay of a fine essayist and with the attention to detail of a lifelong scholar He burrows toward the solution of the desert's riddle by following two centuries of science in doing so Wallace writes a unique account of both the ecology of the Desert Southwest and the biologists who have devoted their lives to untangling its evolutionary history Stephen Trimble author of The Sagebrush Ocean A Natural History of the Great Basin David Rains Wallace never fails to truly enter the world of which he writes Here he tackles fiery heat ancient lava flows spiny plants and scuttling reptiles all in the service of asking some difficult how's and why's I learned a lot about places and critters I thought I knew well from this marvelous book Harry Greene Cornell professor of ecology and evolutionary biology author of Snakes the Evolution of Mystery in Nature

Physiological Ecology of North American Desert Plants Stanley D. Smith, Russell K. Monson, Jay Ennis Anderson, 1997 This book begins with the physical and biological characterization of the four North American deserts and a description of the primary adaptations of plants to environmental stress In the following chapters the authors present case studies of key species representing dominant growth forms of the North American deserts and provide an up to date and comprehensive review of the major patterns of adaptations in desert plants One chapter is devoted to several important exotic plants that have invaded North American deserts The book ends with a synthesis of the adaptations and resource requirements of North American desert plants Further it addresses how desert plants may respond to global climate change

Ecology of Desert Systems Walter G. Whitford, Benjamin D. Duval, 2019-08-20 Nearly one third of the land area on our planet is classified as arid or desert Therefore an understanding of the dynamics of such arid ecosystems is essential to managing those systems in a way that sustains human populations This second edition of Ecology of Desert Systems provides a clear extensive guide to the complex interactions involved in these areas This book details the relationships between abiotic and biotic environments of desert ecosystems demonstrating to readers how these interactions drive ecological processes These include plant growth and animal reproductive success the spatial and temporal distribution of vegetation and animals and the influence of invasive species and anthropogenic climate change specific to arid systems Drawing on the extensive experience of its expert authors Ecology of Desert Systems is an essential guide to arid ecosystems for students looking for an overview of the field researchers keen to learn how their work fits in to the overall picture and those involved with environmental management of desert areas Highlights the complexity of global desert systems in a clear concise way Reviews the most current issues facing researchers in the field including the spread of invasive species due to globalized trade the impact of industrial mining and climate change Updated and extended to include information on invasive species management industrial mining impacts and the current and future role of climate change in desert systems Desert Landscape Architecture John C. Krieg,2018-12-20 This book provides an understanding of desert environments their climatic conditions and unique physical beauty using the five American deserts of the southwestern United States as an example Through considerable research sensitivity and practical experience the author provides insight into how built environments are designed and installed in order to cope with the harsh unforgiving physiographic area Bridging the gap between professional jargon and common sense Desert Landscape Architecture displays detailed information for every facet of landscape design environmental concerns water issues cultural issues and plant material use This unique thorough book Provides information applicable to any desert region of the world Supplies a plant compendium with extensive plant lists comprising more than 750 species Examines desert flora and fauna as well as the fragile ecosystems they occupy Reviews human use areas Investigates grading from an aesthetic and practical standpoint Explains the significance of adequate site drainage Discusses schematic preliminary and working drawing plans Lists types of site furnishings and their specific purposes Describes how various hardscape elements are drawn and specified Explains plant growth in detail Discusses the dynamics of plant communities and their function in larger ecosystems Reviews the factors affecting plant selection in the design process Identifies desert planning zones Emphasizes the critical nature of irrigation design in the desert landscape architecture explaining it as an environmental necessity not a technical issue Outlines the basic principles of hydrology related to system design Discusses water conservation and presents alternatives for reducing water consumption Examines types of light and sun Spatial Ecology of Desert Rodent Communities

Georgy I. Shenbrot,Boris R. Krasnov,Konstantin A. Rogovin,2012-12-06 Rodents are conspicuous and important components of the desert biome Many general concepts in modern community and behavioral ecology use them as a main model This volume compiles and generalizes data on the spatial structure of desert rodent communities taking into account both global biogeographic and local ecological patterns It is based on studies of rodents in different deserts of the Northern Hemisphere Karakum Kyzylkum Bet Pak Dala Gobi Thar Chihuahua Negev and North Caspian deserts as well as on a thorough analysis of the literature Biodiversity, Ecosystems, and Conservation in Northern Mexico Jean-Luc E. Cartron,Gerardo Ceballos,Richard Stephen Felger,2005-08-25 This book describes the biodiversity and biogeography of northern Mexico documents the biological importance of regional ecosystems and the impacts of human land use on the conservation status of plants and wildlife It should become the standard source document for the conservation status of species and ecosystems in this region which is of unusual biological interest because of its high biodiversity and highly varied landscape and biological zonation

Geomorphology of Desert Environments Vinayak Joshipura, 2025-02-20

Geomorphology of Desert Environments delves into the intricate processes and landforms that shape arid landscapes worldwide. Authored by leading experts, this comprehensive book explores the dynamic interactions between geological forces, climate patterns, and ecological systems in desert regions. We begin with an overview of geomorphology principles, including erosion, deposition, and weathering processes specific to deserts. The role of aeolian processes, such as wind erosion and sand dune formation, is examined, showcasing iconic desert landforms like sand seas and yardangs. Through detailed case studies and field observations, we highlight the diversity of desert landscapes and the unique geomorphic features of different desert regions. From the sandstone buttes of the American Southwest to the salt flats of the Sahara Desert, each chapter explores the geological history, environmental dynamics, and ecological significance of desert landforms. We also delve into human-environment interactions shaping desert landscapes, including the impacts of human activities on erosion rates, soil degradation, and desertification. Sustainable land management practices, water resource management, and conservation efforts in arid regions are examined. Richly illustrated with maps, diagrams, and photographs, this book is an indispensable resource for understanding the complex interplay of geological, climatic, and ecological factors in desert environments.
