Politics and the Order of Love Eric Gregory, 2008-08-15

Augustine for all of his influence on Western culture and politics was hardly a liberal Drawing from theology feminist theory and political philosophy Eric Gregory offers here a liberal ethics of citizenship one less susceptible to anti liberal critics because it is informed by the Augustinian tradition The result is a book that expands Augustinian imaginations for liberalism and liberal imaginations for Augustinianism Gregory examines a broad range of Augustine s texts and their reception in different disciplines and identifies two classical themes which have analogues in secular political theory love and related notions of care solidarity and sympathy and sin as well as related notions of cruelty evil and narrow self interest From an Augustinian point of view Gregory argues love and sin constrain each other in ways that yield a distinctive vision of the limits and possibilities of politics In providing a constructive argument for Christian participation in liberal democratic societies Gregory advances efforts to revive a political theology in which love s relation to justice is prominent Politics and the Order of Love will provoke new conversations for those interested in Christian ethics moral psychology and the role of religion in a liberal society

Love and Space in Contemporary African Diasporic Women's Writing Jennifer Leetsch, 2021-07-16 This book sets out to investigate how contemporary African diasporic women writers respond to the imbalances pressures and crises of twenty first century globalization by querying the boundaries between two separate conceptual domains love and space The study breaks new ground by systematically bringing together critical love studies with research into the cultures of migration diaspora and refuge Examining a notable tendency among current black feminist writers poets and performers to insist on the affective dimension of world making the book ponders strategies of reconfiguring postcolonial discourses Indeed the analyses of literary works and intermedia performances by Chimamanda Adichie Zadie Smith Helen Oyeyemi Shailja Patel and Warsan Shire reveal an urge of moving beyond a familiar insistence on processes of alienation or rupture and towards a new reparative emphasis on connection and intimacy to imagine possible inhabitable worlds

Literature, Mapping, and the Politics of Space in Early Modern Britain Andrew Gordon, Bernhard Klein, 2001-08-16 In this timely collection an international team of Renaissance scholars analyzes the material practice behind the concept of mapping a particular cognitive mode of gaining control over the world Ranging widely across visual and textual artifacts implicated in the culture of mapping from the literature of Shakespeare Spenser Marlowe and Jonson to representations of body city nation and empire Literature Mapping and the Politics of Space in Early Modern Britain argues for a thorough reevaluation of the impact of cartography on the shaping of social and political identities in early modern Britain

Love and the Politics of Care Stanislava Dikova, Wendy McMahon, Jordan Savage, 2022-11-03 This edited volume offers a contemporary rethinking of the relationship between love and care in the context of neoliberal practices of professionalization and work Each of the book s three sections interrogates a particular site of care where the affective political legal and economic dimensions of care intersect in challenging ways These sites are located within a variety of institutionally managed contexts such as the contemporary university the theatre hall the prison complex the family home the urban landscape and the care industry The geographical spread of the case studies stretches across India Vietnam Sweden Brazil South Africa the UK and the US and provides broad coverage that crosses the divide between the Global North and the Global South To address this transnational interdisciplinary field of study the collection utilises insights from across the humanities and social sciences and includes contributions from literature sociology cultural and media studies philosophy feminist theory theatre art history and education These inquiries build on a variety of conceptual tools and research methods from data analysis to psychoanalytic reading Love and the Politics of Care delivers an attentive and widely relevant examination of the politics of care and makes a compelling case for an urgent reconsideration of the methods that currently structure and regulate it

Global Modernities Mike Featherstone, Scott Lash, Roland Robertson, 1995-06-05 Global Modernities is a sustained commentary on the international character of the most microcosmic practices It demonstrates how the global increasingly informs the regional so deconstructing ideas like the nation state and national sovereignty The spatialization of social theory hybridization and bio politics are among the critical issues discussed

