Land Management in the Highlands of Tigray, Northern Ethiopia ,2003-01-01 The papers presented at the workshop dealt with a wide array of topics related to land management in the highlands of Tigray Development with Identity Robert E. Rhoades,2006 Throughout Latin America indigenous peoples are demanding that development must address local priorities including ethnic identity Simultaneously sustainability scientists need to conduct place based research on the interaction between environment and society that will have global relevance This book reports on a 6 year interdisciplinary research project on natural resource management in Cotacachi Ecuador where scientists and indigenous groups learnt to seek common ground The book discusses how local people and the environment have engaged each other over time to create contemporary Andean landscapes It also explores human environment interaction in relation to biodiversity soils and water and equitable development This book will be of significant interest to sociologists anthropologists economists and sustainability scientists researching environment and agriculture in rural communities Fishery Bulletin ,1971 Cultural Expression and

Subjectivity of Chinese Peasants Sha Yao,2021-07-27 As the famous sociologist Fei Xiaotong argued the real life of most Chinese can only be seen in the villages Peasants not only comprise a significant part of the Chinese population but represent a distinctive culture and one that is expressed in its own particular way This makes for an important area of study for scholars in communication studies This volume investigates how Chinese peasants express their culture and adapt to social change The author s research consists of participant observation and interviews of shadow puppetry artists in Guanzhong China illustrating how peasant artists have adapted to the historical and social changes since the founding of the People s Republic of China He discovers that Chinese peasants integrate urban popular culture with their own aesthetic criteria even if the mainstream discourse of the Chinese community overlooks the subjectivity of peasants He goes on to put forwards a creative analytical framework for the studies of the dynamics of subject time space Scholars and students of anthropology sociology and communication studies especially rural communication studies will find this an ideal case study Policy Analysis for Sustainable Land Management and Food Security in Ethiopia Stein Terje Holden, Shiferaw Bekele, Bekele Ambaye Shiferaw, J. Pender, 2005-01-01 Policymakers and technology development institutions have mostly focused on high potential farming areas which have better resource endowments and greater access to markets and infrastructure than less favored areas However in developing nations more than one billion people live in less favored areas where despite disadvantages appropriate policies and programs can generate high returns and contribute significantly to poverty reduction IFPRI and its partners research in the highlands of Ethiopia shows how poverty and land degradation can be reduced in a less favored area Using a bioeconomic model to analyze the effects that land degradation population growth stagnant technology market imperfections and increased risk of drought have on household production welfare and food security the report gauges how alternative policy choices affect poverty and land degradation According to the study land quality and household welfare are both in peril in the Ethiopian highlands The population in the region could suffer devastating effects if proper policies are not put in place The bioeconomic modeling approach used in this study can be usefully adapted and applied in many other settings and at larger spatial and socioeconomic scales My Office for iPad Paul
