Plater,2015-11-18 In 1833 Edward G. W. and Frances Parke Butler moved to their newly constructed plantation house Dunboyne on the banks of the Mississippi River near the village of Bayou Goula Their experiences at Dunboyne over the next forty years demonstrated the transformations that many land owning southerners faced in the nineteenth century from the evolution of agricultural practices and commerce to the destruction wrought by the Civil War and the transition from slave to free labor and finally to the social political and economic upheavals of Reconstruction In this comprehensive biography of the Butlers David D. Plater explores the remarkable lives of a Louisiana family during one of the most tumultuous periods in American history Born in Tennessee to a celebrated veteran of the American Revolution Edward Butler pursued a military career under the mentorship of his guardian Andrew Jackson and during a posting in Washington D. C. met and married a grand niece of George Washington Frances Parke Lewis In 1831 he resigned his commission and relocated Frances and their young son to Iberville Parish where the couple began a sugar cane plantation As their land holdings grew they amassed more enslaved laborers and improved their social prominence in Louisiana s antebellum society A staunch opponent of abolition Butler voted in favor of Louisiana s withdrawal from the Union at the state s Secession Convention But his actions proved costly when the war cut off agricultural markets and all but destroyed the state s plantation economy leaving the Butlers in financial ruin In 1870 with their plantation and finances in disarray the Butlers sold Dunboyne and resettled in Pass Christian Mississippi where they resided in a rental cottage with the financial support of Edward J Gay a wealthy Iberville planter and their daughter in law s father After Frances died in 1875 Edward Butler moved in with his son s family in St Louis where he remained until his death in 1888 Based on voluminous primary source material The Butlers of Iberville Parish Louisiana offers an intimate picture of a wealthy nineteenth century family and the turmoil they faced as a system based on the enslavement of others unraveled

Haunted History of Louisiana Plantations, A Cheryl H. White, PhD, and W. Ryan Smith, MA, 2017 Louisiana plantations evoke images of grandeur and elegance Beyond the facade of stately homes are stories of hope and subjugation tragedy and suffering shame and perseverance and war and conquest After sixteen workers axed most of the Houmas House s ancient oak trees referred to as the Gentlemen eight of the surviving trees eerily twisted overnight in grief over the losses wrought by a great Mississippi River flood An illegal duel to reclaim lost honor left the grounds of Natchez s Cherokee Plantation bloodstained but the victim s spirit may still wander there today A mutilated slave girl named Chloe still haunts the halls of the Myrtles Plantation in St Francisville Cheryl H White and W Ryan Smith reveal the dark history folklore and lasting human cost of Louisiana plantation life

Marie Adrien Persac Marie Adrien Persac, H. Parrott Bacot, 2000 Marie Adrien Persac 1823 1873 was a French born Louisiana artist who worked in a range of mediums to produce a unique view of the lower

Mississippi Valley at midcentury In the first catalogued exhibition devoted solely to this multifaceted but overlooked talent paintings drawings maps and photographs from numerous holdings have been brought together to present fresh insights and reevaluate this artist s place in the annals of American history and material culture Due in part to his broad talents artist cartographer architect civil engineer photographer and art teacher Persac s work is of major importance to Southern history researchers and art historians His paintings of south Louisiana plantation houses have captured that now varnished lifestyle in minute detail approximating the exactitude of architectural drafting Today this series is invaluable to scholars of the period as is Persac s painting of a steamboat interior the only one known to exist and another French Opera House which burned to the ground in 1919

In the Shadows of the Big House Stephen Small,2023-06-23 In the midst of calls for the removal of Confederate monuments across the South tens of thousands of museums buildings and other historical sites currently comprise a tourist infrastructure of the southern heritage industry Louisiana one of the most prominent and frequently visited states that benefit from this tourism has more than sixty heritage sites housed in former slave plantations These sites contain the remains restorations reconstructions and replicas of antebellum slave cabins and slave quarters In the Shadows of the Big House Twenty First Century Antebellum Slave Cabins and Heritage Tourism in Louisiana is the first book to tackle the role treatment and representation of slave cabins at plantation museum sites in contemporary heritage tourism In this volume author Stephen Small describes and analyzes sixteen twenty first century antebellum slave cabins currently located on three plantation museum sites in Natchitoches Louisiana Oakland Plantation Magnolia Plantation Complex and Melrose Plantation Small traces the historical trajectory of plantations and slave cabins since the Civil War and explores what representations of slavery and slave cabins in these sites convey about the reconfiguration of the past and the rearticulation of history in the present Considering such themes as the role of white ethnic identity in representations of elite whites and the extent and significance of Black voices and Black visions of representations of these plantations Small asks what these sites reveal about social forgetting and social remembering throughout Louisiana and the South He further explores the ways that gender structures the social organization of current sites and the role and influence of the state in the social organization and representations that prevail today

