Manual On Terminology And Classification In Mental Retardation:

Manual on Terminology and Classification in Mental Retardation Herbert J. Grossman, 1973 A Manual on Terminology and Classification in Mental Retardation Rick F. Heber, 1961 What is Mental Retardation? Harvey N. Switzky, Stephen Greenspan, 2006

What is Mental Retardation is a rare peek into the divergent and at times contentious points of view among the world's leading researchers on what the condition of mental retardation is and how it should be defined, measured and implemented in the 21st century. This candid and insightful collection of 21 essays features expert opinion on issues ranging from whether mental retardation really is a slowing of mental development and what the disability should be called to how cultural norms affect the definition of the condition worldwide and lessons learned from the Atkins v Virginia case. The definitions of mental retardation published from 1921-2002 by the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities provide the backdrop for this powerful discussion.

Schwane, 2013-04-25 This handbook surveys clinical and educational considerations related to the foundations models special topics and practice of psychological assessment Advances in Clinical Neuropsychology Ralph Tarter, 2012-12-06 This second volume of the series Advances in Clinical Neuro psychology addresses the neurological and neuropsychological disorders that are seen most frequently in children. The book begins with a discussion of normal and abnormal brain development. From there, neurological and neuropsychological assessment methods are described and evaluated. The main body of the text is concerned with reviewing the major childhood disorders and includes discussions of brain trauma, dyslexia, minimal brain dysfunction, mental retardation, and epilepsy. These latter conditions adversely impact on psychosocial development and limit educational attainment. Approaching these disorders from a neurobehavioral perspective therefore potentially has ramifications for improving detection and assessment procedures as well as for developing new intervention strategies. This book continues the tradition of the first volume in that the contents include topics that address basic research as well as clinical problems. It is hoped that this combination will encourage the professional to integrate research and clinical application in guiding their investigative activities or clinical endeavors.

Adaptive Behavior Strategies for Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Russell Lang, Peter Sturmey, 2021-04-29. This book examines strategies for teaching adaptive behavior across the lifespan to individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities who regularly experience difficulty learning the skills necessary for daily living. It details evidence-based practices for functional life skills ranging from teaching such basic hygiene as bathing, brushing teeth, and dressing to more complex skills including driving. In addition, the volume describes interventions relating to recreation, play, and leisure as well as those paramount for maintaining independence and safety in community settings, e.g., abduction prevention skills for children. The book details existing evidence-based practices as well as how to perform the interventions. Key areas of coverage include: Basic hygiene as bathing, brushing teeth, and dressing; Advanced complex skills including driving, recreation, play, and leisure; Skills to maintain independence and safety in community settings including abduction prevention skills for children; Teaching new technology skills such as using mobile telephones and apps as well as surfing the web; Training caregivers to promote and support adaptive behavior; Use of evidence-based practices for teaching and supporting adaptive behavior for individuals with intellectual disabilities and autism. Adaptive Behavior Strategies for Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities is an essential reference for researchers, professors, and graduate students as well as clinicians, therapists, and other scientist-practitioners in developmental psychology, behavioral therapy, rehabilitation, social work, clinical child and school psychology, child and adolescent psychiatry, pediatrics, and special education.
