Movsesian,2017-07-10 This book is a history of love and the challenge love offers to the laws and customs of its times and places as told through poetry from the Song of Songs to John Milton s Paradise Lost It is also an account of the critical reception afforded to such literature and the ways in which criticism has attempted to stifle this challenge Bryson and Movsesian argue that the poetry they explore celebrates and reinvents the love the troubadour poets of the eleventh and twelfth centuries called fin amor love as an end in itself mutual and freely chosen even in the face of social religious or political retribution Neither eros nor agape neither exclusively of the body nor solely of the spirit this love is a middle path Alongside this tradition has grown a critical movement that employs a hermeneutics of suspicion in Paul Ricoeur s phrase to claim that passionate love poetry is not what it seems and should be properly understood as worship of God subordination to Empire or an entanglement with the structures of language itself in short the very things it resists The book engages with some of the seminal literature of the Western canon including the Bible the poetry of Ovid and works by English authors such as William Shakespeare and John Donne and with criticism that stretches from the earliest readings of the Song of Songs to contemporary academic literature Lively and enjoyable in its style it attempts to restore a sense of pleasure to the reading of poetry and to puncture critical insistence that literature must be outwitted It will be of value to professional graduate and advanced undergraduate scholars of literature and to the educated general reader interested in treatments of love in poetry throughout history History Robert Blackey,2011-02-01 This book includes 14 essays written by the author that provide practical advice for teachers and students to assist both in achieving the best results for teaching learning and writing about history Part 1 offers suggestions for enlivening classroom presentations Part 2 addresses the problems of teaching students to write and part 2 focuses on history tests and exams including ways to construct and respond to essay questions

Planning and Designing the Absent City Luca Trabattoni,2024-06-27 This book concerns the study of open air accommodation facilities The market evolutions allow us to look at these structures as temporary settlements characterised by a low density dwelling and a close connection with natural elements and the landscape This new and different point of view is sustained by the tendency of outdoor tourism to go in the direction of temporary villages and this tendency is directly related to time and landscape The landscape is the reason why the campsite is settled The time is linked to the holiday season timing Today both are greatly influenced by the introduction of the Maxi Caravan This removable living unit can be placed on the empty pitch occupying the landscape without ruining the soil By the settlement of Maxi Caravans the campsite is transformed from an empty landscape with tents to a temporary settlement whose timing is divided between the seasonal timing of the campsite and the timing of the product and whose landscape is organised by the relation with the prevalent landscape and the internal one The book's core defines the outdoor facility structure using Italy as the main case study To identify design strategies the book analyses temporary settlement examples quick time and projects from historic outdoor tourism medium time Finally the last chapter reflects on open air accommodation facilities by showing their applicability in the different contexts of the refugee camps long time The aim of this research is to enhance the theme of open air accommodation facilities highlighting the need to equalise the study of temporary settlements with that of permanent settlements It will be of interest to researchers and students of planning landscape and tourism
