Miners And Steelworkers Labour In Cape Breton:

Miners and Steelworkers Paul MacEwan, 1976 It is easy to forget today how desperate the need was for unions in the days of the worst exploitation and abuse of power by powerful companies Who now could imagine workers being forced to strike to avoid wage cuts even in times of rising prices Who could imagine them losing such a strike This moving story of the miners and steelworkers of Cape Breton focuses on the issues which generated the most militant unions in Canada Wage cuts blacklisting mine disasters pit closings police killings collusion between management and government company unions bayonets and barbed wire American interference hostile legislation all this and more have contributed to a century of labour violence and bitterness almost unparalleled in North America This is a piece of Canadian history usually forgotten a part of our history that affects us today more than we like to think Cape Breton at 200 Kenneth Joseph Donovan, 1985 The Workers' Revolt in Canada, 1917-1925 Craig Heron, 1998-01-01 A clear concise portrait of one of the most dramatic moments in the history of working class life and class relations generally in Canada the upsurge of working class protest at the end of the First World War Canada's Greatest Wartime Muddle Michael D. Stevenson, 2001-12-13 To determine the government's commitment to a comprehensive mobilization strategy Stevenson considers the effect of NSS policies on eight significant sectors of the Canadian population Native Canadians university students war industry workers coal miners longshoremen meatpackers hospital nurses and textile workers These case studies show that mobilization officials achieved only a limited number of their regulatory goals and that Ottawa's attempt to organize and allocate the nation's military and civilian human resources on a rational orderly and efficient scale was largely ineffective This detailed assessment of the effect of NSS activities on a broad cross section of Canadian society provides a fresh perspective on the domestic impact of the Second World War It will appeal to a wide range of readers interested in Canada's economic military social and political history Cape Breton in the Long Twentieth Century Lachlan MacKinnon, Andrew Parnaby, 2024-03-26 The emergence dominance and alarmingly rapid retreat of modernist industrial capitalism on Cape Breton Island during the long twentieth century offers a particularly captivating window on the lasting and varied effects of deindustrialization Now at the tail end of the industrial moment in North American history the story of Cape Breton Island presents an opportunity to reflect on how industrialization and deindustrialization have shaped human experiences Covering the period between 1860 and the early 2000s this volume looks at trade unionism state and cultural responses to deindustrialization including the more recent pivot towards the tourist industry and the lived experiences of Indigenous and Black people Rather than focusing on the separate or distinct nature of Cape Breton contributors place the island within broad transnational networks such as the financial world of the Anglo Atlantic the Celtic music revival the Black diaspora Canadian development programs and more In capturing the vital elements of a region on the rural resource frontier that was battered by deindustrialization the histories included here show how the interplay of the state cultures and transnational connections shaped how people navigated these

Canada's working class The Centennial Cure Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton, 2017-01-01 This book examines the intersection of state policy cultural development and commemoration during Canada's 1967 centennial celebrations It explores four initiatives that were undertaken in Nova Scotia to mark this anniversary and demonstrates one province's response to Lamontagne's appeal to stem Canada's cultural poverty These initiatives also reflected those larger social cultural economic and political transformations that took place in postwar Nova Scotia Further they help us understand the province's experience within the broader context of the development of modern Canadian cultural and social history Essays in the History of Canadian Law Philip Girard, Jim Phillips, 2011-10-01 This third volume of Essays in the History of Canadian Law presents thoroughly researched original essays in Nova Scotian legal history An introduction by the editors is followed by ten essays grouped into four main areas of study The first is the legal system as a whole essays in this section discuss the juridical failure of the Annapolis regime present a collective biography of the province's superior court judiciary to 1900 and examine the property rights of married women in the nineteenth century The second section deals with criminal law exploring vagrancy laws in Halifax in the late nineteenth century aspects of prisons and punishments before 1880 and female petty crime in Halifax The third section on family law examines the issues of divorce from 1750 to 1890 and child custody from 1866 to 1910 Finally two essays relate to law and the economy one examines the Mines Arbitration Act of 1888 the other considers the question of private property and public resources in the context of the administrative control of water in Nova Scotia Frank Manning Covert Frank Manning Covert, 2005 Annotation Fifty Years in the Practice of Law is the engrossing autobiography of a public citizen who worked almost non stop at a career he both loved and cherished A power often behind the scenes in big business high finance and Liberal Party politics Frank Manning Covert advised Pierre Trudeau to seek the leadership of the federal Liberal Party He was the brains behind Sun Life's head office move from Montreal to Toronto introduced labour relations as a practice area for corporate lawyers and reorganized two universities A member of what Peter Newman christened the Munitions and Supply Gang in World War II Ottawa Covert was a protege of the legendary minister of everything C D Howe for whom he later helped create the post of chancellor of Dalhousie University Appointed an officer of the Order of Canada in 1982 Covert's citation noted that he had given generously of his counsel and leadership to universities hospitals and charitable organizations An understatement typical of the man who believed that successful work was its own best reward Based in part on diaries that he kept and carefully preserved for some sixty years Fifty Years in the Practice of Law provides a significant primary source for the history of the Canadian legal profession in the twentieth century Cape Bretoniana Beaton Institute of Cape Breton Studies, 2005-01-01 Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island is a beautiful region with a unique community whose history and ethnic composition have resulted in the evolution of a powerful sense of identity and place While outsiders may think only of the island's perennial economic woes and long economic dependence on coal mining and steel production it is also the home of a rich vibrant and distinct culture Brian

