Season At Coole:

From the Sin-é Café to the Black Hills Eamonn Wall, 1999 Eamonn Wall arrived in the United States in the 1980s as part of a wave of young educated immigrants who became known as the New Irish In this book he comments on his own experiences and those of his generation who identify as much with contemporary ethnic and immigrant America as they do with the long settled Irish American community Wall's starting point is the now closed Sin Caf in New York's East Village which was a hangout in the early 1990s for expatriate Irish musicians actors and writers He comments on the poetry fiction essays and memoirs of both the New Irish and Americans of Irish heritage locating them within a literary and historical context But this is also a deeply personal book in which Wall wrestles with his own identity as an Irishman living in America raising his children as Americans and learning to love the American landscape from the streets of Manhattan to the western hills of Nebraska Brooklyn Fictions James Peacock, 2014-11-20 Vast and diverse Brooklyn is often portrayed in literature as a place of traditional community values and face to face relations distinct from anonymous capital driven Manhattan Brooklyn Fictions discovers what such representations of the New York borough can teach us about diversity and the individual the local and the global Combining analysis of popular texts such as Sister Souljah's The Coldest Winter Ever with more canonical novels such as Jonathan Lethem's The Fortress of Solitude this study draws on the work of a variety of theorists on community and globalization and uses Brooklyn as a case study for an exploration of the complex relationship between romantic ideals of community and global economic forces With cities often depicted as sites of conflict and fear this is a crucial contribution to our understanding of the contemporary urban community and the ethical issues involved in conceptualizing and portraying it in literature A Season at Coole (scene 1) Michael Gregory Stephens, 1979

Powerless Fictions? Ricardo Miguel-Alfonso, 2023-04-12 Postmodern Studies deals with any aspect of postmodernism or of postmodernity and the postmodern in relation to literature Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1974 Lady Gregory Judith Hill, 2011-04-14 Lady Gregory Abbey Theatre founder and patron of W B Yeats writer and daughter of a Galway landowner became a key figure in the Irish Revival This new biography investigates Augusta Gregory's varied relationships and the contradictions and achievements of her life This portrait of a fascinating woman places Lady Gregory in the Ireland of her time showing how her nationalism in politics and literature shaped her life and work The Irish Voice in America Charles Fanning, 2014-07-11 In this study Charles Fanning has written the first general account of the origins and development of a literary tradition among American writers of Irish birth or background who have explored the Irish immigrant or ethnic experience in works of fiction The result is a portrait of the evolving fictional self consciousness of an immigrant group over a span of 250 years Fanning traces the roots of Irish American writing back to the eighteenth century and carries it forward through the traumatic years of the Famine to the present time with an intensely productive period in the twentieth century beginning with James T Farrell Later writers treated in depth include Edwin O'Connor, Elizabeth Cullinan, Maureen Howard, and William Kennedy. Along the way he places in the historical record many all but forgotten writers including the prolific Mary Ann Sadlier. The Irish Voice in America is not only a highly readable contribution to American literary history but also a valuable reference to many writers and their works. For this second edition Fanning has added a chapter that covers the fiction of the past decade. He argues that contemporary writers continue to draw on Ireland as a source and are important chroniclers of the modern American experience.

Bernard Shaw and the Making of Modern Ireland Audrey McNamara, Nelson O'Ceallaigh Ritschel, 2020-07-13
This book is an anthology focused on Shaw's efforts literary and political that worked toward a modernizing Ireland. Following Declan Kiberd's Foreword and the editor's Introduction, the contributing chapters in their order of appearance are from President of Ireland Michael D. Higgins, Anthony Roche, David Clare, Elizabeth Mannion, Nelson O'Ceallaigh Ritschel, Aisling Smith, Susanne Colleary, Audrey McNamara, Aileen R. Ruane, Peter Gahan, and Gustavo A. Rodriguez Martin. The essays establish that Shaw's Irishness was inherent and manifested itself in his work, demonstrating that Ireland was a recurring feature in his considerations. Locating Shaw within the march towards modernizing Ireland furthers the recent efforts to secure Shaw's place within the Irish spheres of literature and politics.

You've Got to be Carefully Taught Jerome Klinkowitz, 2001
For his 40th published book Klinkowitz's English U of Northern Iowa details what he calls his own wasteful mis-education, the snake pit of academic politics, and the joy of teaching after he found a peaceful niche in Introduction to Literature. He does not provide an index. c. Book News Inc.

Confessions of a Guilty Freelancer William O'Rourke, 2012-06-19
William O'Rourke's singular view of American life over the past 40 years shines forth in these short essays on subjects personal, political, and literary, which reveal a man of keen intellect and wide-ranging interests. They embrace everything from the state of the nation after 9/11 to the author's encounter with rap from the masterminds of political makeovers to the rich variety of contemporary American writing. His reviews illuminate both the books themselves and the times in which we live, and his personal reflections engage even the most fearful events with a special humor and gentle pathos. Readers will find this richly rewarding volume difficult to put down.
