Robinson Jeffers Poet Of Inhumanism:

Robinson Jeffers; Poet of Inhumanism Arthur B. Coffin, 1971 Robinson Jeffers Mercedes Cunningham Monjian, 2012-01-12 Robinson Jeffers name has been so inseparably linked with California that it is difficult to think of his origins being elsewhere Jeffers was both in 1887 in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania His father was a professor at Western Theological Seminary and a scholar of ancient languages who taught his son to read Greek before he started school In 1902 Jeffers enrolled in the University of Western Pennsylvania now the University of Pittsburgh but his family moved to California soon thereafter and he graduated from Occidental College at the age of eighteen Inhumanism was the label Jeffers first used in the preface to The Double Axe and Other Poems to explain the doctrine that permeates all of his poetry Defining humanism as a system of thinking in which man his interests and development are made dominant his addition of the negative prefix was his attempt to subdue human interests and development to something greater contrasting them against the magnificent beauty and immense worth of the natural world In addition to discussing Jeffers life and philosophy Monjian analyzes the form and style of his poetry calling it a singular style slashing its way across the page with violence of image and a free crashing rhythm She ends the book Whatever the future holds for this poet our own age is still awed by the magnificent talent and effort of a burdened mind struggling to free humanity from the shackles of an impoverished self love and the myths to which he believes it gave birth Robinson Jeffers Mercedes Cunningham Monjian, 2017-11-20 Excerpt from Robinson Jeffers A Study in Inhumanism Man s inhumanity to man has long been a theme favored by the poets But inhumanity bears little affinity to Inhumanism Inhumanism is the label that Robinson Jeffers gave to his doctrine in the Preface to The Double Axe and Other Poems which was published twenty four years after his first successful book Many critics and reviewers before The Double Axe had attempted to define Jeffers creed but none had succeeded in designating its meaning with his precision About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works ROBINSON JEFFERS MERCEDES CUNNINGHAM. MONJIAN, 2018 Robinson Jeffers Arthur B. Human Matthew Calarco, 2024-07-09 Current debates in the environmental humanities animal studies and related fields increasingly revolve around this question What to do with the human Is the human a category worth preserving Should it be replaced with the post human Should marginalized and minoritarian groups advocate for a universal humanism What is the relationship between humanism and anthropocentrism Is a genuinely non anthropocentric mode of thinking and living possible for human beings This book argues that the writings of twentieth century poet Robinson Jeffers offer twenty first century readers a number of crucial insights concerning such questions and timely advice about how not to be human For Jeffers our tendency to turn inward on ourselves and to indulge in human narcissism is at the heart of the social economic and existential ills that plague modern societies As a remedy Jeffers recommends turning ourselves outward beyond the self and beyond the human and learning to affirm and even love the inhuman cosmos in all of its terrible beauty In the process Jeffers helps us find our way back to ourselves but this time no longer as human in the traditional sense but as plain members of the inhuman world

Toward a Transpersonal Ecology Warwick Fox, 1995-01-01 In this book I advance an argument concerning the nature of the deep ecology approach to ecophilosophy In order to advance this argument in as thorough a manner as possible I present it within the context of a comprehensive overview of the writings on deep ecology