Douglas Tennyson's Cape Bretoniana is the first bibliography to gather together all known publications relating to the history, culture, economy and politics of Cape Breton Island. With more than 6000 entries, it not only provides a comprehensive listing of publications and post graduate theses but also detailed annotations on the listings. Each entry lists the author, title, place of publication, publisher, date of publication, volume and issue number in the case of periodicals, and page references followed by a brief description of the item. Cape Breton has never been so thoroughly documented. This bibliography will help to ensure that even in a world becoming increasingly homogenized by the forces of globalization, unique cultural identities like Cape Breton's can be preserved and nurtured.

Angus L. Macdonald T. Stephen Henderson, 2007-04-21 Perhaps one of the most influential Canadian premiers of the Twentieth Century and one of the leading political intellectuals of his generation, Angus L. Macdonald dominated politics in Nova Scotia for more than twenty years, serving as premier from 1933 to 1940 and again from 1945 until his death in 1954. One rival referred to him as the pope out of respect for his political infallibility. From 1940 to 1945, Macdonald guided Canada's war effort at sea as Minister of National Defence for Naval Services; under his watch, the Royal Canadian Navy expanded faster than any other navy in the world. This new work by T. Stephen Henderson is the first academic biography of Macdonald, whose life provides a framework for the study of Canada's pre and post war transformation and a rare opportunity to compare the political history of the two periods. Generally, Macdonald's political thinking reflected a progressive interwar liberalism that found its clearest expression in the 1940 Rowell-Sirois report on federal-provincial relations. The report proposed a redistribution of responsibilities and resources that would allow poorer provinces greater autonomy and reduce overlapping jurisdictions in the federal system. Ottawa abandoned Rowell-Sirois in the postwar period, and Macdonald fell out of step with the national Liberal party that he had once seemed destined to lead. Within Nova Scotia, however, his ardent defence of provincial powers and his commitment to building a modern infrastructure enabled him to win election after election and transform the face and identity of his province.

A Dance Called America James Hunter, 2022-05-05 A dance was devised in eighteenth-century Skye. An exhilarating dance. A dance a visitor reports the emigration from Skye has occasioned. The visitor asks for the dance's name. They call it America, he's told. In his introduction to this new edition of his classic and pioneering account of what happened to the thousands of people who left Skye and the wider north of Scotland to make new lives across the sea, historian James Hunter reflects on what led him to embark on travels and researches that took him across a continent. To Georgia, North Carolina and Montana, to Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario and the Mohawk Valley, to prairie farms and great cities, to the Rocky Mountains, British Columbia and Washington State. This is the story of the Highland impact on the New World. The story of how soldiers, explorers, guerrilla fighters, fur traders, lumberjacks, railway builders and settlers from Scotland's glens and islands contributed so much to the USA and Canada. It is the story of how a hard-pressed people found in North America a land of opportunity.

Capitalism and Colonialism: The Making of Modern Canada 1890-1960 Bryan D. Palmer, 2025-09-02 This second volume of Bryan Palmer

s history of Canada covers 1890 to 1960 Weaving together themes that include business labour politics and social history this account brings the experiences of Indigenous peoples into the centre of the narrative Canada experienced extraordinary growth during these decades notably after the Second World War when many Canadians quickly became far better off Yet vast inequalities persisted Indigenous peoples experienced ongoing and often worsening deprivation and ordinary people saw little or no real improvement in their lives These realities set the stage for the interplay of reform resistance and reaction that followed after 1960 Palmer examines the continuing role of capitalism and colonialism in structuring Canada in the period between 1890 and 1960 from capital s conflicts and fragile ententes with labour to the struggles of Indigenous Peoples and francophone Canada and the changing role of Canadian capital internationally Relying on the work of scholars who have produced a vast academic literature on a wide range of topics in Canadian history Bryan Palmer offers a new history of Canada which reflects the knowledge and values of 21st century Canadians The Atlantic Provinces in Confederation E. R. Forbes, Ernest R. Forbes, Delphin Andrew Muise, Bill Parenteau, 1993-01-01 The Atlantic Provinces cover New Brunswick Nova Scotia Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland Party of Conscience Roberta Lexier, Stephanie Bangarth, Jonathan Weier, 2018-09-24 Surveying the field of political history in Canada one might assume that the politics of the nation have been shaped solely by the Liberal and Conservative parties Relatively little attention has been paid to the contributions of the CCF and NDP in Canadian politics This collection remedies this imbalance with a critical examination of the place of social democracy in Canadian history and politics Bringing together the work of politicians think tank members party activists union members scholars students and social movement actors in important discussions about social democracy delving into an array of topics including municipal provincial and national issues labour relations feminism contemporary social movements war and society security issues and the media Party of Conscience reminds Canadians of the important contributions the CCF and NDP have made to a progressive compassionate idea of Canada
