Babesch Vereeniging Antieke Beschaving (Netherlands), 2001 Side-by-Side Survey Susan Alcock, John Cherry, 2016-10-02 Twenty years ago John Cherry looked forward to the day when archaeological survey projects working around the Mediterranean region the Frogs round the pond would begin to compare and synthesize the information they had collected He anticipated researchers tackling big questions of interregional scope in new and interesting ways working at a geographical scale considerably larger than that of the individual survey Was his optimism misplaced Despite the extraordinary growth of interest in field survey projects and regional analysis and despite the developments in survey methodology that have been discussed and implemented in the past two decades few scholars have attempted to use survey data in a comparative mode and to answer the broad scale questions confronting social historians In this volume which is the outcome of an advanced Workshop held at the University of Michigan in 2002 a number of prominent archaeologists return to the question of comparability They discuss the potential benefits of working in a comparative format with evidence from many different Mediterranean survey projects and consider the practical problems that present roadblocks to achieving that objective From mapping and manuring to human settlement and demography environment and culture each addresses different questions often with quite different approaches together they offer a range of perspectives on how to put surveys side by side Contributors include Susan E Alcock John Cherry Jack L Davis Peter Attema Martijn van Leusen James C Wright Robin Osborne David Mattingly T J Wilkinson and Richard E Blanton A Sweet and Glorious Land John Keahey, 2014-07-15 In the winter of 1897 1898 Victorian writer George Gissing made a well chronicled journey throughout southern Italy The result was a book By the Ionian Sea in which he detailed the influence of ancient Greece on the peninsula and contrasted the glory of Greece and its magnificent cities to the southern Italy of the late 1800s The book was published in 1901 and has since become a classic in travel literature A hundred years later award winning newspaper journalist John Keahey sets off to retrace Gissing's footsteps His goal is to compare and contrast the two Italys seeing first hand all the changes that have occurred over the past century He explores the outdoor markets in Naples journeys to the charming coastal town of Paola takes a train ride out of the Calabrian mountain town of Cosenza and into the port city of Taranto and makes his way down to Reggio at the toe of Italy's boot Along the route he visits modern day Crotone the Ionian coastal city that was famous in antiquity as the place where Pythagoras had his school as well as where Hannibal pursued for 15 years along the length of Italy by the Romans embarked in shame for Carthage now in modern day Tunisia Going beyond Gissing's journey Keahey also makes an additional stop at Sibari near where the site of ancient Sybaris has been partially excavated From train rides through the lush countryside to the crisp mountain air of Catanzaro Keahey paints a beautiful and compelling picture of one of the lesser known parts of the country A Sweet and Glorious Land is not only a wonderful travelogue but also an intriguing story of southern Italy and its people The Search for Sybaris 1960-1965 Froelich G. Rainey, 1967

The Architecture of Luxury Annette Condello, 2016-03-16 Over the past century luxury has been increasingly celebrated in the sense that it is no longer a privilege or attitude of the European elite or America's leisure class It has become more ubiquitous and now practically everyone can experience luxury even luxury in architecture Focusing on various contexts within Western Europe Latin America and the United States this book traces the myths and application of luxury within architecture interiors and designed landscapes Spanning from antiquity to the modern era it sets out six historical categories of luxury Sybaritic Lucullan architectural excess rustic neoEuropean and modern and relates these to the built and unbuilt environment taking different cultural contexts and historical periods into consideration It studies some of the ethical questions raised by the nature of luxury in architecture and discusses whether architectural luxury is an unqualified benefit or something which should only be present within strict limits The author argues how the ideas of permissible and impermissible luxury have informed architecture and how these notions of ethical approval have changed from one context to another Providing voluptuous settings for the nobles and the leisure class luxury took the form of not only grand palaces but also follies country and suburban houses private or public entertainment venues and ornate skyscrapers with fast lifts The Architecture of Luxury proposes that in Western societies the growth of the leisure classes and their desire for various settings for pleasure resulted in a constantly increasing level of luxury sought within everyday architecture

