Nursing Management in Canada Judith Mary Hibberd, Mavis E. Kyle, 1994 Nursing Management in Canada Hibberd, Nursing Leadership and Management Patricia Kelly, Heather Crawford, 2007-12-21 Nursing Leadership and Management First Canadian Edition is designed to help you develop the knowledge and skills you need to lead and manage nursing care delivery in the 21st century Every nurse today must lead and manage nursing care delivery and the need for nurse leaders and nurse managers in Canada's health care system has never been greater. Today's nurses need to have the competencies required for the 21st century which calls for changes to nursing medical and other health care curricula. Some recommendations for the health care profession highlight the need for nurses to be educated in a broader way including education in the areas of interdisciplinary teamwork, population based health care, evidence based practice, informatics, ethics, quality improvement, culture and change, to name just a few. This text addresses many of these topics along with others to prepare you to become a successful nurse leader and manager in the modern Canadian health care system.

Managing to Nurse Janet Mary Rankin, Marie Louise Campbell, 2006-01-01 How does the contemporary restructuring of health care affect nursing practice Increasingly since the 1970s and more intensively under recent reforms Canadian health care is the focus of information supported professionally based management In Managing to Nurse Janet M Rankin and Marie L Campbell probe the operation of this new form of hospital and its effect management on nurses and nursing Written from the nurse s perspective this institutional ethnography discovers a major transformation in the nature of nursing and associated patient care the work is now organized according to an accounting logic that embeds a cost orientation into care related activities Rankin and Campbell illustrate how nurses adapt to this new reality just as they themselves perpetuate it how they learn to recognize their adaptations as professionally correct and as an adequate basis for nursing judgement Although Managing to Nurse may contradict contemporary beliefs about health care reform the insiders account that it provides is undeniable evidence that nurses caring work is being undermined and patient care is being eroded sometimes dangerously by current health care agendas Edelman and
