Reforming the European Union Daniel Finke, 2012-07-29
For decades the European Union tried changing its institutions but achieved only unsatisfying political compromises and modest incremental treaty revisions In late 2009 however the EU was successfully reformed through the Treaty of Lisbon Reforming the European Union examines how political leaders ratified this treaty against all odds and shows how this victory involved all stages of treaty reform negotiations from the initial proposal to referendums in several European countries The authors emphasize the strategic role of political leadership and domestic politics and they use state of the art methodology applying a comprehensive data set for actors reform preferences They look at how political leaders reacted to apparent failures of the process by recreating or changing the rules of the game While domestic actors played a significant role in the process their influence over the outcome was limited as leaders ignored negative referendums and plowed ahead with intended reforms The book's empirical analyses shed light on critical episodes strategic agenda setting during the European Convention the choice of ratification instrument intergovernmental bargaining dynamics and the reaction of the German Council presidency to the negative referendums in France the Netherlands and Ireland

Analyses the likely future of the EU following next year's Intergovernmental Conference IGC which is likely to be even more significant for the future of Europe than the Maastricht Treaty Since Maastricht it has become clear that future developments are less certain with regard to the EU and integration The IGC will have to try and resolve tensions such as widening Europe to include former communist countries whilst also trying to deepen Europe with increased political and economic integration providing a framework which is acceptable to a core of countries Benelux Germany France who favour more integration and an early move to monetary union with countries such as the UK which does not

Reforming the European Commission Michael W. Bauer, 2013-10-18
Many international and supranational organisations have lately been busy modernising their internal administration But nowhere has management change received a similar amount of attention than in the case of the European Commission Although the perception prevails that the Commission has been losing out in recent years this vivid interest academic as well as public in the so called Kinnock reform suggests that this organisation still remains at the heart of the Union The proposition of this book thus is simple If it remains true that the Commission is an essential part within the admittedly complex equation of EU policy making changes of the administration basis of this actor are likely to have broader implications Consequently this special issue poses three crucial questions about the recent administrative reform of the European Commission why was such a comprehensive reform possible what are its specific implications for the Commission as an organisation and what is the likely impact for the policy process In short this book puts the organisational base of EU policy making centre stage In the quest for answers the authors of the subsequent chapters take distinct perspectives use various research strategies and methods and attempt to solve diverse empirical puzzles But all attempt to add to our understanding of this organisational base and how to systematically study it This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy Report on the State of the European Union J. Fitoussi, J. Le Cacheux, 2007-01-30 The Report on the State of the European Union examines the progress of European integration and focuses on economic aspects of the process This second volume in the series explores the four crises of contemporary Europe those of growth trust inequalities and unity Reforming the European Union, 2005 Reforming the Treaty on European Union Alfred E. Kellermann, Bruno de Witte, Deirdre M. Curtin, Jan A. Winter, 2023-07-10 The studies collected in this work are the updated and revised versions of the reports and commentaries presented at an international conference on European Law held in September 1995 The aim of the conference was to stimulate informed reflection and debate on a number of fundamental issues relating to the impending revision of the Treaty on European Union and to discuss the sort of sensible legal options and realistic avenues of thought that could assist those involved with the work of the actual Intergovernmental Council IGC The contributions are grouped around three major themes an exploration of the framework of the revision debate general institutional questions the general architecture of the Union and the scope of the powers of the Community and the Union Questions that are addressed in this work are among others Is it possible in the near future to simplify the procedure for amending the Treaty on European Union Is the objective of the European Union in the long term to become a European superstate a constitutional order of States or merely an advanced type of international organization What are the chances and pitfalls of allowing increased differentiated integration The book concludes with a comprehensive summing up and annexed are the Reflection Group's Report of 5 December 1995 as well as an extensive table of legal provisions and a table of cases Reforming the European Convention on Human Rights Council of Europe. Steering Committee for Human Rights, Council of Europe, 2009-01-01 The European ministerial conference on human rights meeting in Rome on the 50th anniversary of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms emphasised two crucial elements the responsibility of member states Parties to the Convention to ensure constantly that their law and practice conform to the Convention and to execute the judgments of the European Court of Human Rights that urgent measures be taken to assist the Court in carrying out its functions given the ever increasing number of applications An in depth reflection should be started as soon as possible on the various possibilities and options with a view to ensuring the effectiveness of the Court in the light of this new situation The Rome conference has sparked intensive work Ever since January 2001 the intergovernmental co operation activities of the Steering Committee for Human Rights CDDH of the Council of Europe have concentrated on developing normative instruments of which the most important has been Protocol No 14 to the Convention

This work has benefited greatly from high level debates during a series of round table discussions within working groups and at seminars organised mainly by the successive presidencies of the Committee of Ministers The present volume contains a record of this work From Actors to Reforms in European Higher Education Manja Klemenčič,2022-09-05 This volume addresses the conceptions of actors and actorhood in higher education research It explores the range of actors that are or should be recognized and theorized in higher education research the processes that shape actorhood in the higher education reforms and explores the relations between the actors and higher education reforms Drawing on a range of theoretical frameworks and research projects the volume provides in depth analyses of higher education actors and reform issues through institutional system or international comparative perspective The volume celebrates and is in conversation with the intellectual contributions of Professor Pavel Zgaga whose work advances our understanding of actors and actorhood in higher education and higher education reforms Report on the State of the European Union: Reforming the European Union Jean-Paul Fitoussi,Fiorella Padoa-Schioppa,2005