Constructions of Greek Past Hero Hokwerda, 2021-11-22 In May 1999 a second conference of Hellenists of all periods and subject areas from the Dutch speaking countries was organized in Groningen The theme of this second conference was Constructions of Greek Past Identity and Historical Consciousness from Antiquity to the Present The conference theme was described as follows When seeking to establish its own identity a culture country people nation readily resorts to its own history which it uses either as an example or as something to react against In recent years there has been a growing awareness that this process often reveals more about a culture in the present day than the historical era to which it harks back its own identity and thus its own history are constructed in this way The constructional approach is usually applied to the birth of new nation states and the development of their national ideologies particularly in the nineteenth century But it can be applied more broadly too Greek culture is an excellent subject area for studying this phenomenon even further back in history precisely because its history is so long and included several Golden Ages to which later periods could and can hark back Greek culture still presents itself as a product of Ancient Greek and or Byzantine culture However the problem of continuity in Greek culture has frequently manifested itself particularly during periods of radical political ideological or demographic change The Homeric influence on the Mycenaean world is therefore also an aspect of this phenomenon The Homeric world served as an example for later periods as did the Attic period for the Greeks in the Hellenistic Roman age The tensions between the Hellenistic and Roman character of the Greek world had a strong influence on the shaping of the Greek identity during late Antiquity and the Middle Ages Those tensions still exist today ellenism s ellenik tita v romiosyni The theme was designed to bring together Hellenists of all periods and disciplines literature language history archaeology ecclesiastical history sociology etc relating to the Greek world The colloquium sessions were held in Dutch but the papers are published in English two in French

Regional Pathways to Complexity P. A. J. Attema, G.-J. L. M. Burgers, Martijn van Leusen, 2010 Deze bundel is een mijlpaal in het onderzoek naar de Oude Middellandse Zee Met behulp van een vergelijkende aanpak zijn drie verschillende regionale landschappen van Itali e uitvoerig onderzocht door archeologen Om een zeer gedetailleerd beeld te krijgen van de ontwikkeling van menselijke activiteiten van de late Bronstijd tot de opkomst van het Romeinse Rijk is er minutieus onderzoek gedaan naar nederzettingen heiligdommen en begraafplaatsen De milieugeschiedenis van deze gebieden en de geschiedenis van het door mensen gebruikte land zijn parallel geanalyseerd door gespecialiseerde projecten Wat ontstaat is een onge evenaarde reeks van inzichten in hoe regionale samenlevingen zich intern ontwikkelen en reageren op externe interventies zoals het kolonialisme imperialisme en internationale handel

Greek Identity in the Western Mediterranean Brian Benjamin Shefton, Kathryn Lomas, 2004 This collection of essays in honour of Professor B B Shefton provides an innovative exploration of the culture of the Greek colonies of the Western Mediterranean their relations with their non Greek neighbours and the evolution of distinctive regional identities

