

A photograph of a woman with short brown hair, wearing a light-colored short-sleeved shirt, sitting at a workbench in a factory. She is holding a small, light-colored rectangular object in her right hand. On the workbench in front of her is a box labeled "100% COTTON" and "TETLEY". To the left of the box is a small, dark, rectangular object. The background shows a large industrial machine with various components and pipes, illuminated by overhead lights.

Lycoming Countys Industrial Heritage:

Lycoming County's Industrial Heritage Robin Van Auken, Louis E. Hunsinger Jr, 2005 Lycoming County has a rich industrial history first in lumber and then in manufacturing Thousands were employed as lumberjacks and others worked in sawmills planing mills or furniture factories that processed the lumber Until 1894 lumber was the county s main industry Inevitably the mountainsides were denuded and floods toppled the remaining lumbering companies The heyday over many company towns collapsed Boards of trade were created to entice manufacturers to the region During the first half of the twentieth century Lycoming once again prospered with hundreds of new entrepreneurs and companies Lycoming County s Industrial Heritage documents the people who worked in the factories mills and for the manufacturers that no longer exist victims of recession urban sprawl and offshore industries Each image honors the role of labor and serves as a reminder of the individuals who helped build industrial America Pennsylvania in Public Memory Carolyn Kitch, 2012-01-01 Looks at sites and events in Pennsylvania to explore the emergence of heritage culture about industry and its loss in America Traces the shaping of public memory of coal steel railroading lumber oil and agriculture and the story it tells about both local and national identity Provided by publisher Industrial History of the United States Albert Sidney Bolles, 1878 Industrial History of the U.S. from the Earliest Settlements to the Present Time Albert Sidney Bolles, 1878 Industrial History of the United States, from the Earliest Settlements to the Present Time Albert Sidney Bolles, 1879 Atlas of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania Beach Nichols, 1873 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1989

The Need for Humility in Policymaking Stefanie Haeffele,Anne Hobson,2019-08-22 Regulations impact a wide array of market and social activities that influence our daily lives Regulations are attempts to correct perceived market failures caused by information asymmetries externalities and principal agent problems and to provide public goods which would otherwise be underprovided Government actors are responsible for identifying these issues weighing the costs and benefits of intervention and designing and implementing regulations to improve society Good regulations help mitigate issues in the economy without inciting new problems and without the costs exceeding the benefits of intervention This requires intensive analysis and an awareness of the complexities of social life Our society is complex and dynamic where people face knowledge and incentive problems whether in the market politics or civil society By examining this complex reality we can better understand why regulations arise and persist and the challenges of reform We argue that this approach to policymaking and policy analysis requires humility an acknowledgment of the challenges we face when intervening in our society This volume intends to cultivate an appreciation for the complexity of human decision making and the incentives that drive human behavior By examining specific policy changes it will delve into the effects of and lessons learned from regulations in financial markets computer and internet governance and health care innovation and delivery This volume will be of interest to students scholars and policymakers who seek to understand the complexities of regulation in a dynamic social world
