The Art History of the Ming Dynasty Li Shi, The book is the volume of The Art History of the Ming Dynasty among a series of books of Deep into China Histories The earliest known written records of the history of China date from as early as 1250 BC from the Shang dynasty c 1600 1046 BC and the Bamboo Annals 296 BC describe a Xia dynasty c 2070 1600 BC before the Shang but no writing is known from the period The Shang ruled in the Yellow River valley which is commonly held to be the cradle of Chinese civilization However Neolithic civilizations originated at various cultural centers along both the Yellow River and Yangtze River These Yellow River and Yangtze civilizations arose millennia before the Shang With thousands of years of continuous history China is one of the world's oldest civilizations and is regarded as one of the cradles of civilization The Zhou dynasty 1046 256 BC supplanted the Shang and introduced the concept of the Mandate of Heaven to justify their rule The central Zhou government began to weaken due to external and internal pressures in the 8th century BC and the country eventually splintered into smaller states during the Spring and Autumn period. These states became independent and warred with one another in the following Warring States period. Much of traditional Chinese culture, literature, and philosophy first developed during those troubled times. In 221 BC, Qin Shi Huang conquered the various warring states and created for himself the title of Huangdi or emperor of the Qin, marking the beginning of imperial China. However, the oppressive government fell soon after his death and was supplanted by the longer-lived Han dynasty (206 BC–220 AD). Successive dynasties developed bureaucratic systems that enabled the emperor to control vast territories directly. In the 21 centuries from 206 BC until AD 1912, routine administrative tasks were handled by a special elite of scholar-officials. Young men well-versed in calligraphy, history, literature, and philosophy were carefully selected through difficult government examinations. China's last dynasty was the Qing (1644–1912), which was replaced by the Republic of China in 1912 and in the mainland by the People's Republic of China in 1949. Chinese history has alternated between periods of political unity and peace and periods of war and failed statehood, the most recent being the Chinese Civil War (1927–1949). China was occasionally dominated by steppe peoples, most of whom were eventually assimilated into the Han Chinese culture and population. Between eras of multiple kingdoms and warlordism, Chinese dynasties have ruled parts or all of China. In some eras, control stretched as far as Xinjiang and Tibet, as at present. Traditional culture and influences from other parts of Asia and the Western world, carried by waves of immigration, cultural assimilation, expansion, and foreign contact, form the basis of the modern culture of China.

A History of Western Society, Combined Volume John P. McKay, Bennett D. Hill, John Buckler, Clare Haru Crowston, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, Joe Perry, 2011-01-31

Now from Bedford St Martin's. A History of Western Society is one of the most successful textbooks available because it captures students' interest in the everyday life of the past and ties social history to the broad sweep of politics and culture. The tenth edition has been thoroughly revised to strengthen the text's readability, heighten its attention to daily life, and incorporate the insights of new scholarship, including an enhanced treatment of European exploration and a thoroughly revised post-1945 section. With a dynamic new design, new special features, and a completely revised and robust companion reader, this major revision makes the past memorable and accessible for a new generation of students and instructors.

Circulations in the Global History of Art Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann, Catherine Dossin, Béatrice Joyeux-Prunel, 2016-03-03 The project of global art history calls for balanced treatment of artifacts and a unified approach This volume emphasizes questions of transcultural encounters and exchanges as circulations It presents a strategy that highlights the processes and connections among cultures and also responds to the dynamics at work in the current globalized art world The editors introduction provides an account of the historical background to this approach to global art history stresses the inseparable bond of theory and practice and suggests a revaluation of materialist historicism as an underlying premise Individual contributions to the book provide an overview of current reflection and research on issues of circulation in relation to global art history and the globalization of art past and present They offer a variety of methods and approaches to the treatment of different periods regions and objects surveying both questions of historiography and methodology and presenting individual case studies An Afterword by James Elkins gives a critique of the present project The book thus deliberately leaves discussion open inviting future responses to the large questions it poses The Prehistoric Rock Art of Portugal George Nash, Sara Garcês, 2023-10-30 The Prehistoric Rock Art of Portugal presents significant interpretive perspectives in Portuguese rock art research and offers an excellent representation of core rock art areas along with current thinking and interpretations The various chapters deliver a personal approach to the many issues themes and approaches that are embedded within the rock art of the outpost of western Atlantic Europe Ethnographical perspectives have often dominated the study of rock art but unlike other well studied regions the western Iberian Peninsula is absent of an ethnographical or ethno historical past and therefore the production of rock art can only be archaeologically assessed Thus the work promotes interpretive perspectives on Portuguese rock art illustrating the richness chronology and context of these unique artistic expressions and explores the variability of rock art imagery and the diversity of landscapes and social contexts in which it was produced Although focusing on Portuguese rock art the book includes a number of universal themes that will appeal to a broad range of scholars researching in archaeology and anthropology history of art as well as professionals engaged in rock art heritage and conservation