Meetings of Cultures in the Black Sea Region Jane Hjarl Petersen Pia Guldager Bilde, 2008-06-16 As a theme Meetings of Cultures in the Black Sea Region Between Conflict and Coexistence arouses strong feelings From the remotest Antiquity the indigenous and nomadic non Greek populations of the Pontic region were persistently viewed as one of the major Others first of all by Mediterranean Greeks And because the region geographically was located as a bridge between Europe and Asia it was and still is also part of a Europe Asia discourse of dichotomy As far back in time as Antiquity Western self understanding and identity formation has been shaped not least through its colonial experiences Until recently such colonial experience has led to a very static picture in our analysis of colonial encounters However as a result of post colonialism post modernism and now globalization our conception of colonization has undergone a rapid and far reaching conceptual change Gone are the days when the Black Sea region was seen as a sea of barbarian wilds enlightened by small flicks of Greek civilization along the coast Settling the Black Sea region was a challenge for the Greeks Compared with the Mediterranean this happened relatively late and the attempt of settling the land was not always equally successful In fact frequently the power balance was in favour of the indigenous population Nevertheless the cultivation of the land and the establishment of exchange systems must have been beneficial for all participants in the exchange network In this volume the acts of an international interdisciplinary conference held at Sandbjerg Manor House Denmark in January 2006 are published 19 contributions by scholars from Denmark France Georgia Great Britain the Netherlands Russia and Ukraine give a profound discussion of various topics such as the physical arena of the colonial encounters as spaces of identity the layout of land and protection of cities the dynamics of the cultural exchange the perception of how it was to be Greek in the Pontic realm and finally the reciprocal strategies exerted by the Greeks and Scythians in Olbia as described in Herodotos Fourth Book of his Histories Through the many sided contributions it is also revealed how self and other is two sides of the same coin yesterday today and tomorrow Reflections of a Digger Froelich Gladstone Rainey,1992 For some 30 years the University of Pennsylvania Museum flourished under the directorship of Froelich Rainey who revived it after WW II and made it a preeminent institution devoted to excavation and innovative technology applied to archaeology In this personal memoir Dr Rainey recounts the highlights of his archaeological career spanning more than 50 years of active field research in all parts of the world the West Indies the Arctic the Near and Middle East Europe the New World and the Far East The Nature of Mediterranean Europe Alfred Thomas Grove,Oliver Rackham,2003-01-01 This large volume draws on evidence from fieldwork historical records archaeology pollen analysis and recent research in discussing the ecology of Mediterranean Europe from the past to the present day Grove and Rackham provide clear explanations and discussions of different ecosystems of ruined landscapes climate fluctuations and vegetation change the impact of fire terracing agriculture and man s changing subsistence strategies of coastal erosion and deforestation A highly readable book packed full of information which also assesses the pessimistic view that many people hold over the future of the landscape and environment

Through Time, Across Continents Dilys P. Winegrad,1993-01-29 Established in 1887 the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology is one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the nation With quotations from letters journals and field notes and numerous archival photographs this handsome oversized volume is not only a history of an influential institution but an important contribution to the history of archaeological and anthropological research

Earth Observations for Geohazards Zhenhong Li,Roberto Tomás,2018-07-05 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Earth Observations for Geohazards that was published in Remote Sensing Fields of Death Richard Evans,2013-09-09 Richard Evans revisits the sites of a selection of Greek and Roman battles and sieges to seek new insights The battle narratives in ancient sources can be a thrilling read and form the basis of our knowledge of these epic events but they can just as often provide an incomplete or obscure record Details especially those related to topographical and geographical issues which can have a fundamental importance to military actions are left tantalisingly unclear to the modern reader The evidence from archaeological excavation work can sometimes fill in a gap in our understanding but such an approach remains uncommon in studying ancient battles By combining the ancient sources and latest archaeological findings with his personal observations on the ground Richard Evans brings new perspectives to the dramatic events of the distant past For example why did armies miss one another in what we might today consider relatively benign terrain Just how important was the terrain in determining victory or defeat in these clashes The author has carefully selected battles and sieges to explore first of all to identify their locations and see how these fit with the ancient evidence He then examines the historical episodes themselves offering new observations from first hand study of the field of battle along with up to date photographs maps and diagrams In the process he discusses whether and how the terrain has since been changed by land use erosion and other factors and the extent to which what we see today represents a real connection with the dramatic events of the distant past This first volume considers 1 The Greek Victory over the Persians at Marathon 490 BC 2 Leonidas and his Three Hundred Spartans at Thermopylae 480 BC 3 The Athenian Siege of Syracuse 414 413 BC 4 The Syracusan Siege of Motya 397 BC 5 Alexander s Defeat of Darius at Issus 333 BC 6 Hannibal s Victory at Cannae 216 BC 7 Titus Quinctius Flamininus and Philip V at Cynoscephalae 197 BC 8 Gaius Marius Victory over the Teutones at Aquae Sextiae 102 BC 9 Octavian versus Antony and Cleopatra of Egypt The Battle of Actium 31 BC 10 The First Battle of Bedriacum April AD 69
