Golf in America George B. Kirsch, 2008-12-23 In this concise social history of golf in the United States from the 1880s to the present George B Kirsch tracks the surprising growth of golf as a popular mainstream sport in contrast to the stereotype of golf as a pastime enjoyed only by the rich elite In addition to classic heroes such as Francis Ouiment Gene Sarazen Sam Snead and Ben Hogan the annals of golf's early history also include African American players John Shippen Jr Ted Rhodes and Charlie Sifford as well as both white and black female players such as Mildred Babe Didrikson Zaharias Louise Suggs Betsy Rawls Ann Gregory and former tennis champ Althea Gibson Golf in America tells the stories of these and many other players from different social classes ethnic backgrounds races and genders Examining golf's recent history Golf in America looks at the impact of television and the rivalry between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus both of whom in 1996 were impressed by an upstart named Eldrick Tiger Woods Kirsch also highlights the history of public golf courses in the United States from Van Cortlandt Park in the Bronx to Boston's Franklin Park Chicago's Jackson Park and other municipal and semiprivate courses that have gone relatively unnoticed in the sport's history Illustrated with nearly two dozen photographs this book shows that golf in America has always reflected a democratic spirit evolving into a sport that now rivals baseball for the honor of being acclaimed America's national pastime

The 19th Hole Richard Diedrich, 2008 The 19th Hole examines the design of many of the world's great golf clubhouses It's part of the IMAGES series of titles that looks exclusively at world best practice in architecture The book is a photographic feast of the often sumptuous clubhouse fit outs that accompanies golfing at these illustrious courses This book is endorsed by golf legend Jack Nicklaus who names author Richard Diedrich in his foreword as possibly the only person he has ever met who truly understands the synergy that must coexist between golf courses and their clubhouses Nicklaus and Diedrich paired up more than 25 years ago to design many of the world's newest and most prestigious clubs Many of the world's most established and legendary courses are featured including the Augusta National Golf Club the Winged Foot Golf Club and the Congressional Country Club to name a few What makes this book outstanding however is its presentation of many new clubs that are destined to rank among the world's legendary clubs These include 40 recently designed and built clubs in the United States that set the standard for designing clubs around the world which is appropriate when it is considered that more than half of the world's 32 000 golf courses can be found within the United States

Motion Pictures, 1953 Indiana Township Erica Alderdice Birkner, 2012

In 1805 Indiana Township became the fourth township formed in Allegheny County. The earliest settlers Jacob Huddle and Henry Strohm arrived from Germany in 1798. The township was mainly rural when it was first settled but as time progressed the inevitable coal culture began. Coal mining was ideal for three main reasons: the rich coal deposits found within the landscape, the vast array of rail systems, and proximity to the Allegheny River. Important areas in the community include the Singing Winds site of the Council of the Three Rivers American Indian Center, the Mary Flinn Lawrence Estate commonly referred to as Hartwood Acres, the Harmarville Rehabilitation Center, Consulate Healthcare, and Beechwood Farms Nature Reserve currently in Fox Chapel Borough but formerly in Indiana Township which is currently home to the Audubon Society of Western Pennsylvania. The famous stage actress Faye Templeton made Indiana Township her home for a time at Wunnahunny Farm, now called Humess Farm.

The American Film Institute Catalog of Motion Pictures Produced in the United States American Film Institute, Kenneth White Munden, 1971. Over 17,000 films produced or released in the United States are included in this volume. Research took almost eight years to complete. The project covers motion pictures from 1893, the year that Thomas A. Edison built the Black Maria, the first motion picture studio. Names of prominent filmmakers include Americans such as Thomas A. Edison, Edwin S. Porter, Sigmund Lubin, and D. W. Griffith. Important films include Fred Ott's Sneeze (1893), The Kiss (1896), The Passion Play (1898), The Great Train Robbery (1903), The Adventure of Dollie (1908). Early filmed novels include The Count of Monte Cristo, A Tale of Two Cities, Ben Hur, and David Copperfield. Other important titles include The Electrocuting of an Elephant, Cripple Creek Bar Room (1898), Dream of a Rarebit Fiend (1906), and D. W. Griffith's A Corner in Wheat (1909). Historically, the volume is important because of the extensive documentation of historical figures and events from the assassination of President McKinley to the rescuers of survivors of the Maine. There are also a number of films that showed everyday life including factories, families at leisure, and the U.S. Postal Service.

Doraville Bob Kelley, 2012. In the 1820s, land in north central Georgia along Peachtree Ridge near the headwaters of Nancy Creek featured substantial water and timber resources to fuel the agricultural settlement that would become Doraville. During the Civil War, Doraville survived Sherman's wrath to prosper and became an official city in 1871. For years, it maintained a charm and quiet quality of life that personified small town America. Construction of a major water supply system by 1947 enticed auto giant General Motors to build a major manufacturing factory there, and the city blossomed. Over the next half century, Doraville flourished, producing citizens accomplished in the arts, a space shuttle astronaut, pop music's Atlanta Rhythm Section, Golden Glove boxing champions, and even the first McDonald's restaurant in Georgia.

Policing Ferguson, Policing America Thomas Jackson, 2017-07-25. Following the fatal shooting in broad daylight of unarmed African American Michael Brown by a white cop in August 2014, Ferguson, Missouri became the scene of protests that pitted law enforcement against locals and Black Lives Matter activists.

The media firestorm has not waned and in fact has grown stronger in light of all the recent violence by and against police officers nationwide According to Ferguson s former police chief Tom Jackson the uninformed media actually fans the flames of unrest and exploits the situation infotainment optics have become more important than truth while social media spreads the news without providing context Policing Ferguson Policing America is the book that finally tells the inside story of what happened in Ferguson and how good guys became the bad guys through media and political distortion Pressure is at a boiling point In 2016 America has been rocked by heart wrenching fatal shootings of African Americans by police officers in Louisiana and in Minnesota and by the shootings of police officers in Dallas Baton Rouge and Kansas City that left eleven officers dead and a dozen more wounded To many Americans the central theme of this continuing bloody story is one of racial injustice and out of control policing Policing Ferguson Policing America brings common sense and a keen insider s understanding to a complex story Black Lives Matter and so do the lives of cops Citizens and law enforcement professionals alike feel the urgent need for our systems and procedures to change for the better Few people are in a better position to explore the issues than Chief Jackson In Policing Ferguson Policing America Jackson tells for the first time the real Ferguson story while sharing his thoughts about the steps we can take together to improve all Americans lives and restore the vital trust between the police and the communities they serve His well informed recommendations just may improve this dire situation
