E. L., 2019-12-26 Nurses have very busy jobs in the hospital and the other hospital disciplines do not help nurses with their jobs yet nurses always help them There are lots of things that the other hospital disciplines can sometimes do to help nurses with their jobs but they are never done Nurses on the other hand can be found helping out many other disciplines with their jobs Most of the things that nurses do for the other disciplines do not have to be done and should not be done but when the other disciplines ask nurses for help with their tasks the nurse will usually always help them out There are lots of times when the nurse will do work for other hospital disciplines if those disciplines do not get there to do the job in question in a timely fashion There are lots of jobs that other disciplines are supposed to do and if they don't get done at all or in a timely fashion the blame will fall on the nurse especially if they involve the patient's safety and the patient takes a turn for the worse if the job does not get done Sometimes the nurse will volunteer to do another discipline's job when she does not have to do it There are also times when the other discipline will ask the nurse to do something that he should do himself and will tell that nurse that he is too busy to do his own job The nurse regardless of how busy she is cannot get the other disciplines to help her with her job It is my hope that nurses will one day realize that a large majority of what they do for other disciplines does not have to be done and should not be done by nurses

Michael Bowman, 2013-11-11 Michael Bowman's book forms a useful reference source for Health Service staff interested in the role of the professional nurse and the discharge of professional accountability I am delighted that this work competently deals with nursing's dilemmas about its therapeutic role over a crucial period in its history especially the effects of major structural change on the profession between the period from the implementation of the Salmon and Mayston Reports up to the present time and Project 2000 The picture is in Dr Bowman's opinion not a very happy one from the viewpoint of the profession Some of the changes that have taken place have involved some loss of professional cohesion and were independent of the organizational framework of the National Health Service Nevertheless it is disturbing that nurses appear during the period covered to have had a quite inadequate input to the shaping of Health Policy There are already signs that the nursing profession has begun to absorb the warnings cited in Dr Bowman's study However in the wake of the National Health Service reforms and the implementing of a business culture in the National Health Service nurses may find the message of this book only too familiar That does not for one moment mean that the nursing input to corporate strategy and general direction should be defensive or reactionary British nursing continues to be highly regarded by the general public
