A Mind So Rare Merlin Donald, 2001 Donald psychology Queen's University Canada challenges the prevailing view that seeks to explain away human consciousness and presents a theory on the origins of the modern mind He describes the cultural and neuronal forces that power human modes of awareness and proposes that the human mind is a hybrid product of the interweaving of the brain with an invisible symbolic web of culture to form a distributed cognitive network Using evidence from brain and behavioral studies of humans and animals he explains how an expansion of consciousness transcends the limitations of the mammalian mind and elaborates the foundations of self evaluation and self reflection c Book News Inc

The Bible and Science Vincent Smiles, 2011-06-01 Confusing paradox surrounds the Bible Some look to it as the definition of reality and deny science others see science alone as the arbiter of truth and deny the Bible Both extremes are merely symptoms of a still wider debate on the place of ancient spiritual wisdom in a science dominated world Following the Reformation and Enlightenment the Western world gained great power but lost its spiritual bearings This book draws on numerous sources ancient and modern to examine what the missteps were that have brought us to a point of such confusion and in doing so argues cogently against the modern philosophy of scientific materialism With the aid of biblical stories and imagery it suggests how we might find our way back to balance where ancient wisdom and modern science can together shed light on humans and their encompassing reality Vincent Smiles is professor of theology at Saint John's University Collegeville Minnesota

A Just Peace Ethic Primer Eli S. McCarthy, 2020-05-01 The just peace movement offers a critical shift in focus and imagination Recognizing that all life is sacred and seeking peace through violence is unsustainable the just peace approach turns our attention to rehumanization participatory processes nonviolent resistance restorative justice reconciliation racial justice and creative strategies of active nonviolence to build sustainable peace transform conflict and end cycles of violence A Just Peace Ethic Primer illuminates a moral framework behind this praxis and proves its versatility in global contexts With essays by a diverse group of scholars A Just Peace Ethic Primer outlines the ethical theological and activist underpinnings of a just peace ethic These essays also demonstrate and revise the norms of a just peace ethic through conflict cases involving US immigration racial and environmental justice and the death penalty as well as gang violence in El Salvador civil war in South Sudan ISIS in Iraq gender based violence in the Democratic Republic of Congo women led activism in the Philippines and ethnic violence in Kenya A Just Peace Ethic Primer exemplifies the ecumenical interfaith and multicultural aspects of a nonviolent approach to preventing and transforming violent conflict Scholars advocates and activists working in politics history international law philosophy theology and conflict resolution will find this resource vital for providing a fruitful framework and implementing a creative vision of sustainable peace Littell's Living Age Eliakim Littell,Robert S. Littell,1895 The Palgrave Handbook of Affect Studies and Textual Criticism Donald R. Wehrs,Thomas Blake,2017-12-01 This volume provides a comprehensive account of how scholarship on affect and scholarship on texts have come to inform one another over the past few decades The result has been that explorations of how texts address elicit shape and dramatize affect have become central to contemporary work in literary film and art criticism as well as in critical theory rhetoric performance studies and aesthetics Guiding readers to the variety of topics themes interdisciplinary dialogues and sub disciplinary specialties that the study of interplay between affect and texts has either inaugurated or revitalized the handbook showcases and engages the diversity of scholarly topics approaches and projects that thinking of affect in relation to texts and related media open up or enable These include but are not limited to investigations of what attention to affect brings to established methods of studying texts in terms of period genre cultural contexts rhetoric and individual authorship The Edinburgh New Philosophical Journal ,1827 The Edinburgh Philosophical Journal ,1826 The Edinburgh new philosophical journal Naturforschende Gesellschaft in Zürich,1827 Memory and the Jesus Tradition Alan Kirk,2018-02-22 Alan Kirk argues that memory theory in its social cultural and cognitive dimensions is able to provide a comprehensive account of the origins and history of the Jesus tradition one capable of displacing the moribund form critical model He shows that memory research gives new leverage on a range of classic problems in gospels historical Jesus and Christian origins scholarship This volume brings together 12 essays published between 2001 and 2016 newly revised for this edition and organized under the rubrics of Memory and the Formation of the Jesus Tradition Memory and Manuscript Memory and Historical Jesus Research and Memory in 2nd Century Gospel Writing The introductory essay written for this volume argues that the old form critical model in marginalizing memory abandoned the one factor actually capable of accounting for the origins of the gospel tradition its manifestation in oral and written media and its historical trajectory Engaging Audiences B. McConachie,2008-11-24 Engaging Audiences asks what cognitive science can teach scholars of theatre studies about spectator response in the theatre Bruce McConachie introduces insights from neuroscience and evolutionary theory to examine the dynamics of conscious attention empathy and memory in theatre goers Centenary Reflections on Mark Twain's No. 44, the Mysterious Stranger Joseph Csicsila,Chad Rohman,2009 In this first book on No 44 in thirty years thirteen especially commissioned essays by some of today s most accomplished Twain scholars cover an array of topics from domesticity and transnationalism to race and religion and reflect a variety of scholarly and theoretical approaches to the work This far reaching collection considers the status of No 44 within Twain s oeuvre as they offer cogent insights into such broad topics as cross culturalism pain and redemption philosophical paradox and comparative studies of the Mysterious Stranger manuscripts All of these essays attest to the importance of this late work in Twain s canon whether considering how Twain s efforts at truth telling are premeditated and shaped by his own experiences tracing the biblical and religious influences that resonate in No 44 or exploring the text s psychological dimensions Several address its importance as a culminating work in which Twain s seemingly disjointed story lines coalesce in meaningful albeit not always satisfactory ways An afterword by Alan Gribben traces the critical history of the Mysterious Stranger manuscripts and the contributions of previous critics A wide ranging critical introduction and a comprehensive bibliography on the last century of scholarship bracket the contributions Close inspection of this multidimensional novel shows how Twain evolved as a self conscious thinker and humorist and that he was a more conscious artist throughout his career than has been previously thought Centenary Reflections deepens our understanding of one of Twain s most misunderstood texts confirming that the author of No 44 was a pursuer of an elusive truth that was often as mysterious a stranger as Twain himself Wittgenstein and Analytic Philosophy Hans-Johann Glock, John Hyman, 2009-05-14 Thirteen leading contributors offer new essays in honour of the eminent philosopher and Wittgenstein scholar Peter Hacker They discuss issues in the interpretation of Wittgenstein investigate central topics in the history of analytic philosophy and explore and assess Wittgensteinian ideas about language mind action ethics and religion The Plays and Poems of William Shakspeare William Shakespeare, 1790

