North African:

North African Mosaic Nabil Boudraa, Joseph Krause, 2009-03-26 This book's ambition is to offer the most recent scholarship on North African cultures at a time when the very notion of culture is being re-evaluated in the shifting tides that both associate and divorce the forces of nationalism, globalism and neo-liberalism. Another ambition is to be a readable document about the past and the potential of North African civilizations. Those which have been crystallized into a polysemic voice from centuries of occupations, exchanges and what is now commonly called hybridizations. In this work the collective position of the authors with their different fields of experience is that the languages, musics and the many expressions of common life in North Africa continue to flourish. That they are a bridge between sub-Saharan peoples and Europe. That they are a necessary antidote to the anemic political discourses that have prevailed since decolonization. That they are seminal for the future of the African continent as it begins its true voyage into democracy. It is difficult at this juncture to measure the distance that in the decades to come will be achieved on that voyage. It is however less difficult to evaluate the importance of North Africa on tomorrow's world. If the past is an indicator, it will be an important force in the cross-flow of trade, ideas and of global destinies.

North African Cretaceous Carbonate Platform Systems Eulàlia Gili, Mohamed El Hédi Negra, Peter W. Skelton, 2012-12-06 This volume arises from the NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW on North African Cretaceous rudist and coral formations and their contributions to carbonate platform development which was held in Tunisia on 13-18 May 2002. It was convened by M. El Hedi Negra, Université 7 Novembre de Carthage, now Université de Tunis El Manar, Tunisia, and Eulalia Gili, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, Spain. The aims of the ARW were 1) to review and critically assess currently available data on rudist coral formations in North African Cretaceous carbonate platforms and their correlations and to integrate these data with other studies around the Mediterranean; 2) to place the findings in a global context, noting both similarities with other regions of platform development as well as local differences; and 3) exploring possible reasons for these and to help promote the creation of a vibrant peri-Mediterranean collaborative research community embracing researchers from the entire region to carry forward this ambitious research programme. Twenty-two presentations (oral and poster) provided both topical reviews covering rudist evolution and ecology, mineralogical changes, applications of strontium isotope and graphic correlation methods, and platform typology as well as regional syntheses: Tunisian reservoirs, Moroccan platform history, Tunisian platforms and rudist coral
