Luray and Page County Revisited Dan Vaughn, 2008 Luray Caverns discovered in the quiet valley community of Luray in 1878 became the main attraction in Page County In hopes of capitalizing on this new found Wonder of the World executives of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad completed the rail from Hagerstown and Basic City to Luray by 1881 Mann Almond drove the final ceremonial spike just north of Deford s Tannery in Luray With the arrival of the railroad came a new economy supported by passengers excursionists lodging and freight transport The bulk of these transports were Eureka Mining Company s mineral extractions and Shenandoah s Big Gem iron bloom shipments Luray s own Mercantile Mile leading to the caverns was laden with storehouses offering goods found in larger cities and the rail brought visitors in droves The photographers who produced the images contained here did so only as a means of income but today their work is our visual link to the past

Luray and Page County Dan Vaughn, 2005 Formed out of necessity in 1831 Page County had a great need to operate within its own boundaries of the Massanutten and Blue Ridge Mountains A very unique situation arose when this rural area was coupled with the discovery in 1878 of something as spectacular as the Luray Caverns Along with this new fame followed a large influx of tourists industry and varied commerce into the entire county from the lifeline created by the formation of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad in 1881 During the reconstruction years after the Civil War and with the formation of land and improvement companies throughout the United States Page County along with the rest of the country was booming In fact this unbridled growth was happening much too fast for this newly reformed country This in turn brought about a severe recession in the 1890s that affected everyone including the people of Page no matter how secure they may have seemed with their new attraction The culmination of these events initiated a quaint photographic history that is contained within the pages of Images of America Luray and Page County

"Answer at Once" Katrina M. Powell, 2009-10-09 With the Commonwealth of Virginia's Public Park Condemnation Act of 1928 the state surveyed for and acquired three thousand tracts of land that would become Shenandoah National Park The Commonwealth condemned the homes of five hundred families so that their land could be donated to the federal government and placed under the auspices of the National Park Service Prompted by the condemnation of their land the residents began writing letters to National Park and other government officials to negotiate their rights and to request various services property and harvests Typically represented in the popular media as lawless illiterate and incompetent these mountaineers prove themselves otherwise in this poignant collection of letters The history told by the residents themselves both adds to and counters the story that is generally accepted about them These letters are housed in the Shenandoah National Park archives in Luray Virginia which was opened briefly to the public from 2000 to 2002 but then closed due to lack of funding This selection of roughly 150 of these letters in their entirety makes these documents available again not only to the public but also to scholars researchers and others interested in the region's history in the politics of the park and in the genealogy of the families Supplementing the letters are introductory text photographs annotation and oral histories that further document the lives of these individuals
