How the Light Gets In Graham Ward, 2016-02-25 How the Light Gets In Ethical Life I presents a systematic account of the teachings of the Christian faith to offer a vision from a human created and limited perspective of the ways all things might be understood from the divine perspective It explores how Christian doctrine is lived and the way in which beliefs are not simply cognitive sets of ideas but embodied cultural practices Christians learn how to understand the contents of their faith learn the language of the faith through engagements that are simultaneously somatic affective imaginative and intellectual In the first of four volumes Graham Ward examines the complex levels of these engagements through three historical developments in the systematic organization of doctrine the Creeds the Summa and Protestant dogmatics He outlines a methodology for exploring and practicing systematic theology that captures how the faith is lived in cultural social and embodied engagements Ward then unpicks several fundamental theological concepts and how they are to be understood from the point of view of an engaged systematics truth revelation judgement discernment proclamation faith seeking understanding and believing as it relates to and grounds the possibilities for faith This groundbreaking work offers an interdisciplinary investigation through poetry art film the Bible and theological discourse analysing the human condition and theology as the deep dream for salvation The final part relates theology as a lived and ongoing pedagogy concerned with individual and corporate formation to biological life social life and life in Christ Here an approach to living theologically is sketched that is the primary focus for all four volumes ethical life

Wait Rebecca Brewster Stevenson, 2019-06-04 What are you waiting for Everyone has endured the endless traffic light the queue that goes nowhere the elevator music piped through the phone line But what of those periods in your life when everything seems on hold When you can't do the next thing in your professional or personal life because you can't get to it Waiting be it for health a life partner a child a job can be an agony The persistently unrealized goal feels like an endless road And hope's constant deferment can be exhausting A firm answer against the thing you're hoping for no might be easier than this constant lack of closure It might be easier to give it up But what if waiting means to be something else Waiting doesn't have to mean idleness Our prolonged state of need might teach us to look beyond the desired goal to something infinitely better We find lessons on this throughout the Bible and if we are paying attention in our own lives Rather than fostering frustration periods of waiting might have great truths to tell us It might show us that hope is worthwhile Waiting might even be a gift in and of itself

Global Identities in Transit Bouchra Benlemlih, Lahoussine Hamdoune, 2022-03-28 Global Identities in Transit The Ethics and Politics of Representation in World Literatures and Cultures explores the myriad aspects of identity formation and identity representation in an increasingly globalized world Covering a variety of cultural and historical experiences in addition to several texts of world literatures the contributors discuss the configurations of transnationality and transculturality in our postcolonial and globalized world

Acknowledging that nationality ethnicity gender and class are continually shaped by historical processes the contributors hone in on the ways that the increase in mobility via migration diaspora and exile render identities always in transit In the face of structural inequalities and social injustices predominant in this context the chapters reflect on the moral obligations of representation This collection will be of interest to scholars of cultural studies postcolonial studies and world literature