Ethics and Politics of Space for the Anthropocene Anu Valtonen, Outi Rantala, Paolo D. Farah, 2020-10-30 Featuring an international multidisciplinary set of contributors this thought provoking book reimagines established narratives of the Anthropocene to allow differences in regions and contexts to be taken seriously emphasising the importance of localised and situated knowledge It offers critical engagement with the debates around the Anthropocene by challenging the dominant techno rational agenda that often prevails in socio political and academic discussions

Adriana Cavarero Elisabetta R. Bertolino, 2017-12-04 Critical legal scholars have made us aware that law is made up not only of rules but also of language But who speaks the language of law And can one lawfully speak in one's voice For the Italian philosopher Adriana Cavarero to answer these questions we must not separate who is speaking from the very act of speaking moreover we must recuperate the material singularity and relationality of the mouth that speaks Drawing on Cavarero's work this book focuses on the potentiality of the voice for resisting law's sovereign structures For Cavarero it is the voice that expresses one's living and unrepeatable singularity in a way that cannot be subsumed by the universalities and standards of law The voice is essentially a material and singular passage of air and vibration that necessarily reveals one's uniqueness in relationality Speaking discloses this uniqueness and so one's vulnerability It therefore leads to possibilities of resistance that here bring a fresh approach to longstanding legal theoretical concerns with singularity ethics and justice

The Politics of Love Maxime Foerster, 2018-04-03 What would love be if heterosexual couples were no longer assigned gender and sexual norms Maxime Foerster examines the heterosexual trouble between men and women in nineteenth century French Romantic and Decadent literature Key works by authors ranging from George Sand to Charles Baudelaire persistently demonstrate that heterosexuality did not work these authors and many others investigated the struggle that men and women alike waged against patriarchal norms Whereas Romantic fiction dedicated itself to the reinvention of love Decadence promoted sexual and gender deviance In expertly evaluating the discord afflicting fictional heterosexual couples male and female dandies and doctors and their female patients Foerster shows the crucial role that literature played in the fashioning of alternative identities A concluding look at Proust's la recherche du temps perdu traces the legacy of heterosexual trouble in the twentieth century

Politics of Security Michael Dillon, 2002-01-31 In this critique of security studies with insights into the thinking of Heidegger Foucault Derrida Levinas and Arendt Michael Dillon contributes to the rethinking of some of the fundamentals of international politics developing what might be called a political philosophy of continental thought Drawing on the work of Martin Heidegger Politics of Security establishes the relationship between Heidegger's radical hermeneutical phenomenology and politics and the fundamental link between politics the tragic and the ethical It breaks new ground by providing an etymology of security tracing the word back to the Greek asphaleia not to trip up or fall down and a unique political reading of Oedipus Rex Michael Dillon traces the roots of desire for security to the metaphysical desire for certitude and points out that our way of seeking that security is embedded in 20th century technology thus resulting in a global crisis Politics of Security will be invaluable to both political theorists and philosophers and to anyone concerned with international relations continental philosophy or the work of Martin Heidegger

Silent Cinema and the Politics of Space Jennifer M. Bean, Anupama Kapse, Laura Horak, 2014-04-02 In this cross cultural history of narrative cinema and media from the 1910s to the 1930s leading and emergent scholars explore the transnational crossings and exchanges that occurred in early cinema between the two world wars Drawing on film archives from around the world this volume advances the premise that silent cinema freely crossed national borders and linguistic thresholds in ways that became far less possible after the emergence of sound These essays address important questions about the uneven forces geographic economic political psychological textual and experiential that underscore a non linear approach to film history The messiness of film history as demonstrated here opens a new realm of inquiry into unexpected political social and aesthetic crossings of silent cinema

Reflections on Architecture, Society and Politics Graham Cairns,2016-10-04 Reflections on Architecture Society and Politics brings together a series of thirteen interview articles by Graham Cairns in collaboration with some of the most prominent polemic thinkers and critical practitioners from the fields of architecture and the social sciences including Noam Chomsky Peggy Deamer Robert A M Stern Daniel Libeskind and Kenneth Frampton Each chapter explores the relationship between architecture and socio political issues through discussion of architectural theories and projects citing specific issues and themes that have led to and will shape the various aspects of the current and future built environment Ranging from Chomsky s examination of the US Mexico border as the architecture of oppression to Robert A M Stern s defence of projects for the Disney corporation and George W Bush this book places politics at the center of issues within contemporary architecture

The Politics of Praise William W. Young,2007 The Politics of Praise argues that the redemptive potential of naming God lies in how this event transforms friendship It breaks new ground by tracing the connections between naming God and friendship in the work of Thomas Aquinas and Jacques Derrida Advancing an innovative reading of Aquinas on the divine names the book explores how Dionysius mysticism shapes Aquinas appropriation of Aristotle s ethics then retraces how Derrida s reading of religion renders possible an alternative conception of friendship These explorations lead to a surprising convergence between Aquinas and Derrida on the conditions of friendship

Towards a Politics of Communion Anna Rowlands,2021-12-02 Anna Rowlands offers a guide to the main time periods key figures documents and themes of thinking developed as Catholic Social Teaching CST A wealth of material has been produced by the Catholic Church during its long history which considers the implications of scripture doctrine and natural law for the way these elements live together in community most particularly in the tradition of social encyclicals dating from 1891 Rowlands takes a fresh approach in weaving overviews of the central principles with the development of thinking on political community and democracy migration and integral ecology and by considering the increasingly critical questions concerning the role of CST in a pluralist and post secular context As such this book offers both an incisive overview of this distinctive body of Catholic political theology and a new and challenging contribution to the debate about the transformative potential of CST in contemporary society The Politics of Enchantment J. David Black,2006-01-01 What do raves have to do with eighteenth century Romanticism or the latest communication technologies with historical ideas about language media and culture Today s culture dazzles us with technological marvels and media spectacles While we find them entertaining just as often they are troubling they seem to contradict common sense eliciting such questions as What is real or What is reality and What is language or What does language do These questions once confined to scholars have become everyone s concern Some of the best answers might be found in an unexpected source Romanticism Too often we bring the values of the Enlightenment particularly that of reason to critique phenomena not inherently rational such as pop culture or the Internet This means that much criticism of current culture already has an intellectual foundation antagonistic to it inviting postmodern arguments that suggest history has ended and reality is an illusion In contrast Romanticism a cultural movement founded in Germany and England during the late eighteenth century offers us an archive of concepts surprisingly sensitive to these problems The Romantics were poets dreamers and politicians who advanced ideas that anticipated much contemporary thinking David Black has organized these ideas systematically and has then applied them to key issues in communications such as representation audience and the information society as well as to significant debates in cultural studies As a result The Politics of Enchantment offers a new theory of media and culture that is grounded in intellectual history yet as feverishly current as the latest digital device Politics of Language Eleni Bozia,2024-11-14 Examining the identity and belonging of native and non native speakers of Greek during the time of the High Roman Empire Eleni Bozia closely studies grammarians lexicographers and literary writers who used Attic Greek Bozia argues that transculturalism and translanguaging created a new space for both the naturalised and native citizenry In the act of imitating emulating and recreating Attic Greek speakers formed a socio politically distinct and nuanced mode of expression in the social echelons of the Roman world Additionally this is the first book to explore Greek and Latin texts from both a philological and a computational linguistics perspective The result is a consideration of how imitation and innovation affect the social positioning of native and bilingual speakers As such this combined reading of data derived from classical studies in conjunction with computational linguistics offers the context of how to serve a new interpretation of our understanding and appreciation of identity Feminist Perspectives on Public Law Susan Millns,Noel Whitty,1999-06-10 Public law scholarship in the UK is fracturing Based on the perception that feminist scholarship can provide public lawyers with the critical tools and insights this collection begins a dialogue between public law and feminism by offering a range of perspectives on contemporary public law themes and topics