Imagination in Educational Theory and Practice Robert Fitzgerald, Thomas William Nielsen, 2010-04-16 Inspired by papers developed for the 6th International Conference on Imagination and Education Imaginative Practice Imaginative Inquiry Canberra Australia 2008 this book connects a cross section of educators researchers and administrators in a dialogue and exploration of imaginative and creative ways of teaching learning and conducting educational inquiry Imagination is a concept that spans traditional disciplinary and professional boundaries The authors in this book acknowledge diverse theoretical and practical allegiances but they concur that imagination will play an essential role in the building of new foundations for education in the 21st century From our conception of human development through our ways of educating teachers to the teaching of mathematics they argue for the centrality of imagination in the realization of human potential and for its relevance to the most urgent problems confronting our world Introduced by a wide ranging literature review and extensively referenced this volume makes an important contribution to a rapidly expanding field Origins of Language Sverker Johansson, 2005-01-01 Sverker Johansson has written an unusual book on language origins with its emphasis on empirical evidence rather than theory building This is a book for the student or researcher who prefers solid data and well supported conclusions over speculative scenarios Much that has been written on the origins of language is characterized by hypothesizing largely unconstrained by evidence But empirical data do exist and the purpose of this book is to integrate and review the available evidence from all relevant disciplines not only linguistics but also e g neurology primatology

paleoanthropology and evolutionary biology The evidence is then used to constrain the multitude of scenarios for language origins demonstrating that many popular hypotheses are untenable Among the issues covered 1 Human evolutionary history 2 Anatomical prerequisites for language 3 Animal communication and ape language 4 Mind and language 5 The role of gesture 6 Innateness 7 Selective advantage of language 8 Proto language

Leaving Christendom for Good James Gerard McEvoy, 2014-05-01 Leaving Christendom for Good argues that the solution to some of the most troubling tensions in the life of the Catholic Church since Vatican II can be found in the council's document Gaudium et spes This text's view of the church's mission and social relationships as dialogical has the capacity to liberate Part One studies the contemporary place of religion with particular reference to Charles Taylor's groundbreaking work A Secular Age and examines Gaudium et spes's dialogical view of the church-world relationship Part Two explores what true dialogue entails and how it is best understood theologically engaging critically with Joseph Ratzinger's view of the church-world relationship The book's final chapter considers two practical implications of its argument how evangelization can be best understood today and how the church can best approach issues in the public sphere

The Fascination of Film Violence Henry Bacon, 2015-04-07 The Fascination of Film Violence is a study of why fictional violence is such an integral part of fiction film How can something dreadful be a source of art and entertainment Explanations are sought from the way social and cultural norms and practices have shaped biologically conditioned violence-related traits in human behavior
