Cognitive Fictions Joseph Tabbi, 2002 Bringing together cognitive science and literary analysis to map a new media ecology Cognitive Fictions limns an evolutionary process in which literature must find its place in an artificial environment partly produced and thoroughly mediated by technological means Joseph Tabbi provides a penetrating account of a developing consciousness emerging from the struggle between print and electronic systems of communication Central to Tabbi's work is the relation between the arrangement of communicating modules that cognitive science uses to describe the human mind and the arrangement of visual verbal and aural media in our technological culture He looks at particular literary works by Thomas Pynchon Richard Powers David Markson Lynne Tillman Paul Auster and others as both inscriptions of thought consistent with distributed cognitive models and as self creations out of the media environment The first close reading of contemporary American writing in the light of systems theory and cognitive science Cognitive Fictions makes needed sense of how the moment by moment operations of human thought find narrative form in a world increasingly defined by competing and often incompatible representations
