Dr Space Junk vs The Universe Alice Gorman, 2020-11-10 A pioneering space archaeologist explores artifacts left behind in space and on Earth from moon dust to Elon Musk s red sports car Alice Gorman is a space archaeologist she examines the artifacts of human encounters with space These objects left behind on Earth and in space can be massive dead satellites in eternal orbit or tiny discarded zip ties around a defunct space antenna They can be bold an American flag on the moon or hopeful messages from Earth sent into deep space They raise interesting questions Why did Elon Musk feel compelled to send a red Tesla into space What accounts for the multiple rocket themed playgrounds constructed after the Russians launched Sputnik Gorman affectionately known as Dr Space Junk takes readers on a journey through the solar system and beyond deploying space artifacts historical explorations and even the occasional cocktail recipe in search of the ways that we make space meaningful Engaging and erudite Gorman recounts her background as a nonspace archaeologist and how she became interested in space artifacts She shows us her own piece of space junk a fragment of the fuel tank insulation from Skylab the NASA spacecraft that crash landed in Western Australia in 1979 She explains that the conventional view of the space race as the triumph of the white male American astronaut seems inadequate what really interests her she says is how everyday people engage with space To an archaeologist objects from the past are significant because they remind us of what we might want to hold on to in the future The Sky Is Not the Limit Alessandro

Gili, 2024-06-07 Space is a contested domain for its very nature and today it is evidently becoming an increasingly important enabler of economic and military power An increasing number of actors infrastructures and technologies deployed in space also raises concerns for safety and security especially in cyberspace Many countries are striving to achieve space capabilities and autonomous access to space and this is having a tremendous geopolitical impact especially since space is emerging as an increasingly critical military and strategic domain The development of the new space economy which is increasingly involving the private sector and many industrial actors and services will also be a game changer for the international economy The space race likewise implies disruptive technologies that could contribute massively to the energy and digital transitions accelerating solutions that could benefit humanity A new international governance system for space is therefore needed urgently considering that the current rules are no longer able to respond to a sector evolving at such a rapid pace Which actors are leading the race Which economic sectors could benefit the most and what could the new space economy mean for the world How is space emerging as a military domain against a backdrop of increasing international tensions What would a new system of global governance for space look like The New Zealand Justice of the Peace, Resident Magistrate, Coronor, and Constable Alexander James Johnston, 1870 Privatizing Peace Wendy N. Whitman Cobb, 2020-06-15 This book explores the privatization of space and its global impact on the future of commerce peace and conflict As space becomes more congested contested and competitive in the government and the private arenas the talk around space research moves past NASA's monopoly on academic and cultural imaginations to discuss how Elon Musk's SpaceX and Jeff Bezos Blue Origin is making space cool again This volume addresses the new rhetoric of space race and weaponization with a focus on how the costs of potential conflict in space would discourage open conflict and enable global cooperation It highlights the increasing dependence of the global economy on space research its democratization plunging costs of access and growing economic potential of space based assets Thoughtful nuanced well documented this book is a must read for scholars and researchers of science and technology studies space studies political studies sociology environmental studies and political economy It will also be of much interest to policymakers bureaucrats think tanks as well as the interested general reader looking for fresh perspectives on the future of space Critical Practice Janet Marstine, 2017-02-10 Cover Title Copyright Dedication Contents List of figures List of plates Acknowledgements 1 Critical practice as reconciliation 2 Changing hands ethical stewardship of collections 3 Temple swapping hybridity and social justice 4 Platforms negotiating and renegotiating the terms of democracy 5 Reconciliation and the discursive museum Bibliography Index
