

Reggio Emilia Approach

The image shows a bright, open-plan classroom with a high ceiling and exposed wooden beams. Large windows on the left side provide natural light. In the foreground, several young children are seated at light-colored wooden tables, focused on their work. The tables are cluttered with various materials, including papers, small containers, and colorful objects. To the right, a tall, narrow shelving unit holds numerous small, clear plastic bins, each containing different types of materials. A large, leafy green plant sits on a table next to the shelving unit. In the background, more children are visible, and the walls are painted in vibrant colors like blue and yellow. The overall atmosphere is one of a rich, stimulating environment for learning and exploration.

Reflections On The Reggio Emilia Approach

Lilian G. Katz, Bernard Cesarone

Reflections On The Reggio Emilia Approach:

Reflections Jan Millikan, 2003 This book explores the principles underlying the programs for young children in the city of Reggio Emilia Northern Italy and to reflect on the issues these principles may raise for care and education in Australian schools and centres A synthesis of discussions held by educators across Australia in response to prepared questions is included Also included are stories written by educators involving their response to provocations from Reggio Emilia related to educational theory and practice in an Australian context Reflections on the Reggio Emilia Approach Lilian G.
