exploring why charter schools are reshaping America's education system and democracy for the worse Drawing on interviews with elected officials policy entrepreneurs parents and activists in Albany NY Straus argues that charter schools are a poor alternative to failing public schools ultimately worsening racial segregation under the guise of providing underprivileged students with access to better education Taking a wide ranging view the author explores why parents elected officials and community activists may or may not choose to leave the public education system by enrolling their children in charter schools Straus finds that when families of color leave public schools in favor of charter schools this removes their democratic voice and participation diminishing their political power in a high stakes area of public policy Divided by Choice highlights the fundamental flaws of one solution to public education inequalities at a time when racial tensions are at an all time high      Mayor Erastus Corning Paul Grondahl, 2007-09-07 Grondahl's classic biography of Albany's mayor for life now available in paperback      The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, 1978      People & Politics in Urban America Robert W.
