Luo Kenya Uganda:

The Luo People in South Sudan Kon K. Madut, 2020-08-13 This work draws from several interpretations and perceptions of Luo ethnic groups regarding their kinships lineages and the geocultural claims pertaining to their identity and sociocultural interactions among social groups and communities It builds on the current literature and oral history to methodologically reaffirm kinships and establish ethnic lineages Most contemporary Luo narratives come from Kenya and Uganda in addition to those written by Western anthropologists and missionaries None of these narratives have changed the content of the oral stories told by Luo groups and subgroups in Africa especially those related to their lineages ethnic affiliations and their path of immigration from South Sudan to Tanzania but have instead confirmed the history stories and mythology of the greater Luo groups in Africa This book will serve to evoke intellectual curiosity among African social scientists prompting them to conduct more research to further understanding of Luo ethnic groups ways of life and social interactions as well as their contributions to the sociopolitical and economic development in the countries and regions they inhabit

Neighbours and Nationals in an African City Ward David Parkin, 2024-03-29 This study analyses the way in which tribal ties are maintained in the development of a tribally mixed middle class community in Kampala Uganda Political independence in the early nineteen sixties in much of Africa created expectations of increased development education and living standards There was hope that ethnic tensions arising from false colonial boundaries might be transcended by newly emerging socio economic status groups. However the new national boundaries suddenly made aliens of peoples who had migrated and settled in towns distant from their home countries. The interplay of nationality ethnicity and socio economic status or class was given a new theatre. Hope was dramatically tempered by nationalist and ethnic conflicts which cut across ethnically mixed small status groups of neighbours and friends. In Kampala Uganda this rapidly unfolding drama resulted in the expulsion of two Kenyan ethnic groups and polarised peoples from northern and southern Uganda. The essentialisation of ethnic and national identity imposed by colonialism was thus taken on in this new situation by the people themselves with the result that they became cultural starting points of social and political judgement. The Meroitic Language and Writing System Claude Rilly, Alex de Voogt, 2012-08-27 This book provides an introduction to the Meroitic language and writing system which was used between circa 300 BC and 400 AD in the kingdom of Meroe located in what is now Sudan and Egyptian Nubia. This book details advances in the understanding of Meroitic a language that until recently was considered untranslatable. In addition to providing a full history of the script and an analysis of the phonology grammar and linguistic affiliation of the language it features linguistic analyses for those working on Nilo Saharan comparative linguistics paleographic tables useful to archeologists for dating purposes and an overview of texts that can be translated or understood by way of analogy for those working on Nubian religion history and archaeology Faith in Schools Amy Stambach, 2009-12-07 American Evangelicals have long considered Africa a welcoming place for joining faith with social action but their work overseas is often ambivalently received Even among East African Christians who share missionaries religious beliefs understandings vary over the promises and pitfalls of American Evangelical involvement in public life and schools In this first hand account Amy Stambach examines missionary involvement in East Africa from the perspectives of both Americans and East Africans While Evangelicals frame their work in terms of spreading Christianity critics see it as destroying traditional culture Challenging assumptions on both sides this work reveals a complex and ever evolving exchange between Christian college campuses in the U S where missionaries train and schools in Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Providing real insight into the lives of school children in East Africa this book charts a new course for understanding the goals on both sides and the global connections forged in the name of faith A History of African Societies to 1870 Elizabeth Isichei, 1997-04-13 This comprehensive and detailed exploration of the African past from prehistory to approximately 1870 is intended to provide a fully up to date complement to the Cambridge History of Africa Reflecting several emphases in recent scholarship it focusses on the changing modes of production on gender relations and on ecology laying particular stress on viewing history from below A distinctive theme is to be found in its analyses of cognitive history The work falls into three sections The first comprises a historiographic analysis and covers the period from the dawn of prehistory to the end of the Early Iron Age The second and third sections are for the most part organised on regional lines the second section ends in the sixteenth century the third carries the story on to 1870 A second volume now in preparation will cover the period from 1870 to 1995 This book attempts a more rounded view of African history than most of the other textbooks on the subject addressed to a largely undergraduate level student Earlier histories have tended to ignore some of the current foci in the scholarly literature on Africa generally not reflected in the textbooks these include discussions of topical