Honoré de Balzac: Scenes of Parisian life Honoré de Balzac,1896 Hitchcock's Motifs Michael Walker,2005 Among the abundant Alfred Hitchcock literature Hitchcock's Motifs has found a fresh angle Starting from recurring objects settings character types and events Michael Walker tracks some forty motifs themes and clusters across the whole of Hitchcock's oeuvre including not only all his 52 extant feature films but also representative episodes from his TV series Connections and deeper inflections that Hitchcock fans may have long sensed or suspected can now be seen for what they are an intricately spun web of cross references which gives this unique artist's work the depth consistency and resonance that justifies Hitchcock's place as probably the best known film director ever The title the first book length study of the subject can be used as a mini encyclopaedia of Hitchcock's motifs but the individual entries also give full attention to the wider social contexts hidden sources and the sometimes unconscious meanings present in the work and solidly linking it to its time and place

The Visual Rhetoric of the Married Laity in Late Antiquity Mark D. Ellison,2023-12-11 This study examines third and fourth century portraits of married Christians and associated images reading them as visual rhetoric in early Christian conversations about marriage and celibacy and recovering lay perspectives underrepresented or missing in literary sources Historians of early Christianity have grown increasingly aware that written sources display an enthusiasm for asceticism and sexual renunciation that was far from representative of the lives of most early Christians. Often called a silent majority, the married laity in fact left behind a significant body of work in the material record. Particularly in and around Rome, they commissioned and used such objects as sarcophagi, paintings, glass vessels, finger rings, luxury silver, other jewellery, items, gems, and seals that bore their portraits and other iconographic forms of self-representation. This study is the first to undertake a sustained exploration of these material sources in the context of early Christian discourses and practices related to marriage, sexuality, and celibacy. Reading this visual evidence increases understanding of the population who created it, the religious commitments they asserted, and the comparatively moderate forms of piety they set forth as meritorious alternatives to the ascetic ideal. In their visual rhetoric, these artifacts and images comprise additional voices in Late Antique conversations about idealized ways of Christian life and ultimately provide a fuller picture of the early Christian world. Plentifully illustrated with photographs and drawings, this volume provides readers access to primary material evidence. Such evidence, like textual sources, requires critical interpretation; this study sets forth a careful methodology for iconographic analysis and applies it to identify the potential intentions of patrons and artists and the perceptions of viewers. It compares iconography to literary sources and ritual practices as part of the interpretive process, clarifying the ways images had a rhetorical edge and contributed to larger conversations. Accessibly written, The Visual Rhetoric of the Married Laity in Late Antiquity is of interest to students and scholars working on Late Antiquity, early Christian and late Roman social history, marriage and celibacy in early Christianity, and early Christian Roman and Byzantine art.