Sweet Spots Teresa A. Toulouse,Barbara C. Ewell,2018-05-17 Contributions by Carrie Bernhard Scott Bernhard Marilyn R Brown Richard Campanella John P Clark Joel Dinerstein Pableaux Johnson John P Klingman Angel Adams Parham Bruce Boyd Raeburn Ruth Salvaggio Christopher Schaberg Teresa A Toulouse and Beth Willinger Much has been written about New Orleans s distinctive architecture and urban fabric as well as the city s art literature and music There is however little discussion connecting these features Sweet Spots a title drawn from jazz musicians name for the space in between performers and dancers where music best resonates provides multiple connections between the city s spaces its complex culture and its future Drawing on the late Tulane architect Malcolm Heard s ideas about interstitial spaces this collection examines how a variety of literal and represented in between spaces in New Orleans have addressed race class gender community and environment As scholars of architecture art African American studies English history jazz philosophy and sociology the authors incorporate materials from architectural history and practice literary texts paintings drawings music dance and even statistical analyses Interstitial space refers not only to functional elements inside and outside of many New Orleans houses high ceilings hidden staircases galleries and courtyards but also to compelling spatial relations between the city s houses streets and neighborhoods Rich with visual materials Sweet Spots reveals the ways that diverse New Orleans spaces take on meanings and accrete stories that promote certain consequences both for those who live in them and for those who read such stories The volume evokes preserves criticizes and amends understanding of a powerful and often missed feature of New Orleans s elusive reality New Orleans and the

Design Moment Jacob Wagner, Michael Frisch, 2014-06-11 Following the disaster of Hurricane Katrina in New Orleans people began to discuss and visualize the ways in which the urban structure of the city could be reorganized Rather than defining the disaster recovery process as simply a matter of rebuilding the existing city these voices called for a more radical rethinking of the city s physical social and environmental systems This idea of disaster as an opportunity for urban restructuring is a hallmark of a design moment Design moments are different from the incremental process of urban growth and development Instead of gradual growth and change design moments present the opportunity for a significant restructuring of urban form that can shape the city for decades to come As such a design moment presents a critical juncture in the historical growth and development of a city In this book we explore the question what does urban design have to do with a disaster like Hurricane Katrina Focused on New Orleans the authors explore different dimensions of the post disaster design moment including the politics of physical redevelopment the city s history and identity justice and the image of the city demolition and housing development and the environmental aspects of the recovery process This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Design Buen Gusto and Classicism in the Visual Cultures of Latin America,

1780-1910 Paul B. Niell, Stacie G. Widdifield, 2013-12-15 The promotion of classicism in the visual arts in late eighteenth and nineteenth century Latin America and the need to revive buen gusto good taste are the themes of this collection of essays The contributors provide new insights into neoclassicism and buen gusto as cultural not just visual phenomena in the late colonial and early national periods and promote new approaches to the study of Latin American art history and visual culture The essays examine neoclassical visual culture from assorted perspectives They consider how classicism was imposed promoted adapted negotiated and contested in myriad social political economic cultural and temporal situations Case studies show such motivations as the desire to impose imperial authority to fashion the nationalist self and to form and maintain new social and cultural ideologies The adaptation of classicism and buen gusto in the Americas was further shaped by local factors including the realities of place and the influence of established visual and material traditions Educating the

Sons of Sugar R. Eric Platt, 2017-10-10 A study of Louisiana French Creole sugar planters role in higher education and a detailed history of the only college ever constructed to serve the sugar elite The education of individual planter classes cotton tobacco sugar is rarely treated in works of southern history Of the existing literature higher education is typically relegated to a footnote providing only brief glimpses into a complex instructional regime responsive to wealthy planters R Eric Platt s Educating the Sons of Sugar allows for a greater focus on the mindset of French Creole sugar planters and provides a comprehensive record and analysis of a private college supported by planter wealth Jefferson College was founded in St James Parish in 1831 surrounded by slave holding plantations and their cash crop sugar cane Creole planters regionally known as the ancienne population designed the college to impart a genteel liberal arts education through instruction architecture and geographic location Jefferson College played host to social class rivalries Creole Anglo American and French immigrant mirrored the revival of Catholicism in a region typified by secular mores was subject to the Americanization of south Louisiana higher education and reflected the ancienne population s decline as Louisiana s ruling population Resulting from loss of funds the college closed in 1848 It opened and closed three more times under varying administrations French immigrant private sugar planter and Catholic Marist before its final closure in 1927 due to educational competition curricular intransigence and the 1927 Mississippi River flood In 1931 the campus was purchased by the Society of Jesus Jesuits and reopened as a silent religious retreat It continues to function to this day as the Manresa House of Retreats While in existence Jefferson College was a social thermometer for the white French Creole sugar planter ethos that instilled the sons of sugar with a cultural heritage resonant of a region typified by the management of plantations slavery and the production of sugar
