Milan on the Road City Matteo Moscatelli, 2018-08-20 A contemporary guide to the architecture of Milan the purpose of which is to tell about the city through its architectural works The book's jacket opens out into a map marking the locations of the architectural works and interesting sites to visit Includes general information about Milan and useful tips for travelers Each entry includes a photo of the whole building architectural drawings a short description and facts including architect year of construction address website and how to visit In recent years Milan has become a metropolis involved in transformations that are well worthy of interest for the architectural and urbanistic experiments that have been carried out The complex dialectics between innovation and respect for the existing urban form is the distinctive characteristic of the city recovery of downgraded neighbourhoods redevelopment of decommissioned industrial zones technological experimentation and vertical development are the aspects that mark Milan as a strongly contemporary city This guide is being launched in answer to a moment of great focus on Milan As it guides the reader through the wide range of contemporary architectural projects it emphasizes the unique nature of its complex character The transformations are still underway and for this reason it is difficult to foresee how a city of such size will manage to redefine its personal equilibrium but this too is part of the contemporary nature of Milan Milan, 1998 Architectural Guide Milan Carlo Berizzi, 2015 From the 1920s onwards

Milan has become a laboratory of architecture due to architects such as Giuseppe Terragni Gio Ponti and Giuseppe Pagano. Magazines such as Domus and Casabella were founded in the 1920s which influenced international debate throughout the 20th century. A new trend arose following the reconstruction of the city due to damages incurred during World War II; the city is now able to combine modernity with its existing context through the works of BBPR, Luigi Caccia Dominioni, Ignazio Gardella and Franco Albini. These architects introduced the renowned design which is nowadays identified with Milan. In the last decade, an outstanding urban development took place owing to areas which feature the work of internationally renowned architects including David Chipperfield, Zaha Hadid and Daniel Libeskind, as well as Italian architects such as Cino Zucchi and Stefano Boeri. Owing to its ambitious projects, Milan has transformed from an industrial city to a global capital of culture, fashion and leisure. This guide proposes thematic itineraries for discovering one of the most architecturally exciting European cities.
