Rabate, Jean-Michel Rabaté, 2012-05-23 In the final stages of his career Roland Barthes abandoned his long standing suspicion of photographic representation to write Camera Lucida at once an elegy to his dead mother and a treatise on photography In Writing the Image After Roland Barthes Jean Michel Rabat and nineteen contributors examine the import of Barthes's shifting positions on photography and visual representation and the impact of his work on current developments in cultural studies and theories of the media and popular culture Photography after Postmodernism David Bate, 2022-08-19 In life after postmodernism our conception of photography is not the same as before Photography After Postmodernism starts with this conception and explores what changes have affected photography its relation to social life and our image centred culture Engaging with the visual environment and issues that have emerged in the postmodern world David Bate introduces fresh approaches and analysis of photographs and their place within the aftermath of postmodernist thought The book shows how photographs circulate in an image world beyond their art or media origins that deeply affects our sense of time and relation to memory The role of archives dreams memories and time are deployed to develop and resituate arguments about photography made by Roland Barthes in Camera Lucida to further engage and understand our contemporary condition By considering how afterwordness is invoked in the developments of modern and contemporary photography Bate demonstrates the complex ways in which photographic images resonate across public and private spaces while carrying a slippage of meaning that is never quite fixed yet always contingent and social The approach shows how modernist photography was already invested in values that its discourse could not enunciate which resonates with much contemporary photography today Featuring a range of historical and contemporary images the book offers detailed and innovative readings of specific photographs which open new avenues of thought for those studying and researching visual culture and photography

Baudelaire and Photography Timothy Raser, 2017-07-05 While Baudelaire's Le Peintre de la vie moderne is often cited as the first expression of our theory of modernism his choice of Constantin Guys as that painter has caused consternation from the moment of the essay's publication in 1863 Worse still in his Salon de 1859 Baudelaire had also chosen to condemn photography in terms that echo to this day Why did the excellent critic choose a mere reporter and illustrator as the painter of modern life How could he have overlooked photography as the painting of modern life In this study of modernity and photography in Baudelaire's writing Timothy Raser who has written on the art criticism of Baudelaire Proust Claudel and Sartre shows how these two aberrations of critical judgment are related and how they underlie current discussions of both photography and modernism Timothy Raser is Professor of French at the University of Georgia USA Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson, Margaret Olin, 2003 How do some monuments become so socially powerful that people seek to destroy them After ignoring monuments for years why must we now commemorate public trauma but not triumph with a monument To explore these and other questions Robert S Nelson and Margaret Olin assembled essays from leading scholars about how monuments have functioned throughout the world and how globalization has challenged Western notions of the monument Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time Connecting that history to the present with an epilogue on the World Trade Center Monuments and Memory Made and Unmade is pertinent not only for art historians but for anyone interested in the turbulent history of monuments a history that is still very much with us today Contributors Stephen Bann Jonathan Bordo Julia Bryan Wilson Jas Elsner Tapati Guha Thakurta Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin Ruth B Phillips Mitchell Schwarzer Lillian Lan ying Tseng Richard Wittman Wu Hung Photography and Imagination Amos Morris-Reich, Margaret Olin, 2019-10-08 As the prototypical exemplar of modern visual technology photography was once viewed as a way to enable vision to bypass imagination producing more reliable representations of reality But as an achievement of technological modernity photography can also be seen as a way to realize a creation of the imagination more vividly than can painting or drawing Photography and Imagination investigates from diverse points of view focusing on both theory and practice the relation between these two terms The book explores their effect on photography s capacity through various forms and modalities of imaginative investments and displacements to affect even reality itself Truth in Photography Michael Naas, 2019-08-06 From the very invention of photography in the early part of the nineteenth century right up through the most recent developments in photography through digital technology theorists have never stopped asking whether there is in fact any truth at all in photography The essays collected in this volume consider this and related questions for example the relationship between photography and representation history time narrative memory mourning and so on through the works of Walter Benjamin Helene Cixous and Jacques Derrida among others The volume opens with a previously untranslated essay by Derrida on photography entitled precisely Aletheia Truth and it concludes with Melville s Couvade an original work of fiction on the theme of photography by David Farrell Krell
