Caribou Herds of Northwest Alaska, 1850-2000 Ernest S. Burch Jr.,2012-09-15 In his final major publication Ernest S. Burch Jr reconstructs the distribution of caribou herds in northwest Alaska using data and information from research conducted over the past several decades as well as sources that predate western science by more than one hundred years Additionally he explores human and natural factors that contributed to the demise and recovery of caribou and reindeer populations during this time Burch provides an exhaustive list of published and unpublished literature and interviews that will intrigue laymen and experts alike The unflinching assessment of the roles that humans and wolves played in the dynamics of caribou and reindeer herds will undoubtedly strike a nerve Supplemental essays before and after the unfinished work add context about the author the project of the book and the importance of both Alaska OCS (Outer Continental Shelf) Socioeconomic Studies Program: Prudhoe Bay Case Study, Technical Report B1#4; Beaufort Sea Region

Property and Equality: Ritualisation, sharing, egalitarianism
 Thomas Widlok, Wolde Gossa Tadesse, 2005 The ethnography of egalitarian social systems was first met with sheer disbelief Today it is still hotly debated in a number of fields and has gained sophistication as well as momentum This collection of essays on property and equality acknowledges this diversification by presenting research results in two complementary volumes They bring together a wide range of authoritative researchers most of whom have worked with hunter gatherer groups These two volumes cover existing ethnographic and theoretical ground while maintaining a clear focus on the relation between property and equality The book consists of the most recent work of prominent members of the original group of researchers in hunter gatherer studies among them James Woodburn and Richard Lee and very recent ethnography on hunter gatherers and other egalitarian systems
