Militarism For America:

The New American Militarism Andrew J. Bacevich, 2005-04-01 In this provocative book Andrew Bacevich warns of a dangerous dual obsession that has taken hold of Americans conservatives and liberals alike It is a marriage of militarism and utopian ideology of unprecedented military might wed to a blind faith in the universality of American values This mindset the author warns invites endless war and the ever deepening militarization of U S policy It promises not to perfect but to pervert American ideals and to accelerate the hollowing out of American democracy As it alienates others it will leave the United States increasingly isolated It will end in bankruptcy moral as well as economic and in abject failure With The New American Militarism which has been updated with a new Afterword Bacevich examines the origins and implications of this misguided enterprise He shows how American militarism emerged as a reaction to the Vietnam War Various groups in American society soldiers politicians on the make intellectuals strategists Christian evangelicals even purveyors of pop culture came to see the revival of military power and the celebration of military values as the antidote to all the ills besetting the country as a consequence of Vietnam and the 1960s The upshot acutely evident in the aftermath of 9 11 has been a revival of vast ambitions and certainty this time married to a pronounced affinity for the sword Bacevich urges us to restore a sense of realism and a sense of proportion to U S policy He proposes in short to bring American purposes and American methods especially with regard to the role of the military back into harmony with the nation s founding ideals

Preparing A Great Machine Roger Possner, 2022-08-19 Preparing a Great Machine opens with the dramatic events leading up to America s entry into World War I The American Union Against Militarism led the fight against preparing to fight in Europe and continued to oppose large military forces after the war In 1922 a naval treaty limited great power naval forces much to the chagrin of the admirals Anti militarists opposed an expanded army throughout the 1920 s Supporters of the military were cheered by the Mobilization Day event in 1924 in which 13 million men participated Opponents of military expansion were not daunted however and their opposition continued Many people in the past believed that the United States was always unprepared for military action until it was attacked Preparing a Great Machine shows that this not quite the way it was

America's Strategy in Southeast Asia James A. Tyner,2006-12-21 Geography encompasses everything from the local where human beings live work and travel to metageographies like nations and regions James A Tyner s inventive and multidisciplinary ideas on geography similarly range from the personal his father s experience in the military during the Vietnam War to a broad discussion of how the United States has come to exercise power through the production of geographic knowledge in this case in Southeast Asia Since the end of the Second World War Southeast Asia has served as a surrogate space to further American imperial interests which are economic political territorial and moral in scope America s Strategy in Southeast Asia contends that the construction of Southeast Asia as a geographic entity has been a crucial component in the creation of the American empire For example America s most blatant experience of colonial rule occurred the Philippines America s longest war was fought in Vietnam and most recently some American policymakers have identified Southeast Asia as the Second Front in the War on Terror Yet America s overriding strategy in Southeast Asia and the region itself remains something of a mystery for the American populace a black box in America s geographical imagination This clear and innovative book educates readers about Southeast Asia's importance in American foreign policy At War David Kieran, Edwin A. James A. Donovan, 1970 This powerful description of America's aggressive posture is a timely expansion of the now famous article The New Militarism written by General Shoup and Colonel Donovan for The Atlantic Monthly It traces our increasing reliance on the defense establishment and the military way of solving problems from our experience in World War II the first time the country had been totally involved in modern technological war to the present national dissension over our involvement in Asia Publisher Sentinels of Empire Jan K. Black, 1986-03-26 This hard hitting critique of US policy toward Latin America includes a historical sketch of US relations with individual countries Black argues persuasively that the US has been the major opponent of needed reforms in Latin American countries and the major proponent of predatory military establishments The unwavering US goal she believes has been preservation of the established US empire in Latin America but she cites differing strategies to attain this goal used by conservatives President Reagan and liberals President Carter She sees a weakening of US hegemony however as pressures for reform become irresistible This book should be read by all who view US policy toward Latin America as benevolent Choice America's Relation to the World Conflict and to the Coming Peace American Academy of Political and Social Science, 1917 Sun Yat Sen and the Chinese Republic Paul Myron Linebarger, 1925 Trump and Trumpism Andrew Kolin, 2023-12-08 Andrew Kolin focuses on the destructive politics of Trump and Trumpism expressed as extreme forms of hate and violence explaining how these destructive politics are actually rooted in various institutions Trump and Trumpism amplify this institutional and ideological expression of destructive politics that is intended to cause harm to various social segments The social base of this brand of destructive politics is supported by parts of the middle and upper classes Trump and Trumpism examines how destructive politics tends toward fascism Special Warfare, 2006 The Modern Soldier Can Not be Made in a Day Henry Breckinridge, 1914