issues like ecology and gender Isichei s book is also more radical Resilience in South Sudanese Women Godriver Wanga-Odhiambo, 2013-12-18 Resilience in South Sudanese Women describes the historical injustices in Southern Sudan that led to the outbreak of civil wars These injustices included socio economic and political marginalization that denied the women basic needs It gives firsthand life experiences of the Sudanese women during the protracted civil wars in their country It narrates the horrors of the gruesome journeys that they took as they fled war zone burying their kids on unmarked graves and moving on It shows how they dealt with homelessness in host countries through various coping strategies and their eventual resettlement in USA where again they experienced cultural collisions However their determination innovation and resilience always helped them to overcome the struggles Ritual Andrew Strathern, 2017-05-15 This volume consists of a number of carefully selected readings that represent a wide range of discussions and theorizing about ritual The selection encompasses definitional questions issues of interpretation meaning and function and a roster of ethnographic and analytical topics covering classic themes such as ancestor worship and sacrifice initiation gender healing social change and shamanic practices as well as recent critical and reconstructive theorizing on embodiment performance and performativity In their Introduction to the volume the Editors provide an overall survey and critical consideration of topics incorporating insights from their own long term field research and reflections on the readings included The Introduction and readings together provide a unique research tool for those interested in pursuing the study of ritual processes in depth with the benefit of both historical and contemporary approaches Siaya David William Cohen, E. S. Atieno Odhiambo, 1989 One Thousand Languages Peter Austin, 2008 Presents an overview of the living endangered and extinct languages of the world providing the total number of speakers of the language its history and maps of the geographic areas where it is presently spoken or where it was spoken in the past Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard), 1995-04-04 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya Obama Senior Fredrick Donde, 2015-08-06 On January 20 2009 Barack Hussein Obama made history as the first African American president of the United States of America since its founding in 1776 Around the world people celebrated his election as if he were one of their own and held exceedingly high expectations of his presidency When as senator of Illinois he visited his fathers village in Nyangoma Kogelo in Kenya he was struck by the ecstatic reception that the people accorded him He was deeply touched by the abject poverty and fullness of spirit of the people The level of need and the challenges that he witnessed in the poor neighbourhoods of Chicago in the US in Indonesia and Kenya may have significantly contributed to his spirited drive to the White House In this book the author re traces the life of Barack Obama Senior and how his character vision and intellect influenced his sons drive to the most powerful office in the land In so doing the author revisits the events in pre and post colonial Kenya and how these too had a bearing on the life of Obama Senior The book also relates the history of his people the Luo from their original settlements along the Nile in Egypt and the Sudan to their present homelands in East Africa and the Great Lakes region It details the often tragic and ultimately triumphant struggle of a people in pursuit of a just peaceful and progressive society How to live and survive in Zambezian open forest (Miombo ecoregion) Françoise Malaisse, 2010 In the Miombo ecoregion 2 865 000 km or 9 1% of Africa the Zambezian open forest constitutes the main vegetation unit It extends to no less than eight countries from Burundi in the North to South Africa in the South and from Angola in the West to Mozambique in the East The austral part of Africa s open forests falls within the Zambezian Regional Center of Endemism outlined by White in 1983 This book focuses mainly on the wetter Zambezian Miombo woodlands Also patches of mosaic Zambezian dry evergreen forests and small areas of grasslands on Kalahari sands are incorporated in the study The aim of this book is to gather together the amazing local environment knowledge of Zambezian open forests peoples in order to permit an easier improvement of their well being This research has been developed in an ethnoecological way of thinking Indeed the synergy arising from putting together local knowledge and updated ecological research provides huge information on ecosystem management including biodiversity aspects Ethnoecology is an emergent field that focuses on local peoples perception and management of complex and co evolved relationships between the cultural ecological and economic components of anthropogenic and natural ecosystems In the present book the Zambezian wild edible products are treated according to fourteen items from fungi plants and honey to beverages and salt through mammals birds fish insects and other animals Some other comments concern agriculture and ethnoecology All together more than a thousand edible products are involved their ecology their phenology as well as their nutritional values are presented and discussed The iconography is supported by a CD with 387 color photographs The earlier French version of 1997 has been reviewed and enlarged taking into account recent progress of knowledge An important bibliography is presented
