Simon Heffer,2022-04-05 An ambitious exploration of the making of the Victorian Age and the Victorian mind by a master historian Britain in the 1840s was a country wracked by poverty unrest and uncertainty there were attempts to assassinate the queen and her prime minister and the ruling class lived in fear of riot and revolution By the 1880s it was a confident nation of progress and prosperity transformed not just by industrialization but by new attitudes to politics education women and the working class That it should have changed so radically was very largely the work of an astonishingly dynamic and high minded group of people politicians and philanthropists writers and thinkers who in a matter of decades fundamentally remade the country its institutions and its mindset and laid the foundations for modern society High Minds explores this process of transformation as it traces the evolution of British democracy and shows how early laissez faire attitudes to the fate of the less fortunate turned into campaigns to improve their lives and prospects The narrative analyzes the birth of new attitudes in education religion and science And High Minds shows how even such aesthetic issues as taste in architecture collided with broader debates about the direction that the country should take In the process Simon Heffer looks at the lives and deeds of major politicians at the intellectual arguments that raged among writers and thinkers such as Matthew Arnold Thomas Carlyle and Samuel Butler and at the great projects of the age from the Great Exhibition to the Albert Memorial Drawing heavily on previously unpublished documents he offers a superbly nuanced portrait into life in an extraordinary era populated by extraordinary people and show how the Victorians pursuit of perfection gave birth to the modern Britain we know today Connections

Walters,2004-12-07 When a local councillor and an anthropologist re investigate the controversial murder conviction of a mentally retarded 20 year old they re unprepared for the disturbing facts that come to light and the personal demons with which they must come to terms A Prospectus for the Triumph of Realism Thomas A. Russman,1987 Thomas A Russman argues forcefully that it is now possible to return in a new way to the once familiar ground of epistemological realism the pre Cartesian view that things themselves are knowable through perception and that such knowledge is foundational This view has been rejected by most contemporary philosophers who follow the path outlined convincingly by the likes of Wilfrid Sellars Willard Quine Thomas Kuhn and Richard Rorty Recognizing that any return to philosophical realism must deal with the criticisms raised by these prominent philosophers Professor Russman offers his own incisive critique of a contemporary myth what Karl Popper called the myth of the framework which replaced the earlier myth of the given as Wilfrid Sellars named it in his attack on realism The battle between these two myths is according to Professor Russman a battle to the death he believes that the observation framework is the abode of permanent truths about the world He proceeds to explain why the current assumption to the contrary arose and why it is wrong Then he shows how the informal foundationalism that he proposes can avoid the philosophical pitfalls of the earlier formal foundationalism in allowing for political toleration and artistic freedom it works better than pragmatism as a general epistemology and it supports a dynamic nonreductive view of human nature Thomas Russman earned an M A in Philosophy from The Catholic University of America and a Ph D in Philosophy from Princeton University He teaches philosophy at the University of St Thomas in Houston
