thought provoking today as when it first revolutionized the field of literary studies A Race with Love and Death Richard Williams, 2020-03-19 A tragic age and a tragic character both seemingly compelled to destroy themselves a chilling reminder of how little control we have over our fates Damon Hill One of the greatest motor racing stories Nick Mason Timely vivid and enthralling it's unputdownable Miranda Seymour author of The Bugatti Queen Dick Seaman was the archetypal dashing motorsport hero of the 1930s the first Englishman to win a race for Mercedes Benz and the last Grand Prix driver to die at the wheel before the outbreak of the Second World War Award winning author Richard Williams reveals the remarkable but now forgotten story of a driver whose battles against the leading figures of motor racing's golden age inspired the post war generation of British champions The son of wealthy parents educated at Rugby and Cambridge Seaman grew up in a privileged world of house parties jazz and fast cars But motor racing was no mere hobby it became such an obsession that he dropped out of university to pursue his ambitions squeezing money out of his parents to buy better cars When he was offered a contract with the world beating state sponsored Mercedes team in 1937 he signed up despite the growing political tensions between Britain and Germany A year later he celebrated victory in the German Grand Prix with the beautiful 18 year old daughter of the founder of BMW Their wedding that summer would force a split with his family a costly rift that had not been closed six months later when he crashed in the rain while leading at Spa dying with his divided loyalties seemingly unresolved He was just 26 years old A Race with Love and Death is a gripping tale of speed romance and tragedy Set in an era of rising tensions where the urge to live each moment to the full never seemed more important it is a richly evocative story that grips from first to last Kipling's Myths of Love and Death Nora Crook, 1989-12-11 Hawaiian idylls of Love and Death Herbert Henry Gowen, 2020-09-28 Kaneakama was as handsome a young fellow as you could have found on the eight islands neither unknown to war nor unskilled in divination and the learning of the priests But he had one vice he was an inveterate gambler And here he sat in his grass hut on the slopes of the Olukui feeling as miserable as any wretch of to day who had squandered his patrimony at Monte Carlo for he had been playing maika the whole day long and luck had been against him at every throw The devil he thought must have been in the smooth black stones throw as he might they would not go straight Yes they were certainly bewitched And now he had nothing to call his own but one little pig everything was lost Why did he not stake the pig you ask Ah Kaneakama had asked himself that question many a time that evening but had each time repelled the very thought as a temptation For he had dedicated this pig to his Aumakua or tutelary divinity and with all his faults he was too pious to break his vows to the gods So although happy thus far in the possession of a good conscience he nursed his grief until the kind divinities sent their messenger sleep welcome to all men everywhere And as Kaneakama slept he had a wonderful vision The song of a bird broke upon his ear then the sweet sounds transformed themselves into an aura of radial light and in the light he beheld the loveliest form he had ever seen It was that of a young girl but Kaneakama's first impression was that it was some glorious bird for he wanted to get up and throw a mat across the

door lest she should fly away Her black hair fell in a great shadow behind her like a pair of wings no chief arrayed for battle had feather cloak so rich in orange and scarlet as that which clung to her perfect form from throat to shapely knee Her eyes too even in the bright aura which encircled her shone like stars in the night Kaneakama gazed he knew not how long and when he came to himself he was only conscious of having received a command from the goddess for such indeed was his adorable visitant to take his dedicated pig and stake it as he had done the rest You see the gods and goddesses of ancient Hawaii had rather backward ideas regarding the morality of gambling However Kaneakama is not to be blamed for this He did as his divinity had told him and now if the ill luck of his former experience had been surprising still more so was the turn of fortune which seemed to pour riches into his lap He went home from that day s maika playing a rich man but remembering the source of his wealth he determined to dedicate one half of it to the service of the goddess and to build a temple where she might dwell and receive his worship This he did and no sooner was the temple so far completed that it only lacked its central idol than once more the vision of the Aumakua broke in upon his sleep This time there was no doubt about the voice It was as sweet to hear as the vision was to see Go to the king O Kaneakama it said tell him that the akua wish to dwell in the temple made by man in the shadow of his court Power shall be his if he will shelter them Let him send warriors with their axes and knives to the top of Maunaloa Out of the wood let them hew me an image and this shall be my shrine in the heiau you have built and you O Kaneakama shall be my high priest worshipper and lover of Kalaipahoa terrible to mortals When Kaneakama awoke he hastened to obey the command and the king was pleased to hear of the honours in store Three hundred men were chosen and these carrying besides their weapons great folds of kapa for the venom of the poison goddess was a thing to be dreaded set out on their march Kaneakama commissioned by the king went before them as a guide to the spot designated in his sleep As they marched they recalled all they had heard of the poison goddess how she had come from an unknown land to Molokai and had made her home on Maunaloa There so it was said the earth was burnt and blackened and the birds fell dead as they flew over it It was moreover the dwelling place of Laamaomao the god of the winds and at any moment a strong spirit of the air might break loose from the calabash of the god and hurl the intruders afar into the Paiolo Channel
