Marx and Lenin in Africa and Asia Harry Verhoeven,2021-11-29 The spectres of Marx and Lenin have long loomed prominently in Africa and Asia and they still do so in the 21st century Many of the founding fathers of postcolonial republics believed socialism could transform their societies Yet what socialism meant in theory and in practice has always been highly heterogeneous and differed markedly from the European experience African and Asian movements did not simply mimic the ideas and institutions of Soviet or European Marxists but endeavoured to define their own experimenting with a variety of interpretations and in the process adapting doctrines and templates to their unique contexts This volume brings together anthropologists historians and political scientists from around the world to reflect on three great challenges which various types of socialists in Africa and Asia have had to simultaneously contend with in their articulations of liberation how to build up empirical and juridical statehood how to forge a nation after colonial divide and rule and how to position themselves in an international order not of their making In a post colonial world this helps centre a key question running through the different chapters what can African and Asian imaginaries institutions and practices tell us about socialism as a global phenomenon The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Politics in Francophone Africa Victor T. Le Vine, 2004 Explores the elements that have shaped the particular political dynamics of the 14 former French colonies in west and equatorial Africa while allowing them to remain part of a unique francophone sociopolitical community

Politics and Violence in Eastern Africa David M. Anderson, Øystein H. Rolandsen, 2017-10-02 Over the fifty years between 1940 and 1990 the countries of eastern Africa were embroiled in a range of debilitating and destructive conflicts starting with the wars of independence but then incorporating rebellion secession and local insurrection as the Cold War replaced colonialism The articles gathered here illustrate how significant widespread and dramatic this violence was In these years violence was used as a principal instrument in the creation and consolidation of the authority of the state and it was also regularly and readily utilised by those who wished to challenge state authority through insurrection and secession Why was it that eastern Africa should have experienced such extensive and intensive violence in the fifty years before 1990 Was this resort to violence a consequence of imperial rule the legacy of oppressive colonial domination under a coercive and non representative state system Did essential contingencies such as the Cold War provoke and promote the use of violence Or was it a choice made by Africans themselves and their leaders a product of their own agency This book focuses on these turbulent decades exploring the principal conflicts in six key countries Kenya Uganda Sudan Ethiopia Somalia and Tanzania This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Eastern African Studies

Limits of Soviet Power Edward A. Kolodziej, Roger E. Kanet, 2015-12-25 An evaluation of Soviet efforts to penetrate the major regions in the southern hemisphere concluding that success has been modest and continues to be costly It is suggested that a world society could emerge based on socio economic and political competition rather than conflict and arms races

The Postcolonial State in Africa Crawford Young, 2012-11-20 A highly readable sweeping and yet detailed analysis of the African state in all its failures and moments of hope Crawford Young manages to touch upon all the important issues in the discipline and crucial developments in the recent history of the African continent This book will be a classic Pierre Englebert author of Africa Unity Sovereignty and Sorrow
