was relegated to a secondary status in the postwar period when realism was labeled feminine in contrast to the aggressive masculinity of abstract expressionism The three key periods considered in AngloModern are the early twentieth century when modernist art and existing and new realist traditions coexisted in a certain tension the postwar period in which modernism claimed superiority over realism and the late twentieth century when a retrieval of the realist and figurative traditions seemed to occur Wolff concludes by considering this re emergence as well as the limitations of earlier discussions of the struggles of realist and figurative art to endure the currents of modernism Martha Matilda Harper and the
