Payne, 2017-07-04 With the humor and poignancy of Joan Bauer and Lynda Mullaly Hunt this story reminds readers that they have a right to a voice that it's okay to say how you feel and that some leftovers are absolutely delicious Fizzy is a good Southern girl who just wants to be perfect And win the Southern Living cook off The being perfect part is hard though since her parents divorced and everything in her life has changed Wary of her too perfect stepmom and her mom's neat freak dismissive boyfriend she's often angry or upset and feels like a guest in both homes She tells herself to face facts She's a leftover kid from a marriage that her parents want to forget But she has to keep all of that to herself because a good Southern girl never yells or throws fits or says anything that might hurt other people's feelings instead she throws her shoulders back says yes ma'am and tries to do better So Fizzy tries her best but it's hard to stay quiet when her family keeps getting more complicated Fortunately the Southern Living cook off gives her a welcome distraction as do her new friends Miyoko and Zach who have parent issues of their own
