A History of Literature in the Caribbean: Cross-cultural studies Albert James Arnold, Julio Rodríguez-Luis, J. Michael Dash, 1994. Cross Cultural Studies is the culminating effort of a distinguished team of international scholars who have worked since the mid 1980s to create the most complete analysis of Caribbean literature ever undertaken. Conceived as a major contribution to postcolonial studies, cultural studies, cultural anthropology and regional studies of the Caribbean and the Americas, Cross Cultural Studies illuminates the interrelations between and among Europe, the Caribbean islands, Africa and the American continents from the late fifteenth century to the present. Scholars from five continents bring to bear on the most salient issues of Caribbean literature: theoretical and critical positions that are currently in the forefront of discussion in literature, the arts and public policy. Among the major issues treated at length in Cross Cultural Studies are: The history and construction of racial inequality in Caribbean colonization; The origins and formation of literatures in various Creoles; The gendered literary representation of the Caribbean region; The political and ideological appropriation of Caribbean history in creating the idea of national culture in North and South America; Europe and Africa; The role of the Caribbean in contemporary theories of Modernism and the Postmodern; The decentering of such canonical authors as Shakespeare; The vexed but inevitable connectedness of Caribbean literature with both its former colonial metropolises and its geographical neighbors. Contributions to Cross Cultural Studies give a concrete cultural and historical analysis of such contemporary critical terms as hybridity, transculturation and the carnivalesque, which have so often been taken out of context and employed in narrowly ideological contexts. Two important theories of the simultaneous unity and diversity of Caribbean literature and culture propounded by Antonio Benítez Rojo and Édouard Glissant receive extended treatment that places them strategically in the debate over multiculturalism in postcolonial societies and in the context of chaos theory. A contribution by Benítez Rojo permits the reader to test the theory through his critical practice. Divided into nine thematic and methodological sections followed by a complete index to the names and dates of authors and significant historical figures discussed, Cross Cultural Studies will be an indispensable resource for every library and a necessary handbook for scholars, teachers and advanced students of the Caribbean region.

Border Crossings Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2016-09-14. For decades Translation Studies has been perceived not merely as a discipline but rather as an interdisciplinary, a transdisciplinary field operating across a number of boundaries. This has implied and still implies a considerable amount of interaction with other disciplines. There is often much more awareness of and attention to translation and Translation Studies than many translation scholars are aware of. This volume crosses the boundaries to other disciplines and explicitly sets up dialogic formats every chapter is co authored both by a specialist from Translation Studies and a scholar from another discipline with a special interest in translation Sixteen disciplinary dialogues about and around translation are the result sometimes with expected partners such as scholars from Computational Linguistics History and Comparative Literature but sometimes also with less expected interlocutors such as scholars from Biosemiotics Game Localization Research and Gender Studies The volume not only challenges the boundaries of Translation Studies but also raises issues such as the institutional division of disciplines the cross fertilization of a given field the trends and turns within an interdiscipline

Cross-cultural Skills for Deployed Air Force Personnel Chaitra M. Hardison, 2009 Because of its strong interest in providing airmen with the cross cultural skills that have grown ever more essential to successful mission accomplishment in foreign environments the Air Force asked RAND to provide a foundation for the design of a comprehensive Air Force program of cross cultural training and education RAND researchers responded by first creating a taxonomy covering all behaviors relevant to cross cultural performance after the need for such a taxonomy became evident from a review of the literature on cross cultural performance and discussions with Air Force personnel From this taxonomy the researchers developed a framework of 14 categories of cross cultural behaviors nine categories of enabling behaviors and five of goal oriented behaviors This framework was then used in designing a survey for 21 000 recently deployed airmen that asked them to rate the importance of the behaviors to their deployed performance and the helpfulness of training they had received in the behaviors both over their careers and just prior to deployment Respondents were also asked to indicate how much training they had received Recommendations and suggestions for the design of a comprehensive program of cross cultural training and education and for further research steps were made based on extensive analyses of the results which included determining whether training needs differed by AFSC grade enlisted officer and deployment location