State Construction and Art in East Central Europe, 1918-2018 Agnieszka Chmielewska, Irena Kossowska, Marcin Lachowski, 2022-09-19 This volume offers a comprehensive perspective on the relationship between the art scene and agencies of the state in countries of the region throughout four consecutive yet highly diverse historical periods from the period of state integration after World War I through the communist era post 1945 and the time of political transformation after 1989 to the present day globalisation including counter reactions to westernisation and cultural homogenisation With twenty three theoretically and or empirically oriented articles by authors from sixteen countries East Central Europe and beyond including the United States and Australia the book discusses interconnections between state policies and artistic institutions trends and the art market from diverse research perspectives The contributors explore subjects such as the impact of war on the formation of national identities the role of artists in image building for the new national states emerging after 1918 the impact of political systems on artists attitudes the discourses of art history museum studies monument conservation and exhibition practices The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural politics cultural history and East Central European studies and history Horizontal Art History and Beyond Agata Jakubowska, Magdalena Radomska, 2022-07-08 This book is devoted to the concept of horizontal art history a proposal of a paradigm shift formulated by the Polish art historian Piotr Piotrowski 1952 2015 that aims at undermining the hegemony of the discourse of art history created in the Western world The concept of horizontal art history is one of many ideas on how to conduct nonhierarchical art historical analysis that have been developed in different geopolitical locations since at least the 1970s parallel to the ongoing process of decolonization This book is a critical examination of horizontal art history which provokes a discussion on the original concept of horizontal art history and possible methods to extend it This is an edited volume written by international scholars who acknowledge the importance of the concept share its basic assumptions and are aware both of its advantages and limitations The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history art historiography and postcolonial studies Undergraduate Catalog University of Michigan--Dearborn, 2011 The Vienna School of Art History Matthew Rampley, 2015-06-26 Matthew Rampley s The Vienna School of Art History is the first book in over seventy five years to study in depth and in context the practices of art history from 1847 the year the first teaching position in the discipline was created to 1918 the collapse of Austria Hungary It traces the emergence of art history as a discipline the establishment of norms of scholarly inquiry and the involvement of art historians in wider debates about the cultural and political identity of the monarchy The so called Vienna School plays the central role in the study but Rampley also examines the formation of art history elsewhere in Austria Hungary Located in the Habsburg imperial capital Vienna art historians frequently became entangled in debates that were of importance to art historians elsewhere in the Empire and Rampley pays particular attention to these areas of overlapping interest He also analyzes the methodological innovations for which the Vienna School was well known Rampley focuses most fully however on the larger political and ideological context of the practice of art history particularly the way in which art historical debates served as proxies for wider arguments over the political social and cultural life of the Habsburg Empire Atlas of World Art John Onians, 2004 Combines a survey of world art with maps showing the associations and dissemination of culture across the globe The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated. The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis. Another key feature of the narrative is the redefinition of traditional period boundaries. Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities. The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410. The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome. European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770. The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914. Modernism and after 1914 to 2000. This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write. The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians. Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations. Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada. Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints. The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students.

Chinese Art in the XX Century , Chinese Landscape Painting as Western Art History James Elkins, 2010-06-01. This is a provocative essay of reflections on traditional mainstream scholarship on Chinese art as done by towering figures in the field such as James Cahill and Wen Fong. James Elkins offers an engaging and accessible survey of his personal journey encountering and interpreting Chinese art through Western scholars' writings. He argues that the search for optimal comparisons is itself a modern Western interest and that art history as a discipline is inherently Western in several identifiable senses. Although he concentrates on art history in this book and on Chinese painting in particular these issues bear implications for Sinology in general and for wider questions about humanistic inquiry and historical writing. Jennifer Purtle's Foreword provides a useful counterpoint from the perspective of a Chinese art specialist anticipating and responding to other specialists likely reactions to Elkins's hypotheses
