Radiant Future:

Solovyovo Margaret Paxson, 2005-12-13 In a small village beside a reed lined lake in the Russian north a cluster of farmers has lived for centuries in the time of tsars and feudal landlords Bolsheviks and civil wars collectivization and socialism perestroika and open markets Solovyovo is about the place and power of social memory Based on extensive anthropological fieldwork in that single village it shows how villagers configure transmit and enact social memory through narrative genres religious practice social organization commemoration and the symbolism of space Margaret Paxson relates present day beliefs rituals and practices to the remembered traditions articulated by her informants She brings to life the everyday social and agricultural routines of the villagers as well as holiday observances religious practices cosmology beliefs and practices surrounding health and illness the melding of Orthodox and communist traditions and their post Soviet evolution and the role of the yearly calendar in regulating village lives The result is a compelling ethnography of a Russian village the first of its kind in modern North American anthropology

Unvarnishing Reality Derek C. Maus, 2012-10-15 Unvarnishing Reality draws original insight to the literature politics history and culture of the cold war by closely examining the themes and goals of American and Russian satirical fiction As Derek C Maus illustrates the paranoia of nuclear standoff provided a subversive storytelling mode for authors from both nations including Thomas Pynchon Robert Coover John Barth Walker Percy Don DeLillo Kurt Vonnegut Jr Vasily Aksyonov Yuz Aleshkovsky Alexander Zinoviev Vladimir Voinovich Fazil Iskander and Sasha Sokolov Maus surveys the background of each nation s culture language sociology politics and philosophy to map the foundation on which cold war satire was built By highlighting common themes of utopianism technology and propaganda Maus effectively shows the ultimate motive of satirists on both sides was to question the various forces contributing to the cold war and to expose the absurdity of the continuous tension that pulsed between the United States and the Soviet Union for nearly half a century Although cold war literature has been studied extensively few critics have focused so keenly on comparisons of satirical fictions by Russian and American writers that condemn and subvert the polarizing ideologies inherent in superpower rivalry Such a comparison reveals thematic and structural similarities that transcend specific national and cultural origins In considering these works together Maus locates a thoroughgoing humanistic refutation of the cold war and its operative doctrines as well as a range of proposed alternatives Just as the cold war combatants ultimately reconciled in 1991 with the fall of the Soviet Union Maus seeks to bring these two literary canons together now Their thematic scope transcends cultural differences and as Maus demonstrates these writers saw that there was not only the atomic bomb to fear but also the dangers of complete national militarization and the constant polarizing threat of emergency Thus their cold war critiques still resonate today and invite further comparative studies such as this one

After the Apocalypse Srećko Horvat,2021-02-11 In this post apocalyptic rollercoaster ride philosopher Sre ko Horvat invites us to explore the Apocalypse in terms of revelation rather than as the end itself He argues that the only way to prevent the end i e extinction is to engage in a close reading of various interconnected threats such as climate crisis the nuclear age and the ongoing pandemic Drawing on the work of neglected philosopher G nther Anders this book outlines a philosophical approach to deal with what Horvat borrowing a term from climate science and giving it a theological twist calls eschatological tipping points These are no longer just the nuclear age or climate crisis but their collision conjoined with various other major threats not only pandemics but also the viruses of capitalism and fascism In his investigation of the future of places such as Chernobyl the Mediterranean and the Marshall Islands as well as many others affected by COVID 19 Horvat contends that the revelation appears simple and unprecedented the alternatives are no longer socialism or barbarism our only alternatives today are a radical reinvention of the world or mass extinction After the Apocalypse is an urgent call not only to mourn tomorrow s dead today but to struggle for our future while we can

Dying Unneeded Michelle A. Parsons, 2021-04-30 In the early 1990s Russia experienced one of the most extreme increases in mortality in modern history Men s life expectancy dropped by six years women s life expectancy dropped by three Middle aged men living in Moscow were particularly at risk of dying early deaths While the early 1990s represent the apex of mortality the crisis continues Drawing on fieldwork in the capital city during 2006 and 2007 this account brings ethnography to bear on a topic that has until recently been the province of epidemiology and demography Middle aged Muscovites talk about being unneeded ne nuzhny or having little to give others Considering this concept of being unneeded reveals how political economic transformation undermined the logic of social relations whereby individuals used their position within the Soviet state to give things to other people Being unneeded is also gendered while women are still needed by their families men are often unneeded by state or family Western literature on the mortality crisis focuses on a lack of social capital often assuming that what individuals receive is most important but being needed is more about what individuals give Social connections and their influence on health are culturally specific In Soviet times needed people helped friends and acquaintances push against the limits of the state crafting a sense of space and freedom When the state collapsed this sense of bounded freedom was compromised and another freedom became deadly This book is a recipient of the annual Norman L and Roselea J Goldberg Prize for the best project in the area of medicine
