Bringing the Dark Past to Light John-Paul Himka, Joanna Beata Michlic, 2019-06-12 Despite the Holocaust's profound impact on the history of Eastern Europe the communist regimes successfully repressed public discourse about and memory of this tragedy Since the collapse of communism in 1989 however this has changed Not only has a wealth of archival sources become available but there have also been oral history projects and interviews recording the testimonies of eyewitnesses who experienced the Holocaust as children and young adults Recent political social and cultural developments have facilitated a more nuanced and complex understanding of the continuities and discontinuities in representations of the Holocaust People are beginning to realize the significant role that memory of Holocaust plays in contemporary discussions of national identity in Eastern Europe This volume of original essays explores the memory of the Holocaust and the Jewish past in postcommunist Eastern Europe Devoting space to every postcommunist country the essays in Bringing the Dark Past to Light explore how the memory of the dark pasts of Eastern European nations is being recollected and reworked In addition it examines how this memory shapes the collective identities and the social identity of ethnic and national minorities Memory of the Holocaust has practical implications regarding the current development of national cultures and international relationships

Re-Constructing Grassroots Holocaust Memory Irina Rebrova, 2020-10-26 The main objective of the book is to allocate the grass roots initiatives of remembering the Holocaust victims in a particular region of Russia which has a very diverse ethnic structure and little presence of Jews at the same time It aims to find out how such individual initiatives correspond to the official Russian hero orientated concept of remembering the Second World war with almost no attention to the memory of war victims including Holocaust victims North Caucasus became the last address of thousands of Soviet Jews both evacuees and locals While there was almost no attention paid to the Holocaust victims in the official Soviet propaganda in the postwar period local activists and historians together with the members of Jewish communities preserved Holocaust memory by installing small obelisks at the killing sites writing novels and making documentaries teaching about the Holocaust at schools and making small thematic exhibitions in the local and school museums Individual types of grass roots activities in the region on remembering Holocaust victims are analyzed in each chapter of the book
