A black and white photograph of a man in a suit and tie, standing at a podium and speaking into a microphone. He is facing a group of students seated at desks in the foreground. The background shows a large, multi-story building with many windows and chimneys, likely a university building. The overall scene suggests a lecture or a public address.

Radical Students The Old Left At Sydney University:

Radical Students Alan Barcan, 2002 This is an insight into undergraduate life and thinking at Australia's oldest university where conflicting political ideas found expression on campus Included are articles and reports of meetings from student magazines and the press as well as anecdotes and lively undergraduate wit

The Far Left in Australia since 1945 Jon Piccini, Evan Smith, Matthew Worley, 2018-07-11 The far left in Australia had significant effects on post war politics culture and society The Communist Party of Australia CPA ended World War II with some 20 000 members and despite the harsh and vitriolic Cold War climate of the 1950s seeded or provided impetus for the re emergence of other movements Radicals subscribing to ideologies beyond the Soviet orbit Maoists Trotskyists anarchists and others also created parties and organisations and led movements All of these different far left parties and movements changed and shifted during time responding to one political crisis or another but they remained steadfastly devoted to a better world This collection bringing together 14 chapters from leading and emerging figures in the Australian and international historical profession for the first time charts some of these significant moments and interventions revealing the Australian far left's often forgotten contribution to the nation's history

Nine Lives Susan Sheridan, 2011 In the decades after World War II the literary scene in Australia flourished local writers garnered international renown and local publishers sought and produced more Australian books The traditional view of this postwar period is of successful male writers with women still confined to the domestic sphere In Nine Lives Susan Sheridan rewrites the pages of history to foreground the women writers who contributed equally to this literary renaissance Sheridan traces the early careers of nine Australian women writers born between 1915 and 1925 who each achieved success between the mid 1940s and 1970s Judith Wright and Thea Astley published quickly to resounding critical acclaim while Gwen Harwood's frustration with chauvinistic literary editors prompted her pseudonymous poetry Fiction writers Elizabeth Jolley Amy Witting and Jessica Anderson remained unpublished until they were middle aged Rosemary Dobson Dorothy Hewett and Dorothy Auchterlonie Green started strongly as poets in the 1940s but either reduced their output or fell silent for the next twenty years Sheridan considers why their careers developed differently from the careers of their male counterparts and how they balanced marriage family and writing This illuminating group biography offers a fresh perspective on mid twentieth century Australian literature and the women writers who helped to shape it

A History of the Modern Australian University Hannah Forsyth, 2014-10-01 In 1857 all of the Arts students at the University of Sydney could fit into a single photograph Now there are more than one million university students in Australia After World War II Australian universities became less elite but more important growing from six small institutions educating less than 0.2 per cent of the population to a system enrolling over a quarter of high school graduates And yet universities today are plagued with ingrained problems More than 50 per cent of the cost of universities goes to just running them They now have an explicit commercial focus They compete bitterly for students and funding an issue sharply underlined by the latest federal budget Scholars rarely feel their vice chancellors represent them and within their own ranks academics squabble for scraps Knowing Australia is a perceptive clear eyed account of Australian universities recounting their history from the 1850s to the present Investigating the changing nature of higher education it asks whether this success is likely to continue in the 21st century as the university's hold over knowledge grows ever more tenuous The Brecht Yearbook / Das Brecht-Jahrbuch 40 Theodore F. Rippey, 2016 Newest volume of the central scholarly forum for discussion of Brecht and aspects of theater and literature of particular interest to him especially the politics of literature and theater in a global context A History of the Democratic Socialist Party and Resistance John Percy, 2005 Resistance is the first volume of a projected three volume history of the Democratic Socialist party and the youth organisation Resistance which today constitute the main current of the Australian far left This volume covers the tumultuous period from 1965 to 1972

Teacher for Justice Heather Goodall, Helen Randerson, Devleena Ghosh, 2019-08-26 Teacher for Justice is a major contribution to the history of the women's movement working class activism and Australian political internationalism But it is more than this By focusing on the life of Lucy Woodcock an unrecognised and under researched figure this book rewrites the history of twentieth century Australia from the perspective of an activist who challenged conventions to fight for gender race and class equality exploring the complex and multi layered intersections of these aspects It explores Woodcock's personal relationships and the circles she mixed in and the friendships she forged as well as the conventions she challenged as a single woman in possibly a same sex relationship The book makes a key contribution to the history of progressive education and the experience of women teachers Above all it charts the life of a transnational figure who made connections globally and in particular with refugees and with women in India and the Asian region It is a detailed thoroughly researched and richly textured history which places Woodcock within the context of the times in which she lived Joy Damousi Professor of History University of Melbourne Meet Lucy Woodcock a complex undaunted woman in a tough and changing world From her role as a public school principal in Depression and wartime to her union and feminist organising to her transnational engagements for peace this clear and thoughtful book brings to life forgotten forms of activism It's the gripping story of how Lucy navigated the minefields of gender class race and coloniality to change her world Raewyn Connell Professor Emerita University of Sydney Just over a century ago the last of the pupil teachers Lucy Woodcock co founded the NSW Teachers Federation So many of the principles and traditions that underpin our union today can be traced back to the lifelong work of Lucy Woodcock She fought for the industrial rights of teachers deep in the knowledge of the broader social and economic context in which she lived and worked Too often the role of working class women whose influence is profound is ignored This biography installs Lucy Woodcock into her rightful place as pivotal player in the history of twentieth century Australia Maurie Mulheron President NSW Teachers Federation A fascinating history of a fascinating woman Lucy's interests were so broad and so modern equal pay racism internationalism Indigenous rights and anti war struggles were all part of Lucy's world She had a vision beyond nationalism championed the cause of world peace when peace was being treated as a dirty word and saw women as global citizens Lucy was one of the heroes of our disgracefully unfinished Equal Pay struggle Hon Dr Meredith Burgmann anti racism and peace activist former President of the NSW Legislative Council The Liberal Mind in a Conservative Party Geoffrey Robinson, 2025-06-17 Robinson analyses the peculiarly Australian intellectual tradition of liberal conservatism within the mainstream centre right Liberal Party of Australia Conservative intellectuals in Australia have forged a pragmatic sceptical and utilitarian liberal conservatism focused on the tasks of government It remains distant both from the romantic and organicist ideas of the populist right and the simplicities of libertarianism Focusing on key figures within this tradition Robinson tracks the progress of Australian liberal conservatism over the years through its origins in the work of David Hume to the thoughts of Peter Coleman David Kemp and Andrew Norton before moving forward to George Brandis and Gregory Melleuish The Liberal Party of Australia has appealed successfully to the conservative sentiments of voters in a liberal society The Liberal Mind in a Conservative Party tells the story of seven intellectuals who helped make this possible Peter Coleman drew on John Anderson Georges Sorel and Michael Oakeshott to champion neoconservatism He argues that this potent political ideology has shaped a distinct political identity which rejects conservative traditionalism and libertarian economics while defending a pragmatic approach to capitalism A fascinating read for students and scholars of Australian politics this book will also be of great value to readers with an interest in international centre right politics
