Islam, Women's Sexuality and Patriarchy in Indonesia Irma Riyani, 2020-11-26 This book explores the intimate marital relationships of Indonesian Muslim married women As well as describing and analysing their sexual relationships the book also investigates how Islam influences discourses of sexuality in Indonesia and in particular how Islamic teachings affect Muslim married women s perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands Based on extensive original research the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage and that there is a strong tendency with some exceptions for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband s right Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin dosa or taboo pamali Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage

Linking Destinies Peter Boomgaard, Dick Kooiman, Henk Schulte Nordholt, 2008-01-01

Trade flows cities and kinship relations can all be seen as elements of complex networks In this collection of essays all of which deal with Asia we argue that there are good reasons to envisage them as various dimensions of the same networks Nevertheless it is fairly rare to find trade cities and kinship relations as intimately linked as we have portrayed them in this volume because they are usually classified within different sub disciplines of history whose practitioners are all too often not inclined to talk to people outside their own field The Australian born historian Heather Sutherland who recently retired from the VU university in Amsterdam is an exception in this respect because most of her work gravitates towards an approach which aims to integrate this trinity of topics This collection of essays written by a number of her students and close colleagues has taken its cue from her approach It is not the case that all the contributions deal with all three topics but they as a collective demonstrate how flows of trade cities both as urban centres and nodes in wider networks and kinship relations hang together and how the study of one topic opens new vistas on the other two revealing causal links that otherwise would have remained hidden Thus the essays in this collective volume support the idea that trade towns and kin although often dealt with quite separately can be viewed as various aspects of the same networks connecting people places and commodities

Eastwards / Westwards Clara Sarmiento, 2009-03-26 Eastwards Westwards Which Direction for Gender Studies in the XXIst Century is a collection of essays which focus on themes and methods that characterize the current research on gender in Asian countries in general under a comparative approach that tries to cut across the boundaries of time and space In this collection ideas derived from Gender Studies as they are practised all over the world have been subjected to scrutiny for their utility in helping to describe and understand regional phenomena But the concepts of local and global with their discursive productions have not functioned here as a binary opposition localism and globalism are mutually constitutive and the authors have interrogated those spaces of interaction between the self and the other bearing in mind their own embeddedness in social and cultural structures and their own historical memory Eastwards Westwards Which Direction for Gender Studies in the XXIst Century provides a critical transnational perspective on some of the complex effects of the dynamics of cultural globalization by exploring the relation between gender and education politics economics anthropology linguistics historiography sociology literature and popular culture as agents of the re invention of old and new male and female identities their conversion into concepts and their circulation through time and space Gender Relations in an Indonesian Society Nurul Ilmi Idrus, 2016-04-08 Gender Relations in an Indonesian Society offers a comprehensive ethnography of Bugis marriage through an exploration of gender identity and sexuality in this bilateral highly competitive hierarchical society Nurul Ilmi Idrus considers the fundamental concept of siriq honour shame in relation to gender socialization courtship sex within marriage the regulation of sexuality between genders the importance of kinship and status in marriage and the dynamics of marriage divorce and reconciliation This analysis considers the practical combination of Islamic tenets with local adat custom customary law and the effect of contemporary Indonesia s national ideology on cultural practices specific to Bugis society Routledge Handbook of Sexuality Studies in East Asia Mark McLelland, Vera Mackie, 2014-09-15 This collection brings together cutting edge work by established and emerging scholars focusing on key societies in the East Asian region China Taiwan Hong Kong Japan North and South Korea Mongolia and Vietnam This scope enables the collection to reflect on the nature of the transformations in constructions of sexuality in highly developed developing and emerging societies and economies Both Japan and China have established traditions of sexuality studies reflecting longstanding indigenous understandings of sex as well as more recent developments which interface with Euro American medical and psychological understandings Authors reflect upon the complex colonial and economic interactions and cultural flows which have affected the East Asian region over the last two centuries They trace local flows of ideas instead of defaulting to Euro American paradigms for sexuality studies Through looking at regional and global exchanges of ideas about sexuality this volume adds considerably to our understanding of the East Asian region and contributes to wider discussions of social transformation modernisation and globalisation It will be essential reading in undergraduate and graduate programs in sexuality studies gender studies women s studies and masculinity studies as well as in anthropology sociology history cultural studies area studies and health sciences Democratising Indonesia Mikaela Nyman, 2006 The fall of Suharto has drawn much media and academic attention but the focus has been on the elite perspective the role of the regime and military and little has been published on civil society Gender issues are also often by passed Indonesia is at a crossroads and the greater involvement of civil society is being seriously considered for the first time by government representatives and demanded by civil society actors political think tanks and social commentators This study which covers the lead up to and ousting of Suharto up until the 2004 democratic elections analyses the role of civil society in Indonesia s transition towards democracy by applying social movement theory and the framework of political opportunities It shows the importance of social movements as civil society's primary catalysts for change and the need for a strong civil society to take over where the social movements left off in order to consolidate attitudinal changes in the political economic and social spheres. The actions and limitations of various parts of the Indonesian pro democracy movement are discussed providing case studies of three groups of actors: the student movement, the women's movement and the labour movement focusing on times when they have joined forces to form social movements. The shortcomings and successes of the pro democracy movement are discussed as are the prospects for civil society in the future.

