Resistance in Contemporary Middle Eastern Cultures Karima Laachir, Saeed Talajooy, 2013 This study highlights the connections between power cultural products resistance and the artistic strategies through which that resistance is voiced in the Middle East Exploring cultural displays of dissent in the form of literary works films and music the collection uses the concept of cultural resistance to describe the way culture and cultural creations are used to resist or even change the dominant political social economic and cultural discourses and structures either consciously or unconsciously The contributors do not claim that these cultural products constitute organized resistance movements but rather that they reflect instances of defiance that stem from their peculiar contexts If culture can be used to consolidate and perpetuate power relations in societies it can also be used as the site of resistance to oppression in its various forms gender class ethnicity and sexuality subverting existing dominant social and political hegemonies in the Middle East

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike, 2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse It is an anthology of historical reflections critical essays and interviews by film critics historians theorists and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms
