

To Her Sea-faring Lover

*SHALL I thus ever long, and be no whit the neare?
And shall I still complain to thee, the which me will not hear?
Alas! say nay! say nay! and be no more so dumb,
But open thou thy manly mouth and say that thou wilt come:
Whereby my heart may think, although I see not thee,
That thou wilt come--thy word so sware--if thou a live man be.
The roaring hugy waves they threaten my poor ghost,
And toss thee up and down the seas in danger to be lost.
Shall they not make me fear that they have swallowed thee?
--But as thou art most sure alive, so wilt thou come to me.
Whereby I shall go see thy ship ride on the strand,
And think and say Lo where he comes and Sure here will he land:
And then I shall lift up to thee my little hand,
And thou shalt think thine heart in ease, in health to see me stand.
And if thou come indeed (as Christ thee send to do!)
Those arms which miss thee now shall then embrace [and hold] thee too:*

*Each vein to every joint the lively blood shall spread
Which now for want of thy glad sight doth show full pale and dead.
But if thou slip thy troth, and do not come at all,
As minutes in the clock do strike so call for death I shall:
To please both thy false heart and rid myself from woe,
That rather had to die in troth than live forsaken so!*

and Other Poems, with Sonnets John Masefield,2019-12-11 In Lollingdon Downs and Other Poems with Sonnets John Masefield crafts a lyrical tapestry that captures the quintessential beauty of the English countryside alongside profound reflections on the human experience Written in a style that juxtaposes vivid imagery with emotional depth this collection resonates with Masefield's mastery of meter and rhythm often invoking nature as a backdrop for exploration of themes like love loss and the passage of time The text is situated within the early 20th century literary milieu characterized by a reaction against modernism aiming to retain a connection with the pastoral traditions of the English poetic canon John Masefield the Poet Laureate of the United Kingdom from 1930 until his death in 1967 immersed himself in the narratives of the English landscape which greatly informed his work His early maritime experiences and subsequent travels imbued him with a deep appreciation for the natural world and human suffering This duality finds a harmonious expression in Lollingdon Downs serving as a testament to his personal evolution and the existential struggles of his time Readers seeking a poetic exploration that marries lyrical beauty with philosophical insight will find Masefield's collection both enriching and poignant Lollingdon Downs invites you into a world where nature itself becomes a silent witness to the complexities of life making it a worthwhile addition to any literary collection *A Voice from the Humber! containing Humber Banks, and other poems.