Linguistics, Literature and Culture Shakila Abdul Manan, Hajar Abdul Rahim, 2012-12-05. This book documents the changing realities in the fields of linguistics, literature and culture in Asia resulting from globalization, modernisation and rapid technological development. It consists of sixteen essays by academics and researchers around the world reflecting on the interface between the global and the local and its impact on the local and regional languages, literatures and cultures of Asia. This scenario which exemplifies language contact in action is captured by the book mainly to demonstrate that linguistic negotiations, appropriations and indeed changes are not one way. As such, their implications on language use, language choice, language policy and planning, literacy and pedagogy, identity, subjectivity and culture need to be closely examined. The uniqueness of this book lies in its attempt to showcase original research in a variety of multicultural settings. Its multi and cross disciplinary approach will appeal to a wide spectrum of readers from diverse backgrounds. This book will serve as a useful reference that is both scholarly and informative for researchers as well as academics in the fields of linguistics, literature and culture.

Adolescents in Contemporary Indonesia Lyn Parker, Pam Nilan, 2013-07-18. The youth demographic is a large and growing cohort in Indonesia and adolescents embody the currents of social change. Throughout the twentieth century they were significant agents of social protest leading to social and political transformation. This book looks at the importance of adolescents in contemporary Indonesia and how they are spearheading not just globalisation and a growing consumer youth culture but also the Islamisation movement. The book explores both the inner worlds and social selves of Indonesian adolescents. It presents an in depth knowledge of Indonesian society and culture in various parts of Indonesia and discusses national patterns and trends. Grounded in two field sites, the book enables an analysis of young people's local ethnic and religious identities and their commitment to the Indonesian nation state. It goes on to look at the physical age bracket of youth, the definitions used by the Indonesian state and other agencies and the perceptions of youth themselves about adolescence and adulthood. Providing a comprehensive study of young people in contemporary Indonesia, the book addresses gender relations, the importance of education for youth and youth engagement with popular culture and the moral issue concerning the sexual propriety of young people. It is a useful contribution for students and academics of Asian Studies Sociology and Cultural Studies The Asian Mystique Sheridan Prasso, 2009-04-29 Few Westerners escape the images expectations and misperceptions that lead us to see Asia as exotic sensual decadent dangerous and mysterious Despite and because of centuries of East West interaction the stereotypes of Western literature stage and screen remain pervasive icons the tea pouring submissive sexually available geisha girl the steely cold dragon lady dominatrix as well as the portrayal of the Asian male as effeminate and asexual These Oriental illusions color our relations and relationships in ways even well respected professional Asia hands and scholars don't necessarily see The Asian Mystique lays out a provocative challenge to see Asia and Asians as they really are with unclouded deeroticized eyes It traces the origins of Western stereotypes in history and in Hollywood examines the phenomenon of yellow fever then goes on a reality tour of Asia's go go bars middle class homes college campuses business districts and corridors of power providing intimate profiles of women's lives and vivid portraits of the human side of an Asia we usually mythologize too well to really understand It strips away our misconceptions and stereotypes revealing instead the fully dimensional human beings beyond our usual perceptions The Asian Mystique is required reading for anyone with interest in or interaction with Asia or Asian origin people as well as any serious student or practitioner of East West relations
