ordinarily believe that the inhabitants of the world including ourselves persist over time Such an idea however has puzzled philosophers for centuries How can we change and still be the same More specifically is there any constitutive condition of our identity over time And if so does this condition involve mental aspects such as memories believes experiences etc physical aspects such as the body or the continuity of the organism or something else Or is rather personal identity primitive and unanalyzable so that our persistence is nothing but a brute fact This volume is a collection of new essays from leading figures in the field analyzing the persistence of persons and the criteria of personal identity over time It presents an extensive discussion of the most relevant views on personal identity in contemporary metaphysics and provides new treatments of the constitutive conditions of personal persistence Mountains, Mists and Myths Edward Killian, 2014-09-19
