Reflections On School Integration Colloquium Proceedings:

Reflections on School Integration Mokubung O. Nkomo, Carolyn McKinney, Linda Chisholm, 2004 School integration means among other things that the divisions created by apartheid need to be addressed systematically and systemically Integration is not merely about changing the racial demographics of learner and educator bodies It means schools changing to meet the needs of all children fostering meaningful interaction among learners in the classroom on the playground and in extra mural activities as well as instilling a human rights culture It means constructing curricula texts and pedagogies that are informed by a democratic ethos and it requires teachers school managers and communities that are equipped to promote a democratic school environment In short it is about inclusivity and social cohesion And the issue of integration is as pertinent internationally as it is in South Africa questions of race racism citizenship and diversity are central to school systems throughout the world This book contains the proceedings of a colloquium held in October 2003 attended by leading South African and international researchers to take stock of the status quo in school integration and identify new directions research should be taking to support the process of change

Learning from Difference: Comparative Accounts of Multicultural Education Joseph Lo Bianco, Aydin Bal, 2016-03-30 This book analyses the experiences of multicultural education in nine very different international settings uncovering insights from a vast variety of educational contexts Taking a multi critical approach in reporting and discussing problems faced by increasingly multicultural and multilingual societies the nine case studies reflect radically different assumptions about what counts as difference and what should be the appropriate ways for education systems to respond to differences While each country's approach seems unique analysis of the divergent treatments of internal population diversity elicits a genuinely global instance of the increasingly shared phenomenon of cultural pluralism Discussing various successes and failures of policy enactment theory pedagogy and management of diversity the book isolates both the differences and similarities in the unique geopolitical and socio historical contexts of the countries investigated A key value of the book is that it greatly expands the range of settings experiences epistemologies ontologies and practical experiences that are typically encountered in mainstream discussion of what counts as multicultural education In effect all societies are in some way dealing with difference this volume helps widen the scope of reflection and thus facilitates increased global learning from difference

The Construction, Negotiation, and Representation of Immigrant Student Identities in South African schools Saloshna Vandeyar, Thirusellvan Vandeyar, 2015-02-01 This is a ground breaking research study on Black immigrant identities in South African schools It is the first major book on racial integration and immigrant children in South African schools The overall aim of this study is to investigate how immigrant students negotiate and mediate their identity within the South African schooling context This study set out to explain this complex phenomenon guided by the following research objectives One to describe how immigrant student identities are framed challenged asserted and negotiated within the institutional cultures of schools Two to evaluate the extent to which the ethos of these schools has been transformed towards integration in the truest sense and to determine how immigrant students perceive this in practice Three to explore the transnational social fields in terms of social networks and cross border linkages of immigrant students and how this impacts on their identity formation Four to determine if there are any new forms of immigrant student self identities that are beginning to emerge Five to determine the extent to which racial desegregation has been accompanied by social integration between immigrant and local students Six to determine the impact of the South African social schooling context on immigrant student identity formation And seven to identify critical lessons and good practice that could be learnt and used to accelerate the racial desegregation and social integration of immigrant students in South African schools

Currere from Apartheid to Inclusion Shani Steyn, 2024-06-14 This volume demonstrates the instrumental use of Currere as a methodology to bring about Deracialisation through transformational learning by a white educator in Post Apartheid South Africa Offering an honest and vulnerable recognition of privilege and exclusivity it disrupts deep seated racial bias and assumptions unveils racial blind spots and confronts the discourse that South African white educators are overtly or covertly perpetuating systemic racism within schools Based on autoethnographic analyses of the author s lived educational experiences within the Apartheid regime it uses the theoretical concepts of Currere to initiate her journey towards Deracialisation and transform her current pedagogical practice In doing so the book demonstrates how critical self examination of underlying beliefs that lead to actions and how the past in this case being born raised and educated within the Apartheid era can influence one s teaching in ways that harm the educational development of culturally diverse learners Grappling with how autoethnographical experiences in a specific setting can inform current pedagogy and be used to bring about professional and personal transformation this book will be of interest to scholars postgraduate students and educational researchers with interests in curriculum theory race and education transformative learning Deracialisation and autoethnography

Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work Oliver Mutanga, 2019-07-01 This book sets out to understand how students with disabilities experience higher education and the transition to the workplace It foregrounds the voices of students and graduates in order to explore identity inclusion participation and success of youth with disabilities in higher education as well as their transition from university to employment The author proposes a new understanding of disability considered in terms of a continuum of abilities balancing empirical data theory and policy analysis with specific regard to the interests of youth with disabilities making a unique contribution to discussions on access inclusion and success in higher education and employment These discussions inform social development and educational policy planning and implementation not only in South Africa but also in countries with a similar context particularly in terms of remedial courses of action that bring social justice to people with disabilities Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work will be of interest to all scholars and students working in the fields of disability studies particularly those with a focus on critical disability studies and disability in the global south as well as those working in higher education sociology development studies and social policy
